disciplines examine the relationship between media stereotypes and women's health. They look at several images of women: the perfect mom, the straight bikini-clad sixteen-year-old blond who has been air-brushed to perfection, the wild black Jezebel who struts her stuff, and the shriveled-up menopausal crone. The writers point out that these images are making millions of dollars for all sorts of businesses ranging from the pharmaceutical industry to women's magazines. Scholars have long noted that stereotypes disempower women. In Women, Wellness, and the Media, we see how these stereotypes actually harm women's health while turning millions in corporate profits.
