Excavations In Jerusalem 1961-1967:

Excavations by K. M. Kenyon in Jerusalem 1961-1967 K. Prag, 2008-08-06 The fifth volume in the series of final reports on the work of the Joint Expedition to Jerusalem in the 1960s describes the discoveries made in six sites in the ancient city and places them in the archaeological and historical context of Jerusalem and the surrounding lands Among the most debated issues are the extent of the occupation of the city during the Iron Age the location of the southern defence line in Herodian and Roman times and the date of the destruction of an Umayyad palatial structure There is fresh information on the civic amenities of the southern half of the Byzantine city and on the structure of the Ottoman city defences built under Sulaiman the Magnificent in the sixteenth century Fine glazed pottery both locally made and imported and the wide range of materials reaching Jerusalem through trade and pilgrimage reflect elite patronage and the high status of the holy city under Islamic rule Excavations by Kathleen M. Kenyon in Jerusalem 1961-1967, Volume III M. L. Steiner, 1985-01-01 This publication is the last volume to appear of Dame Kathleen Kenyon's excavations in Jerusalem presenting the Bronze and Iron Age material It contains a stratigraphical analysis of the architectural remains a study of the pottery and an interpretation of the results The volume includes a reconstruction of the occupational history of the site currently a highly controversial issue using not only Kenyon's results but data from earlier and more recent published digs Excavations in Jerusalem, 1961-1967 A. D. Tushingham, 1985 Excavations in Jerusalem, 1961-1967: Sites on the edge of the Ophel A. D. Tushingham, 1985

Excavations by K.M. Kenyon in Jerusalem, 1961-1967 Joan Crowfoot Payne, 1995 Kathleen Kenyon died in 1978 without having published final reports on her excavations in Jerusalem These are being now published in five volumes This volume concentrates on finds outside the walls of the Iron Age city and particularly on the enigmatic pottery rich deposits in Caves I and II to the south east of the city Dame Kathleen Kenyon Miriam C Davis, 2016-09-16 Dame Kathleen Kenyon has always been a larger than life figure likely the most influential woman archaeologist of the 20th century In the first full length biography of Kenyon Miriam Davis recounts not only her many achievements in the field but also her personal side known to very few of her contemporaries Her public side is a catalog of major successes discovering the oldest city at Jericho with its amazing collection of plastered skulls untangling the archaeological complexities of ancient Jerusalem and identifying the original City of David participating in the discipline's most famous all woman excavation at Great Zimbabwe Her development with Sir Mortimer Wheeler of stratigraphic trenching methods has been universally emulated by archaeologists for over half a century Her private life her childhood as daughter of the director of the British Museum her accidental choice of a career in archaeology her working at bombed sites in London during the blitz and her solitary retirement to Wales are generally unknown Davis provides a balanced and illuminating picture of both the public Dame Kenyon and the private person Excavations by Kathleen M. reviewed scholarly journal published by the Center of Studies of Ancient Near Eastern History CEHAO Catholic University of Argentina Biblical Narratives, Archaeology and Historicity Emanuel Pfoh, Lukasz Niesiolowski-Spanò, 2019-11-14

This volume collects essays from an international body of leading scholars in Old Testament studies focused upon the key concepts of the question of historicity of biblical stories the archaeology of Israel Palestine during the Bronze and Iron Ages and the nature of biblical narratives and related literature As a celebration of the extensive body of Thomas L Thompson's work these essays enable a threefold perspective on biblical narratives Beginning with method the contributors discuss archaeology cultural memory epistemology and sociology of knowledge before moving to history historiography and archaeology and close analysis of the Qumran Writings Josephus and biblical rewritings Finally the argument turns to the narratives themselves exploring topics including the possibility of invented myth the genre of Judges and the depiction of Moses in the Qur'an Presenting an interdisciplinary analysis of the historical issues concerning ancient Israel Palestine this volume creates an updated body of reference to fifty years worth of scholarship History, Archaeology and The Bible Forty Years After Historicity Ingrid Hjelm, Thomas L. Thompson, 2016-02-22

In History Archaeology and the Bible Forty Years after Historicity Hjelm and Thompson argue that a crisis broke in the 1970s when several new studies of biblical history and archaeology were published questioning the historical critical method of biblical scholarship The crisis formed the discourse of the Copenhagen school's challenge of standing positions which together with new achievements in archaeological research demand that the regional history of ancient Israel Judaea and Palestine be reconsidered in all its detail This volume examines the major changes that have taken place within the field of Old Testament studies since the ground breaking works of Thomas Thompson and John van Seters in 1974 and 1975 both republished in 2014 The book is divided in three sections changing perspectives in biblical studies history and cult and ideology and history presenting new articles from some of the field's best scholars with comprehensive discussion of historical archaeological anthropological cultural and literary approaches to the Hebrew Bible and Palestine's history The essays question How does biblical history relate to the archaeological history of Israel and Palestine and Can we view the history of the region independently of a biblical perspective by looking at the problem from alternative angles and questioning long held interpretations Unafraid to break new ground History Archaeology and the Bible Forty Years after Historicity is a vital resource to students in the field of Biblical and East Mediterranean Studies and anyone with an interest in the archaeology history and religious development in Palestine and the ancient Near East Archaeology in the 'Land of Tells and Ruins' Bart Wagemakers, 2014-02-28

Recently a travel account and 700 photographs came to light by the hand of Leo Boer a former student of the cole Biblique et Archéologique Française in Jerusalem who at the age of 26 in 1953 visited many archaeological sites in the area of present day Israel and the Palestinian Territories These documents inspired 20 internationally renowned scholars many of whom excavated at the sites they describe to report on what we know today of nine particular sites chosen from the many that Leo

Boer visited 60 years ago Jerusalem Khirbet et Tell i Samaria Sebaste Tell Balata Shechem Tell es Sultan Jericho Khirbet Qumran Caesarea Megiddo and Beth Shean Rather than focusing on the history of these sites the contributors describe the history of the archaeological expeditions Who excavated these sites over the years What were the specific aims of their campaigns What techniques and methods did they use How did they interpret these excavations What finds were most noteworthy And finally what are the major misconceptions held by the former excavators Several themes are interwoven amongst the contributions and variously discussed such as identification of biblical sites regional surveys underwater archaeology archaeoethnology archaeology and politics archaeology and science and heritage management This unique collection of images and essays offers to scholars working in the region previously unpublished materials and interpretations as well as new photographs For students of archaeology ancient or Biblical history and theology it contains both a detailed archaeological historiography and explores some highly relevant specific themes Finally the superb quality of Boer's photography provides an unprecedented insight into the archaeological landscape of post war Palestine for anyone interested in Biblical history and archaeology and Ramat Ra el IV The Renewed Excavations by the Tel Aviv Heidelberg Expedition 2005 2010 Stratigraphy and Architecture by Oded Lipschits Mandred Oeming and Yuval Gadot Hezekiah in History and Tradition Robb Andrew Young, 2012-05-03 The Judean monarch Hezekiah remains one of the most significant figures in biblical studies For all of his greatness however there is little about him that may be stated with certainty This study provides a detailed reexamination of this enterprising ruler It commences with data outside the biblical text from Assyrian records and ancient Near Eastern archaeology which may be brought to bear in reconstructing the historical Hezekiah and subsequently proceeds to augment this picture based on his portrayal in the books of Kings First Isaiah and Chronicles Its focus is on those issues that either remain contentious in biblical scholarship or else have been resolved into a general consensus that needs to be called into question The Emergence of Yehud in the Persian Period Charles E. Carter, 1999-10-01 A long awaited and much needed comprehensive analysis of the material evidence concerning Persian period Judah Carter analyses the settlement pattern and population distribution of the province using both excavations and archaeological surveys His meticulous examination arrives at a rather low estimate of the population during this period on the basis of which he examines Yehud s socio economic setting and considers the implications of a small Yehud for some of the prominent theories concerning the province in the Persian period
