Literacy in Everyday Life Jeroen Blaak, 2009-07-31 Until recently historians of reading have concentrated on book ownership and trying to map out a history of who read what The reading experience has been a subject more difficult to research As has been pointed out before egodocuments can be valuable sources in this case Following this lead Literacy in Everyday Life focuses upon four early modern Dutch diaries in which readers document their daily life and in which they recount their reading In the analysis other ways in which these four readers communicated are also addressed especially speech and writing This book therefore provides an insight into the possible uses of literacy and the interaction between the printed written and spoken word in the early modern Dutch Republic Descartes and the Ontology of Everyday Life

Deborah J. Brown, Calvin G. Normore, 2019-10-30 The seventeenth century was a period of extraordinary invention discovery and revolutions in scientific social and political orders It was a time of expansive automation biological discovery rapid advances in medical knowledge of animal trials and a questioning of the boundaries between species human and non human between social classes and of the assumed naturalness of political inequality This book gives a tour through those objects ordinary and extraordinary which captivated the philosophical imagination of the single most important French philosopher of this period Ren Descartes Deborah J Brown and Calvin G Normore document Descartes attempt to make sense of the complex composite objects of human and divine invention consistent with the fundamental tenets of his metaphysical system Their central argument is that far from reducing all the categories of ordinary experience to the two basic categories of substance mind and body Descartes philosophy recognises irreducible composites that resist reduction and require their own distinctive modes of explanation

Gender and Genocide in Cambodia Azra Rashid,2023-10-31 This book explores the multiplicity of women s experiences in the Cambodian genocide during the four year rule of the Khmer Rouge The dominant discourses of genocide often speak from a patriarchal and national perspective rendering women speechless and yet in this volume the female survivors of the Cambodian genocide testify not only to the specific atrocities committed during the war but also to the pre war conditions that laid the groundwork for a gender specific victimization of women and its continuation post war With the help of testimonies from Khmer women who joined the Khmer Rouge women who experienced sexual violence during the Khmer Rouge era women who fled the country and the Cham women who faced expulsion from home this book explores the diversity of women s experiences under the Khmer Rouge Survivors accounts show that a Khmer woman s experience with the Khmer Rouge was considerably different from the experience of not only a Khmer man but also a woman from a religious or ethnic minority group or a woman who chose to join the Khmer Rouge These differences are conveniently ignored in nationalist discourses in Cambodia and by western scholars of history and gender based violence and they are given even less consideration in discourses about women survivors in diaspora Instead of forcing generalization and universalization of gendered crimes of war Gender and Genocide in Cambodia employs feminist curiosity and closely examines women s experiences under the Khmer Rouge from multiple vantage points This volume is essential reading for students and scholars interested in gender and cultural studies political history and modern history

Schools and National Identities in French-speaking Africa Linda

Gardelle,Camille Jacob,2020-11-25 Schools and National Identities in French speaking Africa showcases cutting edge research to provide a renewed understanding of the role of schools in producing and reproducing national identities Using individual case studies and comparative frameworks it presents diverse empirical and theoretical insights from and about a range of African countries The volume demonstrates in particular the usefulness of the curriculum as a lens through which to analyse the production and negotiation of national identities in different settings Chapters discuss the tensions between decolonisation as a moment in time and decolonisation as a lengthy and messy process the interplay between the local national and international priorities of different actors and the nuanced role of historiography and language in nation building At its heart is the need to critically investigate the concept of the nation as a political project how discourses and feelings of belonging are constructed at school and what it means for schools to be simultaneously places of learning tools of socialisation and political battlegrounds By presenting new research on textbooks practitioners and policy in ten different African countries this volume provides insights into the diversity of issues and dynamics surrounding the question of schools and national identities It will be of particular interest to scholars researchers and postgraduate students of comparative and international education sociology history sociolinguistics and African studies

The French in the United States Jacqueline Lindenfeld, 2000-09-30 Complex patterns of acculturation are revealed in the most comprehensive ethnographic study of contemporary French immigrants in the United States Written by a French born American anthropologist who has insider status among French Americans The French in the United States offers a fresh look at the histories and experiences of French immigrants In the foreign born generation a high degree of social integration into American society co exists with the maintenance of a French identity which manifests itself in the areas of language culture and perceptions The French heritage does not usually endure past the second generation however because its maintenance within the family is not adequately supported by collective efforts due to a lack of cohesiveness among French born individuals who have become permanent immigrants A number of factors account for the foregoing the small number of French natives in the United States their scattered geographical distribution the absence of spatially defined communities populated by direct immigrants from France and a very high rate of intermarriage Another important factor is the primarily individual nature of migration from France to this country since the last half of the 20th century and a highly developed sense of self direction in those who stay permanently Their French identity must be regarded as cultural rather than ethnic it is tied to a distant homeland rather than to a group with territorial institutional and organizational identity in the United States Lindenfeld delves into the makings of this French identity and distinguishes French immigrants from other Americans

Engaging Banality Peter Tillack, 2017-07-10 Engaging Banality Stories of the Salaried Life by Kuroi Senji features three of the best known works of Kuroi Senji's early career Hole and Sky 1968 Time 1969 and Running Family 1970 received widespread critical attention in Japan and have been reprinted many times yet none has been translated until now In its own way each story reveals the profound ambivalence increasing numbers of Japanese began to feel toward their lives as their desires were channelled into the nation's single minded goal of achieving high speed economic growth The stories are preceded by a critical introduction that situates Kuroi's development and ethos

as a writer within the context of profound socio cultural change spanning the end of World War II through the early 1970s
