Curiosity and the Aesthetics of Travel-Writing, 1770-1840 Nigel Leask, 2002-01-10 The decades between 1770 and 1840 are rich in exotic accounts of the ruin strewn landscapes of Ethiopia Egypt India and Mexico Yet it is a field which has been neglected by scholars and which unjustifiably remains outside the literary canon In this pioneering book Nigel Leask studies the Romantic obsession with these antique lands drawing generously on a wide range of eighteenth and nineteenth century travel books as well as on recent scholarship in literature history geography and anthropology Viewing the texts primarily as literary works rather than transparent adventure stories or documentary sources he sets out to challenge the tendency in modern academic work to overemphasize the authoritative character of colonial discourse Instead he addresses the relationship between narrative aesthetics and colonialism through the unstable discourse of antiquarianism exploring the effects of problems of creditworthiness and the nebulous epistemological claims of curiosity a leitmotif of the accounts studied here on the contemporary status of travel writing Attentive to the often divergent idioms of elite and popular exoticism Curiosity and the Aesthetics of Travel Writing plots the transformation of the travelogue through the period as the baroque particularism of curiosity was challenged by picturesque aesthetics systematic geographical narrative and the emergence of a transcendental self axiomatic to Romantic culture In so doing it offers an important reformulation of the relations between literature aesthetics and empire in the late Enlightenment and Romantic periods

Ancient Egyptian Animal Fables Jennifer Miyuki Babcock, 2022-06-08 One group of ancient Egyptian drawings has captured the curiosity of scholars and laypeople alike images of animals acting like people They illustrate animal fables originally from a larger mythological narrative making them an integral part of New Kingdom Thebes's religious environment This book examines the purpose of animal fables drawing cross cultural and temporal comparisons to other storytelling and artistic traditions This publication is also the first thorough art historical treatment of the ostraca and papyri The drawings iconography and aesthetic value are carefully examined providing further nuance to our understanding of ancient Egyptian art Contemporary Art and the Display of Ancient Egypt Alice Stevenson, 2025-01-16 Artistic interventions are now a popular means of delivering fresh perspectives on museum displays including in galleries devoted to ancient Egypt Installations are commonly said to put the past and present into dialogue with each other offering external critical voices on the work of decolonisation Contemporary Art and the Display of Ancient Egypt argues that the contemporary and the ancient do not necessarily inform each other Instead they are mediated by and mediations of the museum that produces them Rather than explore how contemporary artists have been inspired by Egypt this book examines how they have shaped the language and discourse around study of the Egyptian past by looking at the wider field of public display in which both have been historically situated Building on this critical history of practice the book draws from experiments in bringing contemporary artistic sculptures conceptual pieces multimedia films sounds smells and performances into galleries at the British Museum in London the Egyptian Museum in Turin and the State Museum of Egyptian Art in Munich These are used to explore what contemporary art does in these spaces the motivations for inviting artists in and the legacies of those interventions It ends with a reflection on how academics and curators can be involved in the creative process and how artists contribute to academic research Praise for Contemporary Art and the Display of Ancient Egypt This is an important and innovative study on the recent history of incorporating art installations in galleries of Egyptian antiquities Offering a thoughtful critical analysis of the ways in which contemporary art and ancient artefacts are juxtaposed in museum settings the book calls for a more nuanced and politically engaged practice of collaboration between artists and Egyptologists Stephanie Moser

University of Southampton Archaeologist Alice Stevenson provides a thoughtful consideration of the goals and intent behind contemporary art interventions in exhibitions of ancient Egyptian art. She challenges the curators, scholars, and museum professionals who design these exhibitions to move beyond the simplistic ancient art/contemporary art juxtaposition and instead use contemporary art interventions to create spaces for both artistic and academic insight and inspiration. I look forward to such dialogue.

Kara Cooney, UCLA Egyptian Revival Omar Khalil, The fascination with Ancient Egypt has influenced architectural and artistic movements for centuries, culminating in what is known as the Egyptian Revival. This movement, characterized by its adaptation of ancient Egyptian motifs, emerged in response to rediscoveries of Egypt's past. The revival gained traction during the 18th and 19th centuries, driven by archaeological discoveries, historical curiosity, and a growing appreciation for non-European artistic traditions. One of the key moments that ignited interest in Ancient Egypt was Napoleon Bonaparte's Egyptian campaign (1798-1801). This military expedition was not just an act of conquest but also a scientific endeavor that brought scholars, artists, and historians to document Egypt's ancient ruins. The most significant outcome of this campaign was the publication of the Description de l'Égypte, a comprehensive collection of illustrations and studies that introduced Europe to the architectural grandeur of Egypt. The discovery of the Rosetta Stone in 1799 further fueled this fascination, as it eventually led to the deciphering of Egyptian hieroglyphics, allowing deeper insights into the civilization's history and culture. The widespread enthusiasm for Ancient Egypt in the early 19th century gave rise to what historians call Egyptomania. This cultural phenomenon influenced literature, fashion, decorative arts, and architecture. Egyptian imagery, including sphinxes, obelisks, and pyramidal forms, began to appear in European cityscapes. The influence was particularly noticeable in monumental architecture, where designers sought to capture the imposing and symbolic nature of ancient Egyptian structures. The fascination with Egypt was further fueled by colonial expansion, as European powers took a vested interest in the region's antiquities.

Nefer Willie Cannon-Brown, 2007-11-21. This book provides an original treatment of the concept of good and beauty in ancient Egypt. It seeks to examine the dimensions of nefer, the term used to describe the good and the beautiful within the context of ordinary life. Because the book is based upon original research on ancient Egypt, it opens up space for a review of the aesthetics of other African societies in the Nile Valley. Thus, it serves as a heuristic for further research and scholarship.

The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology Ian Shaw, Elizabeth Bloxam, 2020. The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology offers a comprehensive survey of the entire study of ancient Egypt, from prehistory through to the end of the Roman period. Transcending conventional boundaries between archaeological and ancient textual analysis and bringing together 63 chapters that range widely across the various archaeological, philological, and cultural sub-disciplines, authored by recognized experts in their respective fields, it highlights the extent to which the discipline has diversified and stresses the need for it to seek multidisciplinary methods and broader collaborations if it is to remain contemporary and relevant. Authoritative yet accessible, it is an invaluable resource for scholars, students, and general readers.

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird, Christina Ionescu, 2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends

fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into something else when it is placed in a new locale
