Achaïos Evangelia Papadopoulou,Vassilis Chrysikopoulos,Gioulika Christakopoulou,2016-07-10 In Achaïos thirty five scholars from six different countries have contributed with thirty one papers as a small token of appreciation gratitude and affection to a true scholar who devoted his life studying and revealing the long journeys of the Mycenaeans and their culture

Death in Late Bronze Age Greece Joanne M. A. Murphy,2020-01-06 Late Bronze Age tombs in Greece and their attendant mortuary practices have been a topic of scholarly debate for over a century dominated by the idea of a monolithic culture with the same developmental trajectories throughout the region This book contributes to that body of scholarship by exploring both the level of variety and of similarity that we see in the practices at each site and thereby highlights the differences between communities that otherwise look very similar By bringing together an international group of scholars working on tombs and cemeteries on mainland Greece Crete and in the Dodecanese we are afforded a unique view of the development and diversity of these communities The papers provide a penetrative analysis of the related issues by discussing tombs connected with sites ranging in size from palaces to towns to villages and in date from the start to the end of the Late Bronze Age This book contextualizes the mortuary studies in recent debates on diversity at the main palatial and secondary sites and between the economic and political strategies and practices throughout Greece The papers in the volume illustrate the pervasive connection between the mortuary sphere and society through the creation and expression of cultural narratives and draw attention to the social tensions played out in the mortuary arena A - Airports British Library,2012-05-21 No detailed description available for A Airports

Todd,1989 Death in Mycenaean Lakonia (17th to 11th c. Mycenaean tombs and funerary contexts excavated and or simply reported in the region from the 19th century to present day. The book will discuss and reconstruct the emergence and development of the Mycenaean mortuary tradition in Lakonia by examining the landscape of death, the burial architecture, the funerary and post funerary customs and rituals and offering patterns over a longue dur e. The author proposes patterns of continuity from the Middle Bronze Age even the Early Bronze Age in terms of burial architecture to the LBA and equally important from the Late Bronze Age to the Early Iron Age and reconstructs diachronic processes of invention of tradition and identity in Mycenaean communities on the basis of tomb types and their material culture. The text highlights the social, political and economic history of Late Bronze Age Lakonia from the evolution of the Mycenaean civilisation and the establishment of palatial administration in the Spartan vale to the demise of Mycenaean culture and the turbulent post collapse centuries as reflected by the burial offerings. The book also brings to publication the chamber tombs at Epidavros Limera that remained largely unpublished since their excavation in the 1930s and 1950s. Epidavros Limera was one of the most important prehistoric coastal sites in prehistoric southern Greece, early 3rd to late 4th millennium BC and one of the main harbour towns of the Mycenaean administrative centres of central Lakonia. It is one of very few Mycenaean sites that flourished uninterruptedly from the emergence of the Mycenaean civilisation until after the collapse of the palatial administration and into the transition to the Early Iron Age. The present study of the funerary architecture and of the pottery from the tombs suggests that the site was responsible for the introduction of the chamber tomb type on the Greek mainland in the latest phase of the Middle Bronze Age, definitely no later than the transitional Middle Bronze Age Late Bronze Age period and not in the early phase of the Late Bronze Age Late Helladic I as previously assumed.
