Changes Joan Turner, 1990-12-01 Living the Changes explores the nature and extent of women's changing realities. The contributors include writers, artists, academics, street kids, and social workers and range in age from nine to seventy-three. Their topics reflect the diversity and complexity of the concerns of contemporary women: birthing and aging, body image, culture, drugs, violence, sexual abuse, prostitution, reproductive technology, and spirituality.

Lesbian Teachers Madiha Didi Khayatt, 1992-01-01 Teachers in general are hired to conform with set values of the community which hires them. They are expected to reflect conventions which correspond with an ideological model of behavior sanctioned by the state and by the community in which they work. In a publicly funded educational system, not only are teachers expected to transmit dominant ideologies but as representatives of the state, they are assumed to embody the dominant values of the society which hires them. The notion of lesbian teachers inevitably contradicts mainstream assumptions about female teachers: women whose image stereotypically corresponds with and implicitly conveys traditional female virtues of purity, dedication, and nurturance. Using an analysis that combines feminist concepts of patriarchy with Gramsci's notion of hegemony, this book is an institutional ethnography which begins from the standpoint of lesbian teachers but at the same time locates their experiences in the immediate social organization from which they arise and which gives them meaning. Through intensive interviews with nineteen lesbian teachers, Khayatt explores these women's lives as they themselves describe them. How do they conceal their sexuality? How do lesbian teachers cope in the classroom? How do they deal with their perceived need to live a double life? To whom do they come out? Why do they feel unsafe to be out despite the potential protection of legal rights? And finally, what would they stand to lose if found out?

Gender Conflicts Franca Iacovetta, Mariana Valverde, 1992-01-01 In the early 1970s, when women's history began to claim attention as an emerging discipline in North American universities, it was dominated by a middle-class Anglo-Saxon bias. Today the field is much more diverse, a development reflected in the scope of this volume. Rather than documenting the experiences of women solely in a framework of gender analysis, its authors recognize the interaction of race, class, and gender as central in shaping women's lives and men's. These essays represent an exciting breakthrough in women's studies, expanding the borders of the discipline while breaking down barriers between mainstream and women's history.

Nuvisavik Maria Von Finkenstein, 2002-02-07 In 1970 a small group of young Inuit women in Pangnirtung on Baffin Island began to tell a story, a story about their past, their culture, their lives, a story told through woven pictures. The first book dedicated to the art form of tapestry weaving, Nuvisavik shows how weaving became a bridge between nomadic camp life and life in a permanent settlement. The tapestries meticulously woven by women trained by their mothers as seamstresses portray images wistfully remembered by elders in the community and captured by local artists. Both the drawings and the tapestries convey the pride of the Inuit in their culture. The tapestries are presented against a rich cultural and historical context. Two of the essays in the book are based on interviews with elders and reflect the colourful history of the Cumberland Sound where sustained contact between Inuit and Americans and Scots began as early as the mid nineteenth century The cultural content of the tapestries is discussed by members of the Inuit community decoding otherwise enigmatic and puzzling images A wonderful blend of art history and cultural history Nuvisavik will entertain the scholar and art collector as well as readers with a special interest in the history of the Canadian North Contributors include July Papatsie a well established artist from Pangnirtung who brings his personal background and knowledge of his culture to his writing Deborah Hickman a tapestry weaver herself who was general manager and artistic advisor to the Pangnirtung Tapestry Studio from 1980 to 1983 Cathleen Knotsch a researcher who specializes in issues pertaining to the Canadian Eastern Arctic and Maria von Finckenstein
