Pictures Bring Us Messages Alison Kay Brown, Laura Lynn Peers, Laura Peers, 2006-01-01 While based in Canada the dynamics of the Pictures Bring Us Messages project is relevant to indigenous peoples and heritage institutions around the world

Picturing Indians Steven D. Hoelscher, 2008 Having built his reputation on his photographs of the Dells steep gorges and fantastic rock formations H H Bennett turned his camera upon the Ho Chunk and thus began the many layered relationship The interactions between Indian and white man photographer and photographed suggested a relationship in which commercial motives and friendly feelings mixed though not necessarily in equal measure Unraveling Edward S. Curtis's The North American Indian Herman Cohen Stuart, 2023-06-08 In the years 1900-1930 American photographer Edward S. Curtis realized his life's work: the monumental twenty-volume book series The North American Indian (1907-1930). Over the years, this work has been both praised and criticized. In this comprehensive and innovative study, Herman Cohen Stuart corrects a number of persistent misconceptions about the way Curtis, for many the most image-defining and influential photographer of American Indians, has represented the indigenous peoples of North America. The author argues that Curtis was keenly aware of the major changes Native Americans faced in the early 20th century. As is demonstrated by a thorough, both quantitative and qualitative analysis of both Curtis's texts and photographic artwork, Curtis was deeply conscious of the fact that by and even before the turn of the century, Western influences had already made large inroads into Native American life. This book provides a reappraisal of Curtis's position during this complicated and trying period for Native Americans.

The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada Andrea Kunard, Carol Payne, 2011 Reflecting the rich interdisciplinarity of contemporary photography studies, The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada is essential reading for anyone interested in Canadian visual culture. Pub desc Excavating Victorians Virginia Zimmerman, 2009-01-08 Excavating Victorians examines nineteenth-century Britain's reaction to the revelations about time and natural history provided by the new sciences of geology and archaeology. The Victorians faced one of the greatest paradigm shifts in history: the bottom dropped out of time, and they had to reinvent their relationship to the earth and to time and history. These new sciences took the Victorians by storm, inundating them with fossils, skeletal remains, and potsherds, artifacts or traces that served at once as relics from the past, objects in the present, and markers of time's passage. Virginia Zimmerman explores how the Victorians utilized a nexus of literature, excavation, and reflections on time to ease anxieties about the individual's fate in the face of time's overwhelming expanse. The function of artifacts is also considered through careful readings of Tennyson's The Princess and Dickens's Little Dorrit and Our Mutual Friend. Zimmerman shows how these literary works make use of the language tropes and even generic conventions of excavation and how they participate in the effort to rescue the individual from temporal insignificance.

As We See It Suzanne Newman Fricke, 2023-10-15 In As We See It, Suzanne Newman Fricke invites readers to explore the work and careers of ten contemporary Native American photographers: Jamison Banks, Anna Hoover, Tom Jones, Larry McNeil, Shelley Niro, Wendy Red Star, Beverly Singer, Matika Wilber, William Wilson, and Tiffney Yazzie. Inspired by As We See It, an exhibition of these artists' work curated by Fricke in 2015, the book showcases the extraordinary achievements of these groundbreaking photographers. As We See It presents dialogues in which the artists share their unique perspectives about the history and current state of photography. Each chapter includes an overview of the photographer's career as well as examples of the artist's work. For added context, Fricke includes an introduction, a preface, that explores the original exhibition of the same name and an essay that challenges the ghost of Edward S Curtis whose work serves as a counterpoint to the photography of contemporary Native Americans The text is designed to be read as a whole or in sections for anyone teaching Native American photography As We See It is an invaluable addition to the library of anyone interested in Native American photography and will be the key source for teachers researchers and lovers of photography for years to come Innovation Empowerment in Construction 4.0 by the CDR-Approach Bianca Christina

Weber-Lewerenz,2024-09-01 This is a publication based dissertation The book examines the promotion of innovation in construction 4.0 through the CDR approach This opens up a new scientific research field for digital breakthroughs It raises awareness explains and enables access to innovative technologies such as digitalization and AI in the construction industry and highlights the associated ethical aspects This research comes to the conclusion that the human factor forms the basis for designing a socially sustainable digital transformation The new findings show how innovative technology can support people more efficiently productively safely and meaningfully It specifically addresses responsibility in the corporate environment and develops the key factors for success without neglecting the necessary legal political social and educational framework The aim of this book is to improve and strengthen the transfer of knowledge between research and practice on the basis of scientific communication without language barriers In this way the book offers broader access for readers not only for experts researchers designers implementers doers and visionaries The book encourages an interdisciplinary integrative and constructive dialogue in order to avoid disciplinary silo thinking The diversity of potential and innovations in the industry is offset by the industry's enormous responsibility to use sustainable human controlled AI to achieve the 17 UN SDGs and climate goals and to increase its global competitiveness on the basis of a European quality seal Surprise and aha effects are inevitable The book invites key players everyone involved and everyone who sets new standards to help shape the digital change in the construction industry and become innovative The book promotes a new culture of thinking and learning and strengthens the entrepreneurial will to innovate Opening a new gap in scientific knowledge with this book ultimately leads to a new discipline In addition it expands the interdisciplinary dialogue around the globe to find new ways to assume corporate digital responsibility and adapt the framework conditions The book provides new ideas for defining individual digital corporate strategies A Thousand Shards of Glass Michael Katakis,2015-12-16

Once upon a time Michael Katakis lived in a place of big dreams bright colours and sleight of hand That place was America One night travelling where those who live within illusions should never go he stared into the darkness and glimpsed a faded flag where shadows gathered revealing another America It was a broken place bred from fear and distrust a thousand shards of glass filled with a people who long ago had given away all that was precious a people who had been sold for so long a foreign betrayal that finally came from within and for nothing more than a handful of silver These essays letters and journal entries were written as a farewell to the country Michael loves still and to the wife he knew as his True North A powerful and personal polemic A Thousand Shards of Glass is Michael's appeal to his fellow citizens to change their course a cautionary tale to those around the world who idealise an America that never was and crucially a glimpse beyond the myth to a country whose best days could still lie ahead unique platform to present and discuss the latest developments regarding emerging BIM technologies and complementary issues for their adoption in the AEC FM industry Rallying Europe Katharina Seibert, Barnabas Balint, 2025-09-03 This book spotlights the trajectories of young women and men navigating the turmoil of the early twentieth century From the end of the First World War to the aftermath of the Second World War Europe witnessed fundamental changes in the social regimes that determined power distribution Against this backdrop of the struggle between democratic and authoritarian projects amid both war and fragile peace young people increasingly became a target of state legislation mass organizations and other institutions The authors of this collective volume approach the first half of the twentieth century through the lens of age and gender as interdependent categories of analysis In doing so they reveal how adult perceptions of youth and gender framed young men and women s lives as well as their roles in society The authors also explore how these perceptions collided with youth agency probing the specific age and gender related dynamics of empowerment and organization By focusing on the young actors and the institutional settings that limited their scope of action the authors contrast processes of wayward agency with institutionalized attempts to control and lead the young As such this book contributes to a global academic discussion on age gender the life cycle and intersectionality This book will be relevant for scholars and students in history sociology gender studies and youth studies It will also be of interest to those studying European history social movements and twentieth century political transitions The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of European Review of History Social Construction and Social Development in Contemporary China Xueyi Lu, 2020-01-22

 What is the social structure of Chinese society in the 21st century How should China address the problem of migrant workers How can China form a modern society These key sociological issues are some of the topics this book covers This book is a collection of the research articles and lectures that Dr Lu Xueyi the former Head of the Institute of Sociology at the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences has published since the 1980s The author discusses the social structure social stratification social construction and development of contemporary Chinese society Arguing that the gap between economic and social development has become the major social issue facing modern China the author advocates paying close attention to the country's social structure and the growth of the middle class The book will be of interest to all scholars and students of Sociology and Chinese Studies The Eagle's Voice Gary J. Maier, 2001 In researching a group of about fifty Indian effigy and conical mounds on the north shore of Lake Mendota at Madison Wisconsin Gary Maier came upon a new understanding of these structures which have been a source of wonder and puzzlement to Europeans since the 1830s In unearthing the meaning of the mounds as a form of earth writing Maier also learned much about himself This is as one reader said an exciting detective story a personal journey through the mounds that will have significant meaning for all readers In the Belly of a Laughing God Jennifer Andrews, Jennifer Courtney Elizabeth Andrews, 2011-01-01 In the Belly of a Laughing God examines how eight contemporary Native women poets in Canada and the United States employ humour and irony to address the intricacies of race gender and nationality Excavating Contractor , 1916
