Gospel Of Peace And Justice:

My Path to Peace and Justice Richard T. McSorley, 2010-05-01 Richard T McSorley S J 1914 2002 led an extraordinary life. He survived a World War II prison camp to become one of the great peacemakers of the twentieth century. From struggles against segregation in the late forties to Vietnam War protests in the sixties to condemnation of nuclear weapons in the eighties, McSorley has been on the cutting edge of the great social justice movements of the last half century. His life crossed paths with many of the world's most notable figures: Dorothy Day and Peter Maurin, Martin Luther King Jr, Daniel and Philip Berrigan, the Kennedy family, Bill Clinton, Don Helder Camara, and a host of peace leaders from throughout the world. In this autobiography published six years before his death, McSorley documents his life, his travels throughout Europe, South American, Central America, and the Middle East. His descriptions of these events form a backdrop of the real story, his spiritual journey toward active peacemaking and unswerving pacifism. Through it all, he weaves the thread of the theology of peace. He applies gospel principles to our social and government structures. McSorley may be best known for his ability to cut through academic arguments to state the truth in the most basic of terms. He counters the justification of war with the biblical call to love enemies. This book is an account of a life devoted to God and of service to the community. Essays in Critical Theology Gregory Baum, 1994. Catholicism and Politics in Communist Societies Sabrina P. Ramet, 1990. This book is volume two of a three-volume work, Christianity Under Stress, which focuses on the experiences of Christian churches in contemporary communist and socialist societies. In this volume, a distinguished group of experts examines the changing relationship of the Catholic church to contemporary communist and socialist societies in Eastern Europe, Latin America, and Asia. Catholicism has, on the one hand, traditionally regarded earthly life as of secondary importance as an instrument of spiritual transformation, and on the other, has ascribed great value to the early institutions of the church, taking great interest in temporal matters that affects its institutional concerns. Against the backdrop of this duality, the church has changed over the centuries, adapting to local and national conditions. Catholicism and Politics in Communist Societies surveys these local and national adaptations in their historical contexts, linking the past experience of the church to its present circumstances. Organized around themes of tradition vs. modernity, hierarchy vs. lower clergy, and institutional structure vs. grass roots organization, this comprehensive volume presents a detailed country-by-country portrait of the political and social status of the church today in communist and socialist settings.
