The Rise Of The New Economic Powers And The Changing Global Landscape Haico Ebbers,2022-12-19 This book explores the catching up process of a group of large emerging markets the New Economic Powers This process is extremely robust and should be considered as the defining trend of our age resulting in a pivotal change in world economics and politics The outcome is that the West cannot dominate the world as it did in the previous 200 years Today s world is pluralistic and the larger emerging markets are becoming increasingly influential That is the new reality which at times caused and will cause further discomfort and uncertainty in the West In the eight chapters the viewpoints on globalization of nine New Economic Powers are discussed Each chapter is an essential element in understanding the process of globalization and the role the New Economic Powers play in it Essentially their views are guided by a fundamental different look about the role of the market and the government in society compared to what we see in the West The New Economic Powers understand the power of the market to create prosperity but at the same time emphasize the need for government interference This delicate balance is particularly visible with respect to their international trade and investment policies which bring them in conflict with Western countries and multilateral institutions such as the WTO and the IMF The book helps the reader to understand the fundamental choices made by policymakers in the New Economic Powers

Leading Sectors and World Powers George Modelski,William R. Thompson,1996 The idea that political and economic power moves in coordinated cycles has long intrigued political scientists and political economists for if a pattern exists in the rise and fall of international political power a model explaining this pattern gains predictive qualities In Leading Sectors and World Powers George Modelski and William R Thompson venture beyond previous attempts to explain why major powers rise fall and fight about their changing status to establish an explicit connection between war economic innovation and world leadership They argue that surges in economic innovation which in turn are tied to global war determine leadership in the global system Modelski and Thompson base their theory on the coordination of long cycles phases of world order and decay punctuated by intensive bouts of global war and K waves cycles delineating the wax and wane of leading industrial sectors They contend that K waves appear in paired sets correlated to long cycle shifts in political power Modelski and Thompson conclude by discussing the nature and timing of the next K wave long cycle peak commenting on the relevance of it for U S industrial policy and speculating on the possibility of evolving away from this pattern in the near future
