Carrell,2013-05-13 Many people are concerned these days on their well being Some of their questions are I cannot seem to lose the weight What can I do to avoid the common cold and last I always seem to get these headaches What can I do to get rid of them How to keep your immune system up The Fruitful City Helena Moncrieff,2018-04-03 Examining the roots and fruits of the urban foodscape Our cities are places of food polarities food deserts and farmers markets hunger and food waste fast food delivery and urban gardening While locavores and preserving pros abound many of us can t identify the fruit trees in our yards or declare a berry safe to eat Those plants and the people who planted them are often forgotten In The Fruitful City Helena Moncrieff examines our relationship with food through the fruit trees that dot city streets and yards She tracks the origins of these living heirlooms and questions how they went from being subsistence staples to raccoon fodder But in some cities previously forgotten fruit is now in high demand and Moncrieff investigates the surge of non profit urban harvest organizations that try to prevent that food from rotting on concrete and meets the people putting rescued fruit to good use As she travels across Canada slipping into backyards visiting community orchards and taking in canning competitions Moncrieff discovers that attitudinal changes are more important than agricultural ones While the bounty of apples is great reconnecting with nature and our community is the real prize Itineraries in Conflict Rebecca L. Stein,2008-08-26 An anthropological study of the relationship of tourism to Israeli identities politics and nation making

Food and the Self Isabelle de Solier,2013-10-10 We often hear that selves are no longer formed through producing material things at work but by consuming them in leisure leading to meaningless modern lives This important book reveals the cultural shift to be more complex demonstrating how people in postindustrial societies strive to form meaningful and moral selves through both the consumption and production of material culture in leisure Focusing on the material culture of food the book explores these theoretical questions through an ethnography of those individuals for whom food is central to their self foodies It examines what foodies do and why they do it through an in depth study of their lived experiences The book uncovers how food offers a means of shaping the self not as a consumer but as an amateur who engages in both the production and consumption of material culture and adopts a professional approach which reveals the new moralities of productive leisure in self formation The chapters examine a variety of practices from fine dining and shopping to cooking and blogging and include rare data on how people use media such as cookbooks food television and digital food media in their everyday life This book is ideal for students scholars and anyone interested in the meaning of food in modern life
