Meyer, 1989 The Cambridge Economic History of the United States Stanley L. Engerman, Robert E. Gallman, 1996 Volume III surveys the economic history of the United States and Canada during the twentieth century Improving Financial Management National Performance Review (U.S.), Al Gore, 1993 Funding the Modern American State, 1941-1995 W. Elliot Brownlee, Lee H. Hamilton, 2003-02-13 This book explores the history of US taxation and public finance since 1941 Federal Taxation in America W. Elliot Brownlee, 2016-07-18 This authoritative and readable survey is a comprehensive historical overview of federal taxation and fiscal policy in the United States extending from the era of the American Revolution to the present day Brownlee relates the principal stages of federal taxation to the crises that led to their adoption including but not limited to the formation of the republic the Civil War World War I and II and the challenges to government that took hold during the 1980s In this third edition Brownlee adds four new chapters covering the colonial era the American Revolution the Civil War the 1920s and the post 1945 era including the tax policies of the George W Bush and Barack Obama administrations It features expanded discussion of government expenditures deficits and debt public resources counter cyclical fiscal policy and state and local taxation Its interdisciplinary interpretation makes it perfect for scholars graduate students and advanced undergraduate students Deficits and Debt in Industrialized Democracies Eisaku Ide, Gene Park, 2015-03-24 Since the global financial crisis government debt has soared globally by 40 percent and now exceeds an astonishing 100 trillion Not all countries though have fared the same Indeed even prior to the financial crisis the fiscal fates of countries have been diverging despite predictions that pressures from economic globalization push countries toward more convergent fiscally conservative policies Featuring the work of an international interdisciplinary team of scholars this volume explains patterns of fiscal performance persistent patterns of budget deficits and government debt from the 1970s to the present across seven countries France Italy Germany Japan South Korea Sweden and the United States Employing a comparative case study approach seldom employed in studies of fiscal performance contributions illuminate the complex causal factors often overlooked by quantitative studies and advances our theoretical understanding of fiscal performance Among other things the cases highlight the role of taxpayer consent tax structure the welfare state organization of interests and labor and financial markets in shaping fiscal outcomes A necessary resource to understand a broader array of factors that shape fiscal outcomes in specific national contexts this book will reinvigorate the study of fiscal performance From Red Tape to Results Albert Gore, Jr, 1996-06 The Impact of the Federal Budget Process on National Forest Planning V. Alaric Sample, 1990-07-18 A public policy is no more than a statement of intent until and unless it is successfully implemented through often complex administrative processes Chief among these is the budget process through which a policy can be either promoted or suppressed In the management of the national forests as in many areas of federal policymaking the budget process includes an array of organizations and suborganizations in both the executive and legislative branches each with their own values incentives and agendas The interplay of these powerful forces and its impact on the resources of our national forests is the subject of this masterful new book by V Alaric Sample Sample studies the difficulties that have occurred in integrating the results of strategic planning under the Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Planning Act RPA of 1974 and the difficulties that can be expected to occur in implementing the national forest plans prepared under the National Forest Management Act NFMA of 1976 As a basis for determining what those corrective measures are and how successful they might be the external political environment of the Forest Service as well as the agency's internal dynamics are discussed in detail The study begins with a critical examination of budget trends for the Forest Service over the past 25 years On a program by program basis each year's budget is analyzed at each point in the political process to reveal the changes made by the Secretary of Agriculture OMB and the House and Senate appropriations committees The results are displayed against Forest Service strategic plans developed under RPA to determine the consistency between planned and actual budgets and program levels To get a better sense of the internal dynamics and external environment of Forest Service budget development the budget for a single fiscal year is followed from its initial stages on five case study national forests to its final approval as Forest Service appropriations The budget is then followed through two additional stages the allocation of funds back to the local national forest level and the reporting of expenditures at the end of the fiscal year The lack of integration between the Forest Service planning and budgeting processes has important implications for the implementation of national forest plans and more broadly for the carrying out of various reforms of the National Forest Management Act Practitioners and students of public management and policymaking will find this study to be a clear and thorough illustration of general principles developed in the context of current administrative theory that apply to the implementation of public policies at all levels The American journal of tax policy

,1997 Advertising and the Transformation of American Society, 1865-1920 James Norris,1990-10-24 In the period between 1865 to 1920 as America shifted from a rural farming economy to urban manufacturing a major transformation also occurred in the behavior of the country's consumers This change is perhaps best illustrated in the advertisements that appeared in popular magazines They began by simply informing consumers of the cost and availability of a product but by 1920 they were projecting an image that defined the American dream in terms of a consumption ethic In this historical analysis of advertisements James Norris explores this transformation of society and its ads and the role that advertising played in developing a national market for consumer goods creating demand for mass produced items and shifting the consumption habits of Americans Focusing primarily on popular journals and magazines with national circulations Norris traces how by the 1920s America had become a society in which consumption and spending had replaced old virtues He examines a number of issues affecting this change including how national markets developed how consumers were convinced to buy products they had never seen before what appeals manufacturers used to build markets and how consumers were persuaded to purchase items that had previously been produced locally or in the home Other factors that played a role in the transformation are also considered such as the breakdown of localism an increasingly educated citizenry the potential for mass production and a growth in per capita income Whenever possible the advertisements themselves have been quoted and reproduced fully illustrating Norris premise that they are mirrors of the society that produced them This study will be an important resource for courses in business history economics women's studies and the history of advertising as well as a valuable addition to college university and public libraries IMF History (1972-1978) Volume 2 International Monetary Fund,1996-02-29 IMF History 1972 1978 Volume 2 America, History and Life ,1993 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide An Economic Record of Presidential Performance Richard J. Carroll,1995-08-22 For the first time trends in 20 major economic and federal budget indicators most reported since World War II are presented in a single source The economic performances under each presidential administration are ranked for each indicator as well as for their overall performance The results are often surprising and counter intuitive challenging many popular beliefs This presentation of averages trends and illustrations will allow scholars students and others interested in economics politics and history to interpret economic news more effectively Choice ,1989 Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations for 1999 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA, HUD, and Independent Agencies,1998 Forthcoming Books Rose Army,1990 American Management and British Labor Isaac Cohen,1990-08-15 This book examines the early American cotton industry through British perspectives The book covers the period from the 1780s to 1880 and concerns mainly Lancashire and New England although there are many references to Scotland Pennsylvania and New York By concentrating on the spinning branch of the industry Cohen is able to contrast different types of technologies workers markets and goods For instance the book analyzes how American industrialists acted differently than the British millowners and deals with the response of American factory workers to industrialization as distinct from the British operatives Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and Independent Agencies Appropriations for 1999: National Aeronautics and Space Administration United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on VA, HUD, and Independent Agencies, 1998

Monopoly Capital Theory Jonas Zoninsein, 1990-07-24 In his pioneering work Finance Capital originally published in 1910 Rudolf Hilferding developed and examined the concept and economic policy of finance capital developing Marx's analysis of the processes of concentration and centralization of capital and the roles of competition and credit within these processes This book provides a critical examination of the theory of finance capital by focusing on the concepts of competition credit and economic crises Jonas Zoninsein concentrates on the theory of monopoly capital which has its roots in Hilferding's work presenting a critique of this economic principle that plays an outstanding role in current explanations of how the capitalist mode of production operates in the twentieth century Although finance capital and monopoly capital are the underlying concepts that explain capitalism today Hilferding's sources in detailing his theory were basically the characteristics of Germany's late industrialization His analytical effort was chiefly oriented toward formulating general theoretical principles about the working of capitalism In this critical study Zoninsein analyzes Hilferding's central elements competition credit capital accumulation and crises and seeks to refine and reinterpret the concepts and procedures in light of the current changes in economic thought and social life Particular attention is paid to the sharp contrasts that are exhibited between Hilferding's work and the economic theories of Marx The volume also includes a selected bibliography of relevant works For courses in political economy Marxist theory and monopoly capitalism this study will be an excellent resource and both public and academic libraries will find it to be a valuable addition to their collections
