1945 1973 when unemployment was below one million when governments built millions of council houses and flats when electricity telephones and gas were supplied by nationalised monopolies when income and wealth inequality were narrowing and when the UK was not a member of the European Economic Community Moving through the inflation rising unemployment and rapid contraction of the manufacturing industry from the mid 1970s Changing Times examines the transfer of assets which was effected in the privatisation of public housing and nationalised industries from the early 1980s The role of the State changed as public investment fell The financing of old age care of state pensions and of the National Health Service became of increasing concern and were less politically amenable to the approach of using private finance the Private Finance Initiative and tuition fees to fund former public obligations Changes were made to the system of taxation but public expenditure changed little as a share of national income although the government now built little Difficulties emerged in ensuring adequate housing for a growing population and uncertainty grew as to where future investment in necessities like electricity supply would come from Having narrowed in the Golden Age inequality of income and wealth widened Environmental concerns also grew from the local smogs of the 1950s through the concern with acid rain from the 1960s to the current global concern with climate change The financial crash of 2008 and the decision to Brexit in the referendum of 2016 reduced economic growth and highlighted the extent of economic change since 1951 This is a study of that change

Economics, Volume 2: Modern Economic Problems Frank A. Fetter, 2020 Professor Fetter's Economic Principles is the second half of a two volume treatise on economics The first half Economic Principles deals with the basics The author of this volume is one of the great American economists His contributions to economic literature have been notable and while it would of course be too much to say that they have won universal acceptance it can safely be affirmed that they have quite generally been accorded respectful and sympathetic attention Professor Fetter occupies a place of distinction not only as a thinker and writer in the field of economics but also as a university teacher Several years ago he served also as President of the American Economic Association Few are better qualified therefore to prepare a general treatise on economics This volume constitutes the second part of a work dealing with the principles of economics which in some respects may be regarded as a revision of Professor Fetter's Principles of Economics published as a single volume But the treatment of the principles of value and distribution in volume I of the new work differs materially if not radically from that in the earlier text and at the same time as Professor Fetter himself remarks the years since have been so replete with interesting happenings in the field of practical problems that volume II represents more than a mere revision of the corresponding chapters in the earlier book Hence the present volumes taken together must be regarded as an essentially new contribution Considering the variety of economic problems that Professor Fetter discusses it seems extraordinary that he has been able to compress his treatment within the limits of a comparatively small book His success in this direction however has been due to his method of treatment While essential facts have not been neglected he has not attempted to give an encyclopedic description of all the elements involved in the several problems but he has confined himself rather to a setting forth of the points of principle involved in them suggesting in this connection the solutions which sound analysis and a healthy for as a writer it will appear superfluous to speak of style But for those who may not know let it be said that Professor Fetter writes with a nicety and clearness of expression and with a delicacy of touch and of humor that stamp him as a writer of the first class Elgar Encyclopedia of Energy Economics Angeliki Menegaki,2025-05-14 This prescient Encyclopedia outlines the breadth and depth of the burgeoning field of energy economics Entries cover a wide range of topics including traditional and renewable energy sources environmental impacts energy efficiency market structures and the economic implications of energy transitions This title contains one or more Open Access chapters Readings in Advertising, Society, and Consumer Culture Roxanne Hovland,Joyce M. Wolburg,Eric E. Haley,2014-12-18 This collection of classic and contemporary articles provides context for the study of advertising by exploring the historical economic and ideological factors that spawned the development of a consumer culture It begins with articles that take an institutional and historical perspective to provide background for approaching the social and ethical concerns that evolve around advertising Subsequent sections then address the legal and economic consequences of life in a material culture the regulation of advertising in a culture that weighs free speech against the needs of society and the ethics of promoting materialism to consumers The concluding section includes links to a variety of resources such as trade association codes of ethics standards and guidelines for particular types of advertising and information about self regulatory organizations Handbook of Agricultural Economics ,2022-06-29 Handbook of Agricultural Economics Volume Six highlights new advances in the field with this new release exploring comprehensive chapters written by an international board of authors who discuss topics such as The Economics of Food Loss and Waste Empowering Communities Using an Integrated Design of Food Networks Concentration in Food and Agricultural Markets Agriculture and trade Producers Consumers and Value Chains in Developing Countries The Multiple Burdens of Malnutrition Dietary Transition and Food System Transformation in Economic Development Psychophysiological Measures and Consumer Food Choice and The Economics of Health and Nutrition Related Food Policies The Effects on the Public Health and Malnutrition Presents the latest release in the Handbook of Agricultural Economics Written and contributed by leaders in the field Covers topics such as Economics on Food Loss and Waste Integrated Design of Food Networks Agriculture and Trade and more El-Hi Textbooks in Print ,1977 Pluralist Readings in Economics: Key Concepts and Policy Tools for the 21st Century Maria Alejandra Madi,2017-06-15 The era of globalization has brought about unprecedented social political and environmental challenges for policy makers around the world due to the global impact of economic decisions In view of these challenges economics as a discipline needs to be taught with the goal of broadening the dialogue on social responsibility and developing a new pluralist culture of decision making which is inclusive to different schools of economic thought Pluralist Readings in Economics Key concepts and policy tools for the 21st century highlights the long standing debates regarding economic systems business models criteria of justice and economic policies by providing conceptual openings to economic theory in an engaging and accessible way The author provides broad coverage of relevant topics through the selection of influential economic thinkers and introduces the reader to their ideas context and relevant interpretations While dealing with complex problems the author goes beyond commonly known concepts by presenting questions on the historical context of globalization The study of economic concepts in this way leads to asking new questions concerning various issues relevant to economics The goal of the text is to provide an interdisciplinary perspective to readers in order to equip them with information that is key to address global economic challenges Thus this pluralist approach calls for a reflection of the evolution of global social and economic conditions to demonstrate problem solving approaches that align with the goal of addressing these challenges Pluralist Readings in Economics Key concepts and policy tools for the 21st century is suitable to a broad interdisciplinary readership as it will benefit all those who seek to better understand the complex stakes of the capitalist system in the tensions between regulatory policies free market equilibria and participatory openings in governance This introductory work also prepares the reader for debates and discussion in economic theory aimed at shaping policy transformations towards a more equitable just and sustainable world 1974 Annual Supplement Joan Schmitz Bergholt, 2013-12-21 National Security Seminar; Background Readings Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.), 1971 Industrial Arts Index, 1923 The United States Catalog, 1928 Socio-Economics: An Interdisciplinary Approach Beat Bürgenmeier, 2012-12-06 This book is intended as a warning against the kind of hard core liberalism which blames state intervention for the disappointing results achieved in matters of macroeconomic competition and social welfare policy In calling attention to the social dimension of economics the book stresses the need for an ethical yardstick which can only be provided by an interdisciplinary approach to the economy One current school of thought claims to have bridged the gap by portraying economics as both positive and normative However this interpretation is inadequate The positive aspect of economics reflecting an approach common in the natural sciences is based on observable facts It highlights causal relationships and seeks to analyse economic mechanisms on the basis of available information This has led to an emphasis on purely deductive methods which form the basis for many of the conclusions in mainstream economics This current of thought is typified by the neoclassical school which takes as its main premise the much disputed hypothesis of economic rationality Human behaviour is deemed to be rational when consumers maximize their satisfaction and producers their profits subject to the constraints of income and production costs respectively Optimal strategies for both consumers and producers can best be determined by the mechanism of market forces Public Policy: Politics, Analysis, and Alternatives, 4th Edition Michael E. Kraft, Scott R. Furlong, 2013 All too often public policy textbooks offer a basic grounding in the policy process without the benefit of integrating the use of policy analysis Kraft and Furlong since their first edition take a different tack They want students to understand how and why policy analysis is used to assess policy alternatives not only to question the assumptions of policy analysts but to recognize how analysis is used in support of political arguments To encourage critical and creative thinking on issues ranging from the financial bailout to rising gas prices to natural disasters the authors introduce and fully integrate an evaluative approach to policy Public Policy starts with a concise review of institutions policy actors and major theoretical models The authors then discuss the nature of policy analysis and its practice and show students how to employ evaluative criteria in six substantive policy areas Public Policy arms students with analytic tools they need to understand the motivations of policy actors both within and outside of government influence a complex yet comprehensible policy agenda Enhancements to the 4th edition All chapters have been comprehensively updated to include recent events issues and policy debates including the conduct of the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq the use of private contractors for military support and operations the rising cost of gasoline and disputes over energy policy and climate change the controversy over immigration policy requirements for financial regulation heightened concerns over economic and social inequality and the clash over reforming taxes and entitlement programs as well as dealing with the federal deficit and national debt New and updated working with sources and steps to analysis features help students investigate sources of information and apply evaluative criteria New and updated end of chapter discussion questions suggested readings and web sites
