Designs on Nature Sheila Jasanoff, 2005 Biology and politics have converged across much of the industrialized world Taking a look at some twenty five years of scientific and social development this work compares the politics and policy of the life sciences in Britain Germany the United States and in the European Union as a whole States of Knowledge, 2004 Bioinformational Philosophy and Postdigital Knowledge Ecologies Michael A. Peters, Petar Jandrić, Sarah Hayes, 2023-04-23 The book presents a cross disciplinary overview of critical issues at the intersections of biology information and society Based on theories of bioinformationalism viral modernity the postdigital condition and others this book explores two inter related questions Which new knowledge ecologies are emerging Which philosophies and research approaches do they require The book argues that the 20th century focus on machinery needs to be replaced at least partially by a focus on a better understanding of living systems and their interactions with technology at all scales from viruses through to human beings to the Earth's ecosystem This change of direction cannot be made by a simple relocation of focus and or funding from one discipline to another In our age of the Anthropocene human and planetary biology cannot be thought of without digital technology and society Today's curious bioinformational mix of blurred and messy relationships between physics and biology old and new media humanism and posthumanism knowledge capitalism and bio informational capitalism defines the postdigital condition and creates new knowledge ecologies The book presents scholarly research defining new knowledge ecologies built upon emerging forms of scientific communication big data deluge and opacity of algorithmic operations Many of these developments can be approached using the concept of viral modernity which applies to viral technologies codes and ecosystems in information publishing education and emerging knowledge journal systems It is within these overlapping theories and contexts that this book explores new bioinformational philosophies and postdigital knowledge ecologies
