Representing Culture Claudia Alvares, 2009-03-26

The essays collected in this volume are interdisciplinary in nature, defying the traditional boundaries that compartmentalise and contain knowledge within particular camps. Heir to the undisciplining legacy of cultural studies, they attempt to transcend the restrictive frameworks of pre-established discourse, engaging in new and fruitful combinations of theories and methodologies. The general aim of the book is to indicate new perspectives for the exercise of cultural criticism on the basis of the major issues that confront us today, rather than articulate any canonical viewpoint on traditional cultural studies. These essays thus share a common denominator in that they seek to explore the field of current experience through the exercise of critique. The recontextualisation of cultural studies that this book attempts occurs along the vectors of identity, politics, visual culture and technology. The collection draws attention to the fact that these vectors do not consist in delimited camps but rather in axes that intersect with each other at each instance.
