Angel, Keith E. Whitfield, 2007-08-06 The emergence of the Hispanic population in the United States and the increasing proportion of Latin America on the North and South American continents have raised the profile of Latino issues in the American consciousness. Much of this attention however has revolved around trends in culture, art, food, and music, or pathological concerns about poverty, crime, drugs, and immigration. At best, the scholarly and policy assessments of the implications of the impact of Latinos in the United States revolve around Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans, and Central Americans, as well as the children of an older Cuban population and their struggles to achieve a measure of education, healthcare, employment, and civil rights. What have not been adequately addressed are the demographic trends affecting Latinos in the United States, Mexico, and Latin America, particularly the aging of the Hispanic population and its resultant health and long-term care needs. That Latinos are living longer and shifting from a youthful population to an increasingly older cohort is little known except among the small cadre of Hispanic gerontologists. Ironically, this invisibility of aging Hispanics is juxtaposed to the almost picked response of the U.S. media and public toward the aging of the general U.S. population and the social and political controversies over Social Security, Medicare, and health care costs. The policy debates of an aging U.S. population as a whole arise from substantial research and policy analysis, a level of attention not seen with regard to the aging of the Hispanic population.

Handbook of LGBT Elders Debra A. Harley, Pamela B. Teaster, 2015-08-05. This groundbreaking resource presents a wealth of findings and perspectives previously unseen in the LGBT literature. Its focus on psychological, sociopolitical, and care delivery issues affecting LGBT elders reveals both the nuanced interplay between diverse sources of identity and multiple sources of stigma and discrimination. Specific chapters highlight challenges and resiliencies impacting subpopulations, e.g., racial groups, veterans, immigrants, examine employment and advocacy issues, discuss later life concerns in context, and offer guidelines for relevant ethical practice. Contributors represent a wide range of fields from psychiatry and gerontology to public health and public policy, reflecting the scope and needs of this diverse and complex population. Among the topics in the Handbook: Family relationships of older LGBT adults; The intersection of identities: race, age, sexuality, and care network; Bisexuality: an invisible community among LGBT elders; Implications of the Supreme Court ruling on same-sex marriage; No money, no work, and you're old; Disabilities among LGBT elders; Responses of medicine, public health, rehabilitation, and social work. Handbook of LGBT Elders is an essential reference for mental health professionals, psychologists, and social workers who work with the LGBT community and the elderly, as well as researchers interested in the LGBT community and aging.

Trauma, Resilience, and Health Promotion in LGBT Patients Kristen L. Eckstrand, Jennifer Potter, 2017-06-05. This book has two goals: to educate healthcare professionals about the effect of identity-based adversity on the health of their LGBT patients and to outline how providers can use the clinical encounter to promote LGBT patients' resilience in the face of adversity and thereby facilitate recovery. Toward this end, it addresses trauma in LGBT populations, factors that contribute to resilience both across the lifespan and in specific groups, and strategies for promoting resilience in clinical practice. Each chapter includes a case scenario with discussion questions and practice points that highlight critical clinical best practices The editors and contributors are respected experts on the health of LGBT people and the book will be a first of its kind resource for all clinicians who wish to become better educated about and provide high quality healthcare to their LGBT patients
