The Athenaeum, 1918      Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1918      Economic Statecraft during the Cold War Frank Cain, 2013-04-03 Discussing a rarely researched aspect of the Cold War this volume uses new material to examine how the United States trade embargo on the Soviet Union and communist China severed relationships with Europe particularly focusing on Great Britain In the late 1940s the US government stopped nearly all exports to the entire Sino Soviet bloc in the belief that it would hinder the expansion of Soviet and Chinese military potential To continue receiving the US Marshall Aid European countries had to impose similar bans but were reluctant because their trade links with the USSR and its satellite countries had existed for centuries The US thereafter negotiated with Europe about what to include or exclude from the list of authorised goods severely straining diplomatic relations Economic Statecraft during the Cold War details these negotiations casting new light on the ambivalent US UK relationship and providing insights into the changing emphasis between the Republican and Democrat administrations on the key question of trade embargo by explaining how the firm consistency in the application of the US policy over the succeeding decades of the Cold War was maintained This book will be of much interest to all students and scholars of Cold War history intelligence studies and international history in general

The Hegemony of Growth Matthias Schmelzer, 2016-05-17 In modern society economic growth is considered to be the primary goal pursued through policymaking But when and how did this perception become widely adopted among social scientists politicians and the general public Focusing on the OECD one of the least understood international organisations Schmelzer offers the first transnational study to chart the history of growth discourses He reveals how the pursuit of GDP growth emerged as a societal goal and the ways in which the methods employed to measure model and prescribe growth resulted in statistical standards international policy frameworks and widely accepted norms Setting his analysis within the context of capitalist development post war reconstruction the Cold War decolonization and industrial crisis The Hegemony of Growth sheds new light on the continuous reshaping of the growth paradigm up to the neoliberal age and adds historical depth to current debates on climate change inequality and the limits to growth      Security, Strategy and the Global Economics of Defence Production Queen's University (Kingston, Ont.). School of Policy Studies, 1999 As the recent fighting in Serbia illustrates the technology of modern warfare is in constant evolution with implications spanning a wide range of public policy areas from the broad dimensions of alliance strategy to the specific confines of defence investment production and trade For the past several years technological innovation in the arms industry of the world's leading states has been proceeding in relation to the phenomenon of globalisation in the civilian sector Although the combined impact of the postulated revolution in military affairs and the globalisation of industry has been felt in all Western states it has been of particular concern in two NATO countries Canada and the United Kingdom as each is located on the margins of a continental market in defence goods Both have established a set of privileged linkages and interests with this market although they have retained a certain strategic political and economic distance Security Strategy and the Global Economics of Defence Production features contributions from a broad range of policy analysts and practitioners in Canada and the United Kingdom whose primary concern is to identify and analyse the major challenges that Ottawa and London will be facing in the coming decade Among the issues and challenges considered are understanding the changing nature of threat and risk to security interests devising appropriate means of harnessing and responding to technological change in warfare and assessing the relative merits of regional defence industrial groupings as opposed to trans Atlantic arrangements The contributors also discuss developments in policy respecting the procurement and export of arms as well as the enhancement of the quality of bilateral defence co operation and trade David G Haglund is director of the Centre for International Relations Queen s University S Neil MacFarlane is director for the Centre of International Studies and Lester B Pearson Professor of International Relations at Oxford University Cabinet Government and War, 1890-1940 Cambridge University Press,2003-03 Wither Or Dither Glen Segell,1997 China's Economic Relations with the West and Japan, 1949-1979 Chad Mitcham,2005-09-16 Between 1949 and 1979 China was officially self sufficient and under allied trade embargo this text examines the complicated history of how economic relations between China and the West Japan developed during that period
