Calvinists and Catholics during Holland's Golden Age Christine Kooi, 2012-04-30 This book examines the social political and religious relationships between Calvinists and Catholics during Holland's Golden Age Although Holland the largest province of the Dutch Republic was officially Calvinist its population was one of the most religiously heterogeneous in early modern Europe The Catholic Church was officially disestablished in the 1570s yet by the 1620s Catholicism underwent a revival flourishing in a semi clandestine private sphere The book focuses on how Reformed Protestants dealt with this revived Catholicism arguing that confessional coexistence between Calvinists and Catholics operated within a number of contiguous and overlapping social political and cultural spaces The result was a paradox a society that was at once Calvinist and pluralist

Christine Kooi maps the daily interactions between people of different faiths and examines how religious boundaries were negotiated during an era of tumultuous religious change

The 'Small Landscape' Prints in Early Modern Netherlands Alexandra Onuf,2017-01-02 In 1559 and 1561 the Antwerp print publisher Hieronymus Cock issued an unprecedented series of landscape prints known today simply as the Small Landscapes. The forty four prints included in the series offer views of the local countryside surrounding Antwerp in simple unembellished compositions. At a time when vast panoramic and allegorical landscapes dominated the art market the Small Landscapes represent a striking innovation. This book offers the first comprehensive analysis of the significance of the Small Landscapes in early modern print culture. It charts a diachronic history of the series over the century it was in active circulation from 1559 to the middle of the seventeenth century. Adopting the lifespan of the prints as the framework of the study Alexandra Onuf analyzes the successive states of the plates and the changes to the series as a whole in order to reveal the shifting artistic and contextual valences of the images at their different moments and places of publication. This unique case study allows for a new perspective on the trajectory of print publishing over the course of the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries across multiple publishing houses highlighting the seminal importance of print publishers in the creation and dissemination of visual imagery and cultural ideas. Looking at other visual materials and contemporary sources including texts as diverse as humanist poetry and plays agricultural manuals polemical broadsheets and peasant songs Onuf situates the Small Landscapes within the larger cultural discourse on rural land and the meaning of the local in the turbulent early modern Netherlands. The study focuses new attention on the active and reciprocal intersections between printed pictures and broader cultural economic and political phenomena

Popular Music, Cultural Memory, and Heritage Andy Bennett,Susanne Janssen,2019-07-09 Popular music is increasingly being represented and celebrated as an aspect of contemporary cultural history and heritage. In many places across the world popular music heritage sites including museums archives commemorative plaques adorning buildings and what could be referred to as DIY music heritage initiatives constitute some of the key ways in which popular music artists scenes and events are being remembered. Bringing together a selection of wide ranging contributions the purpose of this book is to present a number of case studies from Europe and Australia that demonstrate the variety of ways in which popular music is being cast as cultural heritage and as a medium that invokes the collective memory of successive generations whose identity and sense of cultural belonging have often been indelibly inscribed by the musical soundscapes of their teen and early adult years. This book was originally published as a special issue of Popular Music and Society
