Elderly And The Future Economy:

The Elderly and the Future Economy Lawrence Olson,1981      The Economics of Aging David A. Wise,2009-05-15 The Economics of Aging presents results from an ongoing National Bureau of Economic Research project Contributors consider the housing mobility and living arrangements of the elderly their labor force participation and retirement the economics of their health care and their financial status The goal of the research is to further our understanding both of the factors that determine the well being of the elderly and of the consequences that follow from an increasingly older population with longer individual life spans Each paper is accompanied by critical commentary      The Economic Effects of Aging in the United States and Japan Michael D. Hurd,Naohiro Yashiro,2007-12-01 Due to falling fertility rates the aging of the baby boom cohort and increases in life expectancy the percentage of the population that is elderly is expected to increase rapidly in the United States and Japan over the next two decades These fourteen essays show that despite differences in culture and social and government structure population aging will have many similar macro and micro effects on the economic status and behavior of the elderly in both countries The most obvious effects will be on social programs such as public pension systems and the provision for medical needs of the elderly But the contributors demonstrate aging will also affect markets for labor capital housing and health care services It will affect firms through their participation in the demand side of the labor market and through their provisions for pensions And aging will influence saving rates the rate of return on assets the balance of payments and most likely economic growth This volume will interest scholars and policy makers concerned with the economics of aging      Pension Aspects of the Economics of Aging: Present and Future Roles of Private Pensions James H. Schulz,1970      The Economic Future of American Families Frank Levy,Richard C. Michel,1991 This book analyzes the way families fared in the turbulent economy of the 1970s and 1980s and a guess about the way today s younger families will manage the next few decades According to Levy and Michel each generation of workers is on its own income track Initially incomes are heavily influenced by the size of the age group but later average incomes are influenced by growth in overall business productivity changes in unemployment rates average education levels and for workers who do not go to college the availability of manufacturing jobs The authors estimated these relationships for past generations and project income growth for baby boom males who entered the labor force in the mid 1970s They offer familiar remedies to spur productivity growth raising average skill levels and increasing personal savings ISBN 0 87766 486 2 31 50      1981 White House Conference on Aging Housing Recommendations United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Aging. Subcommittee on Housing and Consumer Interests,1982      The Railroad Retirement System; Economic Analysis of the Future Outlook for the Railroad Industry and Its Ability to Support the System ... Volume 1-3. 92-2, December 1972 United States. Congress. House Interstate and Foreign Commerce,1972      Green finance & carbon neutrality: strategies and policies for a sustainable future Wei Zhang,Tian Tang,Satar Bakhsh,Xuemeng Liu,2025-09-01 The accelerating global climate crisis demands innovative and sustainable financial strategies to mitigate its impacts and facilitate the transition to a carbon neutral economy Green finance and carbon neutrality are instrumental in this endeavor Green finance entails financial investments directed towards sustainable development projects and initiatives that promote environmental benefits Its growth is critical in supporting the transition to a low carbon economy Simultaneously the concept of carbon neutrality which refers to achieving net zero carbon dioxide emissions by balancing or eliminating emissions entirely has become a central goal for many governments and organizations worldwide The urgent global challenge that this Research Topic aims to address is how to effectively integrate green finance strategies into our path towards achieving carbon neutrality Despite the increasing importance of both these areas there remains a significant knowledge gap on how they can synergistically drive a shift towards a low carbon sustainable economy Moreover the absence of standardized regulations and lack of broad understanding of these concepts have contributed to slower adoption and implementation rates than what is urgently required The goal of this Research Topic is to consolidate recent advancements present innovative strategies and highlight successful case studies in the nexus of green finance and carbon neutrality This includes exploring novel financial instruments and models that encourage sustainable investments comprehending the socio economic impacts of moving towards a carbon neutral economy and showcasing policy mechanisms that have effectively integrated green finance and carbon neutrality By amalgamating these insights we aim to guide policymakers inform business practices stimulate further academic exploration and ultimately accelerate the global journey towards a sustainable carbon neutral future The scope of this Research Topic encompasses a broad range of themes at the intersection of green finance and carbon neutrality We are particularly interested in empirical Original Research articles in depth Reviews of current literature Policy and Practice Reviews and case studies demonstrating the successful application of green finance strategies in achieving carbon neutrality Potential topics include but are not limited to following areas Development of innovative green financial instruments Analysis of policy frameworks and regulations promoting carbon neutrality Examination of the role of ESG Environmental Social Governance factors in investment decisions Studies on the socio economic impacts of transitioning to a carbon neutral economy Manuscripts that provide novel insights propose unique models or offer critical perspectives on existing approaches are highly encouraged By collating these diverse viewpoints we aim to further enrich the dialogue on sustainable development and carbon neutrality
