Miller, 2012-01-01 Transcendental Learning discusses the work of five figures associated with transcendentalism concerning their views on education Alcott Emerson Fuller Peabody and Thoreau all taught at one time and held definite views about education The book explores these conceptions with chapters on each of the five individuals and then focuses the main features of transcendental learning and its legacy today A central thesis of the book is that transcendental learning is essentially holistic in nature and provides rich educational vision that is in many ways a tonic to today's factory like approach to schooling In contrast to the narrow vision of education that is promoted by governments and the media the Transcendentalists offer a redemptive vision of education that includes educating the whole child body mind and soul happiness as a goal of education educating students so they see the interconnectedness of nature recognizing the inner wisdom of the child as something to be honored and nurtured a blueprint for environmental education through the work of Thoreau an inspiring vision for educating women of all ages through the work of Margaret Fuller an experimental approach to pedagogy that continually seeks for more effective ways of educating children a recognition of the importance of the presence of teacher and encouraging teachers to be aware and conscious of their own behavior a vision of multicultural and bilingual education through the work of Elizabeth Peabody The Transcendentalists particularly Emerson and Thoreau sowed the seeds for the environmental movement and for non violent change Their work eventually influenced Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr and it continues to resonate today in the thinking of Aung Sang Suu Kyi and the Dalai Lama The Transcendentalists vision of education is worth examining as well given the dissatisfaction with the current educational scene Endorsements A Transcendental Education provides a powerfully hopeful integrative and holistic vision that can help guide education out of its current vacuum The book is thoughtfully explicated expertly synthesized and completely relevant for anyone interesting in helping education find itself Like the transcendentalists themselves this is both down to earth and soaring in its potential implications Tobin Hart author of The Secret Spiritual World of Children and From Information to Transformation Education for the Evolution of Consciousness The secret to a vital renewed America lies in the life and writings of the Transcendentalist community of Concord Massachusetts in the 19th century Jack Miller who I know has been devoted to a new living form of education throughout his career has written a book that could inspire a revolution in teaching It goes against the tide as do Emerson and Thoreau But it offers a blueprint and a hope for our children Thomas Moore author of Care of the Soul A timely account of great thinking on genuine education Reading this today's beleaguered teachers should experience a renewal of spirit and commitment Nel Noddings author of Happiness and Education

Teaching with the Wind Michael Dallaire, 2011-11-16 Teaching with the Wind tackles the question Can education for a Canadian civic spirituality bridge the sometimes incommensurable worldviews of faith based schools and secular public schools An affirmative answer is offered based on two foundations First that a national soul can be identified and thus serve as the content of spiritual education in Canada schools Second that a reconstructed approach to the contemplation in action method found in world religions and philosophy can provide an appropriate pedagogy for Canadian spiritual education This book argues that education for civic spirituality is of paramount importance as Canada continues its transition from a Judeo Christian and bicultural nation to a multi faith and multicultural nation within a secular democracy It offers a direction that would enrich religious and secular education systems as well as Canada as a whole
