Examining Myself One Woman's Story Of Breast Cancer Treatment And Recovery:

Examining Myself Musa Mayer, 1993 The author recounts her experiences with breast cancer from the initial discovery of the condition through the various stages of treatment to her present period of survival Recovering Bodies G. Thomas Couser, 1997-11-01 This is a provocative look at writing by and about people with illness or disability in particular HIV AIDS breast cancer deafness and paralysis who challenge the stigmas attached to their conditions by telling their lives in their own ways and on their own terms Discussing memoirs diaries collaborative narratives photo documentaries essays and other forms of life writing G Thomas Couser shows that these books are not primarily records of medical conditions they are a means for individuals to recover their bodies or those of loved ones from marginalization and impersonal medical discourse Responding to the recent growth of illness and disability narratives in the United States such works as Juliet Wittman's Breast Cancer Journal John Hockenberry's Moving Violations Paul Monette's Borrowed Time An AIDS Memoir and Lou Ann Walker's A Loss for Words The Story of Deafness in a Family Couser addresses questions of both poetics and politics He examines why and under what circumstances individuals choose to write about illness or disability what role plot plays in such narratives how and whether closure is achieved who assumes the prerogative of narration which conditions are most often represented and which literary conventions lend themselves to representing particular conditions By tracing the development of new subgenres of personal narrative in our time this book explores how explicit consideration of illness and disability has enriched the repertoire of life writing In addition Couser's discussion of medical discourse joins the current debate about whether the biomedical model is entirely conducive to humane care for ill and disabled people With its sympathetic critique of the testimony of those most affected by these conditions Recovering Bodies contributes to an understanding of the relations among bodily dysfunction cultural conventions and identity in contemporary America

Breast Cancer Q & A Charyn Pfeuffer, 2003 What questions should I ask my doctor about my diagnosis How do I tell my children I have breast cancer What types of breast biopsies are there Do I have a choice between mastectomy and lumpectomy Where can I find a breast cancer support group As a longtime volunteer at the Women's Cancer Resource Center certified breast health educator Charyn Pfeuffer has been on the front lines providing clear authoritative answers to patients and caregivers for the one hundred most frequently asked questions about everything from testing to treatment Now in response to the urgent concerns of breast cancer patients and their families Pfeuffer draws on the expertise of traditional and alternative health care practitioners to create this comprehensive accessible survival manual The book also features the most up to date information on medical terminology support groups and resource centers cancer medication and complementary and alternative therapies This is the book every woman will need to make informed decisions about her own treatment and recovery Book jacket What You Need to Know about Breast Cancer Pat Kelly, Mark Levine, 1999 Breast cancer continues to occur at the alarming rate of 1 in 8 American women and 1 in 9 Canadian women Survival rates are improving however and four out of five women diagnosed with breast cancer are alive 5 years after their cancer is discovered Written with honest and compassion this book serves to enlighten and empower women with breast cancer and those who care about them by providing knowledge about all aspects of the disease What You Need to Know About Breast Cancer shows women who have been diagnosed with breast cancer how to take an active part in better understanding their diagnosis treatment and healing

Breast Cancer Basics and Beyond Delthia Ricks, 2005 Having breast cancer can be devastating for the woman affected and for her family and loved ones It can also be confusing because there are many variations of the disease and at least as many treatments By bringing together comprehensive information on the subject Breast Cancer Basics and Beyond helps women better understand their illness and participate in making decisions about all aspects of their treatment and care In this book award winning medical writer Delthia Ricks tells you all about common and rare types of breast cancer their causes and symptoms diagnosis including mammography and different kinds of biopsies treatment options including lumpectomy mastectomy chemotherapy radiation and hormone therapy benefits and side effects of the most commonly used drugs your risk factors including ethnicity genetics hormones and diet life after cancer follow up care and dealing with recurrence reasons for hope breast cancer research and treatments in development

Reading and Writing Cancer: How Words Heal Susan Gubar, 2016-05-17 An important addition to the literature of cancer by an award winning scholar and memoirist Elaborating upon her Living with Cancer column in the New York Times Susan Gubar helps patients caregivers and the specialists who seek to serve them In a book both enlightening and practical she describes how the activities of reading and writing can right some of cancer's wrongs To stimulate the writing process she proposes specific exercises prompts and models In discussions of the diary of Fanny Burney the stories of Leo Tolstoy and Alice Munro numerous memoirs novels paintings photographs and blogs Gubar shows how readers can learn from art that deepens our comprehension of what it means to live or die with the disease From a writer whose own memoir Memoir of a Debulked Woman Enduring Ovarian Cancer was described by the New York Times Book Review as moving and instructive and incredibly brave this volume opens a path to healing

A Darker Ribbon Ellen Leopold, 2000-10-17 The first cultural history of breast cancer this book examines the social attitudes and medical treatments that together defined the modern relationship between women with the disease and their doctors At the heart of the book are two unpublished correspondences one between Barbara Mueller a woman diagnosed with breast cancer eighty years ago and her surgeon William Steward Halsted father of the radical mastectomy and the other between Rachel Carson who was writing Silent Spring as she was battling breast cancer and her personal physician George Crile Jr

Through the Eyes of Women Jeanne Stevenson Moessner, 1996 A comprehensive survey of care of women by women from a religious standpoint results from the collaboration of nineteen leading women in the field of pastoral care Subjects include the role of women in pastoral theology and pastoral care care of African American women and of women entering ministry The book treats anger aggression lesbian identities loss of mothers eating disorders hysterectomy mastectomy rape and older women's issues The volume concludes with women's spiritual care community self sacrifice and self denial The Invading Body Einat Avrahami, 2007 Widely debated in feminist poststructuralist and literary theory is the relationship between subjectivity and the body Yet autobiographical criticism an obvious place for testing this conceptual relationship has lagged behind contemporary queries about the embodied self In The Invading Body Einat Avrahami corrects this deficiency by analyzing the genre of terminal illness autobiographies These personal narratives challenge the world of self writing in their power to question the assumption that autobiography and the body are products of cultural constructs and discursive practices Their self disclosures of symptoms disabilities and the physical and psychological pains of treatment especially when combined with thoughts of further deterioration and imminent death defy the theoretical formulations of identity and alter the definition of autobiography itself Avrahami investigates an array of autobiographical testimonies of terminal illness ranging from Harold Brodkey's poignant account of his struggle with AIDS to Hannah Wilke's and Jo Spence's gripping self portraits of cancer By challenging the artificial and contrived skepticism that critics and theorists bring to their concepts of the self the author argues these illness narratives constitute an invasion of the real confronting the notions of self representation and self invention on which current autobiographical studies are based The author's examinations of these moving memoirs and photographs will engage not only the growing field of disability studies but also a more general readership interested in the transition that occurs when one's body suddenly falls out of step with one's mind The Journey Beyond Breast Cancer Virginia M. Soffa, 1994-05 Currently one out of every nine American women will be diagnosed with breast cancer at some time in her life Virginia Soffa who was diagnosed with breast cancer at age 38 takes a critical look at both conventional and alternative treatments and outlines a strategy to help women take an active role in preventing and treating the disease

Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999 Serious illness and mortality those most universal unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate a new literary genre has emerged pathography the personal narrative concerning illness treatment and sometimes death Hawkins's sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter One factor emerges again and again in these case studies the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease Pathography allows the individual person a voice one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling thinking experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise Recommended for medical practitioners the clergy caregivers students of popular culture and the general reader Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor's and the patient's voice will we have a medicine that is truly human The SAGE Handbook of Social Research Methods Pertti Alasuutari, Leonard Bickman, Julia Brannen, 2008-02-25 The SAGE Handbook of Social Research Methods is a must for every social science researcher. It charts the new and evolving terrain of social research methodology covering qualitative, quantitative and mixed methods in one volume. The Handbook includes chapters on each phase of the research process: research design, methods of data collection and the processes of analyzing and interpreting data. The volume maintains that there is much more to research than learning skills and techniques; methodology involves the fit between theory, research questions, research design and analysis. The book also includes several chapters that describe historical and current directions in social research, debating crucial subjects such as qualitative versus quantitative paradigms, how to judge the credibility of types of research and the increasingly topical issue of research ethics. The Handbook serves as an invaluable resource for approaching research with an open mind. This volume maps the field of social research methods using an approach that will prove valuable for both students and researchers.

Graphic Subjects

Michael A. Chaney, 2011-03-01 Some of the most noteworthy graphic novels and comic books of recent years have been entirely autobiographical. In Graphic Subjects, Michael A. Chaney brings together a lively mix of scholars to examine the use of autobiography within graphic novels, including such critically acclaimed examples as Art Spiegelman's Maus, David Beauchard's Epileptic, Marjane Satrapi's Persepolis, Alan Moore's Watchmen and Gene Yang's American Born Chinese. These essays, accompanied by visual examples, illuminate the new horizons that illustrated autobiographical narrative creates. The volume insightfully highlights the ways that graphic novelists and literary cartoonists have incorporated history, experience and life stories into their work. The result is a challenging and innovative collection that reveals the combined power of autobiography and the graphic novel.

Dr. Susan Love's Breast Book Susan M. Love, 2000-09-20 The landscape of breast cancer has changed. New, non-invasive diagnostic techniques, new knowledge about prevention, new genetics, new treatments, new alternative and complementary resources are beginning to turn breast cancer into a chronic and perhaps preventable disease. Dr. Susan Love, whose earlier work has won the trust of women all over this country and abroad, has entirely revised her indispensable guide to reflect the very latest information. Readers of Dr. Susan Love's Breast Book will learn of the recent breakthroughs in genetic research, of Dr. Love's own work in developing a less invasive and highly accurate diagnostic technique, of the latest studies into preventive measures such as tamoxifen and dietary strategies and of promising outcomes from new treatments for metastatic cancer. In the same warm, supportive and often delightfully candid tone that has brought confidence to millions of women, Dr. Love helps each reader plan her own path through diagnosis, treatment options and the changing world of HMOs and insurance. She also offers sound advice about combining alternative self-care with top-notch medical help.

Writing Out the Storm Barbara Abercrombie, 2025-09-23 This powerful and deeply inspirational handbook is for anyone coping with serious illness or injury, be it theirs or that of a loved one who wants and needs to help themselves through the healing process. Offering her own experience with breast cancer as well as stories from other authors who have suffered from illnesses or severe injuries from Stephen King to Lance Armstrong Abercrombie encourages readers to write what is in their hearts and to benefit from the power of shared experience Using writing as therapy Writing Out the Storm is a book about healing the soul More Than You Wanted to Know Omri Ben-Shahar, Carl E. Schneider, 2014-04-20 How mandated disclosure took over the regulatory landscape and why it failed Perhaps no kind of regulation is more common or less useful than mandated disclosure requiring one party to a transaction to give the other information It is the iTunes terms you assent to the doctor's consent form you sign the pile of papers you get with your mortgage Reading the terms the form and the papers is supposed to equip you to choose your purchase your treatment and your loan well More Than You Wanted to Know surveys the evidence and finds that mandated disclosure rarely works But how could it Who reads these disclosures Who understands them Who uses them to make better choices Omri Ben Shahar and Carl Schneider put the regulatory problem in human terms Most people find disclosures complex obscure and dull Most people make choices by stripping information away not layering it on Most people find they can safely ignore most disclosures and that they lack the literacy to analyze them anyway And so many disclosures are mandated that nobody could heed them all Nor can all this be changed by simpler forms in plainer English since complex things cannot be made simple by better writing Furthermore disclosure is a lawmakers panacea so they keep issuing new mandates and expanding old ones often instead of taking on the hard work of writing regulations with bite Timely and provocative More Than You Wanted to Know takes on the form of regulation we encounter daily and asks why we must encounter it at all Cancer, Culture and Communication Rhonda J. Moore, David Spiegel, 2007-05-08 The ability to communicate effectively with cancer patients and their family members has been linked to patient satisfaction reduced psychological morbidity enhanced health and reduced clinician burn out Yet despite what we know about the benefits of effective communication cancer clinicians have only recently begun to receive routine training in the psychosocial and emotional aspects of cancer patient care This volume creates a multi disciplinary dialogue about clinician patient communication It offers a description of the relevance of culture as a contextual effect that impacts the clinician patient relationship Some important topics addressed include Oncology care Quality of life issues Supportive survivorship Cultural differences in health care Multidisciplinary medical approaches This book is for physicians nurses hospice and palliative care professionals and public health professionals who would like to understand the ways we can improve clinician patient communication in culturally diverse medical settings It is also suitable for graduate level courses in medical education oncology and health care Women's Stories of the Looking Glass Carmen Birkle, 1996 Voices of the Chronically Ill Mary Kalfoss, 2023-08-09 This book describes what it is like to embody chaos and liminality in living with a physical chronic illness and how these experiences are related to the loss and remaking of one's sense of self It also encourages readers to listen closely to the figurative language people use in trying to articulate the unspeakable Focusing upon a wide array of narrative fragments gathered from first person literary work and research the author portrays how a conglomerate of sensations feelings and thoughts are embodied in the illness experience The voices present in this text speak of vulnerability suffering and brokenness yet also endurance and fortitude The ethics of philosopher Emmanuel Levinas provide the grounds for offering care lovingly This book makes a significant contribution to helping students practitioners and carers understand the chaos that is inherent yet so often silenced in the illness experience This text could also be of interest to laypeople who are curious about how subjective illness is experienced and to those who are ill who may be seeking affirmation for what they are experiencing

Diary of a Breast Cancer Husband J. Scott Lyman, 2002 Diary of a Breast Cancer Husband is an extraordinarily intimate and brutally revealing chronicle of one man's personal and psychological journey with his wife down the path of breast cancer diagnosis and treatment Scott is a successful malpractice attorney His beautiful wife Suanne is his office administrator and business manager They live on top of a ravine overlooking the Pacific Ocean They have three sons the youngest still in high school Life has been good to Scott and Suanne Then breast cancer strikes Scott's reaction is one of consuming guilt and fear His fear is not just for his wife He also fears his own reaction to the possible changes he may face in his own life as a result of breast cancer His response is to immerse himself in the world of breast cancer and write about men and breast cancer and about men and breasts
