Professor of Psychology Emeritus at Yale University Gordon had a tremendous influence on contemporary thinking in psychology education and social policy and the implications of his work for the schooling of lower status youth and children of color in America Crisis in the Village Robert Michael Franklin,2007-01-17 Robert M Franklin provides first person advice and insight as he identifies the crises resident within three anchor institutions that have played key roles in the black struggle for freedom Black families face a crisis of commitment evident in the rising rates of father absence births to unmarried parents divorce and domestic abuse or relationship violence Black churches face a mission crisis as they struggle to serve their upwardly mobile and or established middle class paying customers alongside the poorest of the poor Historically black colleges and universities face a crisis of relevance and purpose as they now compete for the best students and faculty with the broad marketplace of colleges With clarity and passion Franklin calls for practical and comprehensive action for change from within the African American community and from all Americans Race and Culturally Responsive Inquiry in Education Stafford L. Hood, Henry T. Frierson, Rodney K. Hopson, Keena N. Arbuthnot, 2022-08-16 Race and

Culturally Responsive Inquiry in Education examines how assumptions about race and culture have shaped US education research and the interpretation and implementation of its results This ambitious volume sheds light on the detrimental effects of educational praxis and policies that have characterized communities of color and historically underserved communities as deficient It reveals how such bias has affected many facets of educational inquiry from research design and planning to education policy making and evaluation practices The provocative essays in this work challenge traditional suppositions about whose evidence matters highlighting approaches for reframing educational inquiry and arguing for the adoption of a culturally responsive stance that can correct inequities by accounting for students diverse backgrounds and needs Edited by Stafford L Hood Henry T Frierson Rodney K Hopson and Keena N Arbuthnot and featuring contributions from leading and emerging scholars the collection is organized around three key areas education research educational assessment and program evaluation The contributors identify provocative problems that exist at the intersection of race and education in these areas and they illuminate the many ways in which education reform can address intersectionality Calling for effective action they suggest compelling solutions for consideration by policy makers and practitioners as well as researchers Together the essays in this volume make the case that culturally responsive methods that deepen our understanding of educational disparities appropriately measure what students know and can do and ensure that we have accurate information about the effectiveness of educational interventions can improve educational outcomes for diverse learners

Optimizing Student Success in School with the Other Three Rs Robert J. Sternberg, Rena F. Subotnik, 2006-06-01

The Other Three Rs model began as an American Psychological Association APA initiative sponsored by Robert J Sternberg IBM Professor of Psychology and Education at Yale University and Past President of the APA For both this initiative and this edited volume Sternberg assembled a diverse team of experts who identified reasoning resilience and responsibility as three learnable skills that when taken together have great potential for increasing academic success The authors of this volume present in detail their evidence based arguments for promoting TOTRs in schools as a way to optimize student success

An Age of Accountability John L. Rury, 2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment. The theory of change embedded in almost all test-based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools. This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize. But even after very clear disappointments, no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony. The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide, especially in the public sector. As a consequence, many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity, even if educators and policy scholars disagree.

Recognizing Promise Michael A. Baston, Beatrice L. Bridgall, Michael Nettles, 2022-10-26 Recognizing Promise re-establishes the role community colleges can play in reversing centuries of racial and gender disparities in economic wealth, health, education, and life expectancy, stemming from current and historical policies and practices that sustain structural racism. Minority Students Meyer Weinberg, 1977 Resources in Education, 2001 Changing Federal Strategies for Supporting Educational Research, Development, and Statistics Maris A. Vinovskis, 1998 Resilience Across Contexts Ronald D. Taylor, Margaret C. Wang, 2012-12-06 A number of societal risks pose serious challenges to families, well-being, many of which cut across divisions of class and race. These challenges include changes in the labor market and economy, the increasing participation of mothers in the labor force, the changing nature of family structure and the composition of households, and the increase in the number of immigrant families. Key institutions in the lives of families, including places of employment and schools, can play a significant role in fostering families' capacity to adapt to the potential challenges they face. Resilience Across Contexts: Family Work Culture and Community presents papers written by leading scholars in varied disciplines, including economics, developmental and educational psychology, education, and sociology, discussing factors that influence resilience development. The authors' research focuses on emerging issues that have significant implications for policy and practice in such areas as employment and new technologies, maternal employment, and family development, family structure, and family life, immigration, migration, acculturation, and education of children and youth, and social and human services delivery. The book's overall goal is to take stock of what is known from research and practice on some of the challenges facing children and families for policy development and improvement of practices. Education of the Slow Learners Vijay Pratap Singh, 2004 Out of Paper Katie Anania, 2024-06-11 A dynamic look at how artists used paper to radically redefine the relationship between the body and its surroundings and to propose new conceptions of ecology. From sketches created inside pants pockets to paper-strewn performances that took cues from protests and riots, the work on paper in the 1960s acted as a mobile, flexible connective tissue between the body and the world around it. In this book, Katie Anania reveals how artists Carolee Schneemann, William Anastasi, Richard Tuttle, Robert Morris, and Charles White harnessed this historically intimate medium during a period in which Americans were becoming urgently concerned with identity.

consumer culture the overreach of state power and the rapidly deteriorating natural world Her reexamination of drawing shows how the omnipresence of paper facilitated artists critiques of dominant systems from modern throwaway culture to bureaucracy to colonial violence Engaging a wide range of actions such as recycling recording cutting planning and erasing Anania offers fresh insights into paper s role not merely as a preparatory medium but one essential to the histories of performance minimalist conceptual and land art Out of Paper uses materiality studies social history and feminist art historical methods to situate paper as a major conduit for thought in the postwar United States

Edmund W Gordon: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Edmund W Gordon : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
