Everyday Sexism In The Third Millennium:

Everyday Sexism in the Third Millennium Carol Rambo Ronai, Barbara A. Zsembik, Joe R. Feagin, 2014-06-03 This collection features new and original research on the range of sexism still faced every day by women in US society. It documents oppression across ethnic, racial, class, and sexual orientation groups in a wide range of gendered spaces including the home, the workplace, unions, educational institutions, and the Internet. Exploring the way these different but related systems of oppression interact, the editors come to view sexism not as a static thing but as part of a dialectic of domination in which women are simultaneously oppressed and capable of oppressing others through their discourse and practice. With its broad range of approaches, its focus on discourse and experience in gendered spaces, and its debunking of the personal and societal fictions of gender, this book goes a long way toward explaining why sexism is still so pervasive in everyday life.

Women in Africa Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Jacob-Haliso, 2025-05-22 This book introduces readers to the rich and diverse experiences of women across the African continent, covering their socio-cultural, political, and economic realities from the precolonial era right up to the modern day. In many precolonial African societies, women were empowered and considered to be important participants in the social structures and political systems that managed their communities. But during the colonial era, women were often marginalized. Now, across the continent, women are reasserting their agency. This book explores the various ways in which gender has been constructed in different African cultures across history and how this has impacted the lived experiences of women. The book encompasses a broad range of topics, including history, health, sexualities, gender-based violence, motherhood, education, economic activities, science and technology, religion, popular culture, politics, peacebuilding, feminism, literature, social media, and migration. Engaging and compelling, this book invites us to think again about the changing roles, identities, and contributions of African women across time and space. It is the perfect introduction for any student of gender or African studies, as well as for anyone looking for a reader-friendly guide to the subject. Crime and Fear in Public Places Vania Ceccato, Mahesh K. Global World Olvera-Lobo, María Dolores, Gutiérrez-Artacho, Juncal, Rivera-Trigueros, Irene, Díaz-Millón, Mar, 2021-04-23

Today's global markets demand that companies of all sizes look to international markets for potential customers. The successive crises that have taken place in the last decade make the internationalization of companies essential. This situation is further aggravated in the case of SMEs as surviving only from national markets is becoming increasingly difficult. Indeed, the economic sphere is in constant flux which demands that companies have a great capacity for adaptation to face the new challenges of an ever more globalized and difficult market. In this context, new forms of business communication are emerging, especially through the web and new technologies. Digital marketing and the dissemination of corporate information have become key processes for the success of companies. It is therefore crucial to research different digital marketing processes and ways of breaking down linguistic and cultural barriers between users from different sociolinguistic contexts. Innovative Perspectives on Corporate Communication in the Global World contains different contributions focused on the description of methods, processes and tools that can be adopted to achieve corporate internationalization goals. The chapters provide a comprehensive review of the why, what and how of disseminating corporate information and promoting corporate digital communication into internationalization processes. These strategies can be related to the development of digital tools, the design of new corporate communication strategies, the proposal of new ways of breaking social and linguistic barriers between technology users or the creation of new methodologies aimed at evaluating the effectiveness of digital marketing strategies. This book is ideal for marketers, managers, executives, entrepreneurs, practitioners, researchers, academicians and students interested in new corporate communication strategies and their effectiveness. Adebowale Akande, 2022-12-08. This handbook presents the roots of symbolic racism as partly in both anti-black antagonism and non-racial conservative attitudes and values representing a new form of racism independent of older racial and political attitudes. By doing so, it homes in on certain historical incidents and episodes and presents a cogent analysis of anti-black Jim Crowism, anti-people of color, Black, Latino, Native Americans and prejudice that exists in the United States and around the world as a central tenet of racism. The book exposes the reader to the nature and practice of stereotyping, negative bias, social categorization, modern forms of racism, immigration law, empowerment, racialized incarceration and police brutality in the American heartland. It states that several centuries of white Americans' negative socializing culture, marked by widespread negative attitudes toward African Americans, are not eradicated and are still rife. Further, the book provides a panoramic view of trends of racial discrimination and other negative and desperate challenges that Black, Indigenous and People of Color face across the world. Finally, the volume examines xenophobia, racism, prejudice and stereotyping in different contexts, including topics such as Covid-19, religion and racism, information manipulation and populism. The book therefore is a must-read for students, researchers and scholars of political science, psychology, history, sociology, communications, media studies, diplomatic studies and law in general, as well as ethnic and racial studies. Mann, 2000-03-18 With the knowledge and sensitivity of a teacher and counsellor Ruth M Mann details a community effort to establish a shelter for abused women in a small Ontario municipality While other literature presents the ostensibly cohesive views of particular interest groups on the issue of domestic violence Mann exposes the conflicts that actually occur and the ways these conflicts fuel unintended outcomes In Who Owns Domestic Abuse: The Local Politics of a Social Problem the author ventures bravely into the politically charged debate over the definition of abuse and emphasizes the fact that owning a problem does not ensure the possession of viable answers Rather than promoting a particular response to such problems Mann uses personal accounts of abuse to make a space for the diverse perspectives of abused women and abusive men She urges activists and intervenors to argue less and listen more

Transforming Otherness Peter Nynas, 2017-07-28 Today people in different situations and contexts face intercultural challenges These are a result of increasing mobility Sometimes such challenges are brought about by crisis situations and an international labor market However people also come in contact with each other through forms of new technology such as the Internet and through literature and film In these multicultural encounters misunderstandings and sometimes clashes are experienced This volume presents studies in culture communication and language all of which strive through a variety of theoretical perspectives to develop understanding of such challenges and perhaps offer practical solutions Encountering otherness may evoke fears negative attitudes and a corresponding will to dismiss the otherness in front of us either consciously or unconsciously This denial of otherness may also be subtle Thinking about otherness as described in this volume also raises questions about how otherness is represented and mediated and about the possible role of third parties in facilitating communication in such situations Sometimes a third party can play a crucial role in facilitating the communication process and serve as a channel of communication Trust in humanity as a bridge to community requires a subtle balance between representations of self and other Various problems arise in intercultural mediation which may be caused by cultural and political differences and these are sometimes used to validate stereotypical beliefs and images The editors argue that in both academic and art circles European perspectives have widely been understood as universal
