

1.3 Rationale of the research:

In this contemporary era, the world today is different than how it was in the times of Jesus. However, what remains the same is the fact that the people were and are living in society along with other people. Being a social animal humans need to depend on each other. It is the relation between people that made god decide on sending Jesus on earth. God sacrificed his son to bring peace and unity among people. However, the question that arises is, if the demonstration of God's love for his son made any change in the people's relationships and if it still has the existence. The reason for conducting this research is to find out the impact of the sacrifice of Jesus existing on people in the contemporary era.

1.4 Research aims and objectives:

The aim of the study is to demonstrate the end product of God love, by the act of giving his Son to come on earth and die for humanity. The action of letting his son die was done by God to bring the human beings close to him without any fear. The process has established harmony between God and humanity.

The objectives of the study are:

- To discuss and emphasise the concept of Reconciliation.
- To examine the necessity and importance of the reconciliation in the Christian life.
- To identify the way reconciliation can be brought to the dying world.
- To find out the consequences one will experience without reconciliation
- To investigate the reason for God's sacrifice for humanity by sending his only son
- To find out the Church duty with regards to reconciliation.
