development issues labor studies and sociology Economics and Morality Society for Economic Anthropology (U.S.). Meeting, 2009 In Economics and Morality the authors seek to illuminate the multiple kinds of analyses relating morality and economic behavior in particular kinds of economic systems Ecology, Sustainable Development and Accounting Seleshi Sisaye, 2015-08-11 Accounting literature has viewed sustainability in terms of social economic and environmental performances There have been concerns that the relationship between sustainability accounting and organizational performance cannot be explained unless we can deduce patterns of administrative behaviour that chronicle management practices Ecology Sustainable Development and Accounting argues that despite the broader social and economic development dimensions of sustainability and the limitations of its extension to corporate and organizational behaviour an ecological framework is capable of providing the overall societal and community chronologies that describe corporate sustainable operations Drawing examples from international development and federal government organizations this book documents the link between ecology corporate sustainable development and sustainability accounting and reporting It draws together the literature from several disciplines to elaborate the contribution of the ecological approach to sustainable development in the accounting literature This book will be of particular interest to students academics and practitioners in the areas of environmental studies ecological economics sustainable development studies and social and environmental accounting The sociological and anthropological perspectives make this book the first of its kind to apply the population ecology of sociology to both the sustainability and accounting literature Migration and Economy Lillian Trager, 2005-10-13 Trager and her coauthors focus on migration not as a single event but as a dynamic process that responds to and is shaped by broader economic cultural and social forces Individual essays consider issues of international and internal migration of voluntary migration and forced movements due to civil conflicts and environmental degradation and of macro level forces and micro level institutions The authors investigate a wide variety of types of mobility describe transnational and multilocal networks through which remittances and other flows take place focus on migrants as active agents and examine the impacts of ethnicity and assimilation They offer original studies on Mexico Puerto Rico West Africa Kazakhstan and Mozambique This new volume will be a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners in development anthropology migration studies and international planning and policy Introducing Anthropological Economics Sujay Rao Mandavilli, This paper attempts to merge the concepts and theoretical frameworks of the disciplines of Anthropology and Economics and attempts to create a new sub field in Economics called Anthropological Economics which is mired in Anthropological concepts and principles and seeks to maximize not only human welfare and happiness but also wealth maximization across cultures while considering both the psychic unity of man universal human needs and culture specific factors Thus Anthropological Economics is expected to be inter related to other disciplines of Economics but remain complementary to them i e it is not expected that it will intrude into other sub fields of economics replace them or override their principles in any way It will therefore draw upon other aspects of economic theory and enrich them suitably It is therefore expected that all aspects of Economic theory will be taken into consideration for policy formulation and decision making including those of Anthropological economics and independent context specific judgment will always be applied The new proposed field of Anthropological Economics proposes to take the idea of Human Welfare to its logical conclusion by extending the work already carried out in various sub disciplines of economics and integrating it more tightly with various concepts in Anthropology Many new tools and techniques are therefore proposed as a part of this paper and we believe these will suitably enrich the field of Economics as well While many attempts have been made in the past to integrate the fields of Anthropology and Economics we hope this endeavour will take this exercise to a much higher level by creating a new generation of Anthroeconomists We also hope it will eventually help move mainstream economics away from Neo classical approaches to Anthropological and human centric approaches

Equity and Efficiency in Economic Development Benjamin Howard Higgins,1992 Argues that the collapse of Eastern European socialism may favour ideological convergence between divergent economic systems and lead to blend of market and planned systems capable to deal with the varying conditions of diverse societies

Mutatkar, 2020-01-01 This book offers a perspective about addressing the issues and concerns of the people of India through an anthropological lens. The contradiction and conflict about Anthropology as a knowledge system and as an academic discipline in the university system in India with demands made to analyse national issues and offer implementable recommendations are discussed giving empirical examples as experienced by the author as Practicing Anthropology. Constitution of India representing the aspirations of the people has opened the flood gates of demands from Anthropology to play a leading role in ensuring human development with human dignity. Addressing the issues of poverty and development, social and economic discrimination and deprivation, health and disease, food security, gender equality form the agenda of anthropology in collaboration with natural and social sciences and with the humanities. The concept of Holism has to incorporate the Emic, Etic, Macro, Micro perspectives to address the policies at national level for effective people-centric, result-oriented implementation at local level. Plurality, Diversity, Human Rights, Inter sectoral co-ordination, Think Globally, Act Locally are rooted in anthropological theory. The book attempts to discuss this post-colonial anthropological paradigm Key Thinkers on Development David Simon, 2019-04-02 Since its publication in 2006 as Fifty Key Thinkers on Development, this invaluable reference has established itself as the leading biographical handbook in its field, providing a concise and accessible introduction to the lives and key contributions of development thinkers from across the ideological and disciplinary spectrum. Development in Tatarstan Leo McCann,2004-08-02 Based on extensive original research in the Republic of Tatarstan in the Central Volga region of Russia this book examines the economic development path followed by Tatarstan since the collapse of the Soviet Union and the Russian financial crash of 1998 It argues that the roles of global capitalism and globalisation are somewhat exaggerated in much contemporary academic literature. In the case of Tatarstan, a strong state role, tightly knit local elite networks and the inheritance of the Soviet political and industrial systems are the most important socio-economic formations in explaining the region's development.
