Pedro Lorente,2016-03-03 Where how by whom and for what were the first museums of contemporary art created These are the key questions addressed by J Pedro Lorente in this new book In it he explores the concept and history of museums of contemporary art and the shifting ways in which they have been imagined and presented Following an introduction that sets out the historiography and considering questions of terminology the first part of the book then examines the paradigm of the Mus e des Artistes Vivants in Paris and its equivalents in the rest of Europe during the nineteenth century The second part takes the story forward from 1930 to the present presenting New York s Museum of Modern Art as a new universal role model that found emulators or contramodels in the rest of the Western world during the twentieth century An epilogue reviews recent museum developments in the last decades Through its adoption of a long term worldwide perspective the book not only provides a narrative of the development of museums of contemporary art but also sets this into its international perspective By assessing the extent to which the great museum capitals Paris London and New York in particular created their own models of museum provision as well as acknowledging the influence of such models elsewhere the book uncovers fascinating perspectives on the practice of museum provision and reveals how present cultural planning initiatives have often been shaped by historical uses      Modernists and Mavericks Martin Gayford,2018-06-12 Martin Gayford s masterful account of painting in London from the Second World War to the 1970s illustrated by documentary photographs and the works themselves The development of painting in London from the Second World War to the 1970s has never before been told before as a single narrative R B Kitaj s proposal made in 1976 that there was a substantial School of London was essentially correct but it caused confusion because it implied that there was a movement or stylistic group at work when in reality no one style could cover the likes of Francis Bacon and also Bridget Riley Modernists and Mavericks explores this period based on an exceptionally deep well of firsthand interviews

often unpublished with such artists as Victor Pasmore John Craxton Lucian Freud Frank Auerbach Allen Jones R B Kitaj Euan Uglow Howard Hodgkin Terry Frost Gillian Ayres Bridget Riley David Hockney Frank Bowling Leon Kossoff John Hoyland and Patrick Caulfield But Martin Gayford also teases out the thread weaving these individual lives together and demonstrates how and why long after it was officially declared dead painting lived and thrived in London Simultaneously aware of the influences of Jackson Pollock Giacometti and through the teaching passed down at the major art school the traditions of Western art from Piero della Francesca to Picasso and Matisse the postwar painters were bound by their confidence that this ancient medium could do fresh and marvelous things and explored in their diverse ways the possibilities of paint Eight
