Goodbye City Hello Country:

Garden Spot David J. Walbert, 2002 Each year millions of tourists are drawn to Lancaster County Pennsylvania to experience first hand the quintessential pastoral both as an escape from urban life and as a rare opportunity to become immersed in history The area has attracted visitors eager to catch a glimpse of the distinctive religious community of the Old Order Amish to appreciate the beauty of the farmland to enjoy the abundant and delicious food of the Pennsylvania Dutch and most recently to shop at the area's outlet malls For nearly three hundred years Lancaster county has been a model of agricultural prosperity rooted in the family farm The rural character of the place remains Lancaster's predominant tourist attraction but is at odds with its rapidly rising population and the commercial and residential growth that has brought It is the tension between rural tradition progress and urbanization that lies at the core of Garden Spot David Walbert examines how twentieth century American culture has come to define and appreciate rurality and how growth and economic expansion can co exist with preservation of the traditional ways of life in the region Will small farms fail in a culture that has increasingly come to value productivity over quality of life What impact will further development have on maintaining this region's character Can rurality and progress co exist in the 21st century A vivid portrayal of the land and people residents and outsiders alike Garden Spot narrates the history of this region and considers the challenges Lancaster County and its people face in order to preserve their unique place

High Street to Homestead Angela Williams, 2016-04-18 From her Grey Lynn apartment to one of New Zealand's most historic homesteads and horse studs this is an inspirational journey from a corporate life working with Louis Vuitton back to the golden hills of rural Wairarapa It's the middle of the night and Angela lies awake asking herself not for the first time why she gave up her glamorous job in the city immersed in a world of luxury designer labels high fashion and cocktail parties In High Street to Homestead Angela musters the courage to change direction giving up her home in the city to re discover what's most important in life It's been said before that one can't look to the future without looking at the past but in some cases heritage can be a heavy burden and digging up memories a painful experience Angela Williams great great great grandfather is Henry Williams famous for translating the Treaty of Waitangi into Maori Her great great grandfather helped establish one of New Zealand's largest sheep stations While her great grandmother was a national champion golfer Angela's grandmother founded the famous Te Parae thoroughbred stud And her mother was Miss New Zealand But her family has also had its fair share of pain and hardship something Angela knows about first hand With three children Angela and her two older brothers the Williams family of Te Parae face issues of succession many farming families will be familiar with With the days of the vast sheep stations largely a thing of the past and with so many rural homesteads being sold out of family ownership there s also the challenge of preserving an historic homestead for the next generation Join Angela as talks herself down from the high branches of self doubt as she settles in to life in a glorious homestead plans for its future and grapples with one of her biggest rural addictions horses Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
