

were glad they weren't birds, or cats, or dogs.
They were happy just because they were a little boy and a little girl, outside in the rain.

Carefully, the boy put his steamship in the river flowing by the edge of the road and he watched the water carry it along. His sister splashed along behind it with her blue-flowered umbrella high above her head.

The spring rain pattered softly on the blue flowers and fell gently on the steamship.

Ardizzone RA 1900-79 was one of relatively few British artists who defined the field of illustration for their generation. Although his work as an artist and illustrator was wide ranging it is for his illustrated children's books almost continuously available since they were first published from the late 1930s onwards that he is best known. This book provides the first fully illustrated survey of Ardizzone's work analysing his activity as an artist and illustrator in the context of 20th century British art illustration printing and publishing. Copiously illustrated with many previously unpublished images Edward Ardizzone Artist and Illustrator also contributes more broadly to the current reassessment and investigation of mid 20th century British art and illustration. Alan Powers author of the bestselling Eric Ravilious Artist and Designer has written a critically considered text which draws for the first time on the family's archives those of Ardizzone's publishers and conversations with those who knew the artist. This beautiful and enlightening book which reflects in its design and production values the aesthetic of an artist who was closely involved in the production of his own illustrated books will be a fascinating read both for specialists as well as for readers who have grown up with the unforgettable characters of Ardizzone's classic children's stories.
