Effects Of Environmental Hazards And Regulation On Urban Redevelopment:

Effects of Environmental Hazards & Regulation on Urban Redevelopment Christopher Walker, 1998-11 The Effects of Environmental Hazards and Regulation on Urban Redevelopment, 1998 The Effects of Environmental Hazards and Regulation on Urban Development Urban Institute, 1998 Effects of Environmental Hazards and Regulation on Urban Redevelopment, The U S Department of Housing and Urban Development HUD presents information on a report entitled The Effects of Environmental Hazards and Regulation on Urban Redevelopment published in February 1998 The report discusses how brownfields impede the revitalization of distressed communities and ways to overcome these impediments Brownfields are vacant or underused industrial sites with environmental contamination caused by chemical compounds and other hazardous substances Land Use Institute, Planning, Regulation, Litigation, Eminent Domain, and Compensation, 2010 HUD's "Legislative Guidebook" and Its Potential Impact on Property Rights and Small Businesses, Including Minority-owned Businesses United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on the Constitution, 2002 Brownfields, Risk-Based Corrective Action, and Local Communities Peter B. Meyer, 2011-04 Addresses the problems facing communities that suffer both environmental risks from past contamination and depressed economic activity In such settings redevelopment of contaminated sites and the associated economic development may require compromised standards for environmental mitigation But partial cleanups can be shown to face inevitable failure at some future date Thus in such an approach communities face risks that they should be capable of accepting or rejecting The study considers these risks and assesses 4 alternative land use control strategies for assuring community participation in making decisions about both the cleanup process today and the response to risks of failure in the future Illus This is a print on demand report

Hazardous Substances & Public Health, 1996 Valuing Complex Natural Resource Systems Anna Alberini, Paolo Rosato, Margherita Turvani, 2006 In complex natural resource systems modifications or disruptions tend to affect many and diverse components of the ecological system settlements and groups of people This book uses the Lagoon of Venice a unique natural resource wildlife habitat centre of cultural heritage and recreational site as an example of one such system that has been heavily affected by human activities including the harvesting of natural resources and industrial production The contributors explore the Lagoon's potential for regeneration examining public policies currently under consideration The aim of these policies is to restore island coastlines and marshes fish stocks habitat and environmental quality defend morphology and landscape through the strict control of fishing practices and to protect the islands from high tides Various market and non market approaches placing a monetary value on environmental quality changes are then analysed by the contributors They offer novel and creative applications of non market valuation techniques for the Lagoon and even outline the trade offs that Lagoon users and parties interested in redeveloping contaminated sites are prepared to make between their own profits and policy offerings or demands This unique and fascinating book will strongly appeal to students researchers and academics with an interest in natural resources valuation and management environmental economics and applied benefit cost analysis
