Framing the Race in South Africa Karen E. Ferree, 2010-11-15 Post apartheid South African elections have borne an unmistakable racial imprint Africans vote for one set of parties whites support a different set of parties and with few exceptions there is no crossover voting between groups These voting tendencies have solidified the dominance of the ruling African National Congress ANC over South African politics and turned South African elections into racial censuses This book explores the political sources of these outcomes It argues that although the beginnings of these patterns lie in South Africa's past in the effects apartheid had on voters beliefs about race and destiny and the reputations parties forged during this period the endurance of the census reflects the ruling party's ability to use the powers of office to prevent the opposition from evolving away from its apartheid era party label By keeping key opposition parties white the ANC has rendered them powerless solidifying its hold on power in spite of an increasingly restive and dissatisfied electorate

Marriages of Inconvenience Susan Booysen, 2021-12-12 Marriages of Inconvenience The politics of coalitions in South Africa is a research based volume that collates and interprets lessons that South Africa should take to heart in managing interparty coalitions It draws from domestic experiences as well as from case studies on the rest of the African continent and generic instances further afield Coalitions in various iterations have been a part of the South African polity since the attainment of democracy in 1994 This started nationally with a grand coalition in the form of a Government of National Unity as mandated in the interim constitution Coalitions have also found expression in some of the country's provinces After the transition multiparty governments were sustained at national and provincial levels either as a matter of necessity due to election outcomes or for other political considerations At local government level coalitions have been relatively commonplace in South Africa from the onset of democratically elected municipalities in 2000 with many situations where no single party attained an absolute majority This gained prominence from 2016 when many metropolitan governments and some large towns became sites of coalition politics

South Africa's Insurgent Citizens Doctor Julian Brown, 2015-07-15 Twenty years on from South Africa's first democratic election the post apartheid political order is more fractured and more fractious than ever before Police violence seems the order of the day whether in response to a protest in

Ficksburg or a public meeting outside a mine in Marikana For many this has signalled the end of the South African dream Politics they declare is the preserve of the corrupt the self interested the incompetent and the violent They are wrong Julian Brown argues that a new kind of politics can be seen on the streets and in the courtrooms of the country This politics is made by a new kind of citizen one that is neither respectful nor passive but instead insurgent The collapse of the dream of a consensus politics is not a cause for despair South Africa s political order is fractured and in its cracks new forms of activity new leaders and new movements are emerging

Institutions, Ethnicity, and Political Mobilization in South Africa J. Piombo, 2009-08-03 An investigation of post apartheid South Africa which is notable for a history of politicized ethnicity a complicated network of ethnic groups and for an expectation that ethnic violence would follow the 1994 political transition that did not occur following democratization

Reflections on the 2019 South African General Elections Joleen Steyn Kotze, Narnia Bohler-Muller, 2020-12-18 Reflections on the 2019 South African General Elections is a critical reflection on the key lessons of Elections 2019 in South Africa focusing on the future of the country s electoral democracy The volume engages questions on land election campaigns voter turnout voter apathy and how opposition parties will be forced to co exist in the context of declining electoral dominance the ANC once comfortably held An important reflection on the lessons of the 2019 South African General Elections the contributors ask Quo Vadis South Africa The 2019 General Elections marked a watershed in South Africa s political landscape The ANC under the banner of a narrative of regeneration and getting back on the moral path dipped below the 60 % mark for the first time in South Africa s democratic history This decline in electoral support for the party may be interpreted as a degeneration of the ANC through the loss of its moral stature the erosion of its integrity and disillusionment with its performance as a governing party Opposition political parties could not capitalise on this seeming disillusionment with the ruling ANC Caught in their own factional battles and in the midst of corruption scandals opposition parties were unable to successfully increase their share of the vote and capture the undecided and disillusioned voter Considering the future of South Africa s electoral democracy at 25 years of democracy Reflections on the 2019 South African General Elections will be of great interest to scholars of African Studies South Africa Governance and Elections The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Politikon South African Journal of Political Studies

Political Science in South Africa Peter Vale, Pieter Fourie, 2016-01-13 In 2013 and in 2014 respectively the South African Association of Political Studies SAAPS and Politikon the South African Journal of Political Studies celebrate their 40th anniversary Also in April 2014 South Africa celebrates twenty years since the advent of the post Apartheid democracy and the birth of the rainbow nation This book provides a timely account of the birth and evolution of South African politics over the past four decades but also of the study of Political Science and International Relations in this country Fourteen political scientists contribute chapters to this volume situating the study of politics within its global context and recounting the development of politics as a field of study at South African universities The fourteen contributions evaluate the state of the discipline s and suggest conclusions that are surprising and in many instances unsettling not only with regards to what and how politics is taught but also how its study has variously gained and lost pertinence for South Africans understanding of their own polity as well as its place in the world The implications are uncomfortable and pose interesting challenges for South African scholarship pedagogy and national self reflection This book was published as a special issue of Politikon Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M. Anne Pitcher, 2012-05-07 In Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africa's Democracies M Anne Pitcher offers an engaging new theory to explain the different trajectories of private sector development across contemporary Africa Pitcher argues that the outcomes of economic reforms depend not only on the kinds of institutional arrangements adopted by states in order to create or expand their private sectors but also on the nature of party system competition and the quality of democracy in particular countries To illustrate her claim Pitcher draws on several original data sets covering twenty seven countries in Africa and detailed case studies of the privatization process in Zambia Mozambique and South Africa This study underscores the importance of formal institutions and political context to the design and outcome of economic policies in developing countries

Press Freedom in Africa Herman Wasserman, 2013-09-13 This book gives an overview of current debates surrounding press freedom in Africa in response to ongoing contestations between media and governments on the continent Through case studies of individual African countries as well as international comparisons a wide range of global contributors provide critical assessments of the state of press freedom on the continent and critical perspectives on the dominant discourses around freedom and democracy Some fear an alarming slide towards a media intolerant environment in South Africa and the proposed Media Appeals Tribunal and the Protection of State Information Bill POSIB have met with strong criticism from journalism practitioners and educators This book examines these and other recent developments seen to represent a threat to press freedom on the African continent Contributors to the volume take a comparative look at the situation in South Africa within a broader global context of transitions to democracy and globalised marketization of the media as well as inspecting specific African examples that may serve to illuminate broader trends Case studies from different African countries are examined but in the process the discourses around press freedom are also subjected to critical scrutiny Critics state that the South African media are not without fault and that part of journalism scholarship s role is to continue to point to these shortcomings and to suggest ways of improving the media s democratic responsibility Press Freedom in Africa provides a range of perspectives on the heated debates surrounding press freedom It illustrates the importance of research based scholarly interventions into the often emotional and rhetorical debates surrounding the role of the media in African society This book was originally published as a special issue of Ecquid Novi African Journalism Studies Elections and TV News in South Africa Bernadine Jones, 2021-08-02 This book takes television news seriously Over the course of nine chapters Elections and TV News in South Africa shows how six democratic South African general elections 1994 2019 were represented on both local and international news broadcasts It reveals the shifting narratives about South African democracy coupled with changing and challenging political journalism practices The book is organised in three parts the first contains a history of South African democracy and an overview of the South African media environment The second part is a visual analysis of the South African elections on television news exploring portrayals of violence security power and populism and how these fit into normative news values and the ruling party's tightening grip on the media The final part is a conclusion a call to action and a suggestion to improve political journalistic practice Routledge Handbook of Political Advertising Christina Holtz-Bacha, Marion R. Just, 2017-02-24 This Handbook provides the most comprehensive overview of the role of electoral advertising on television and new forms of advertising in countries from all parts of the world currently available Thematic chapters address advertising effects negative ads the perspective of practitioners and gender role Country chapters summarize research on issues including political and electoral systems history of ads the content of ads reception and effects of ads regulation of political advertising on television and the Internet financing political advertising and prospects for the future The Handbook confirms that candidates spend the major part of their campaign budget on television advertising The US enjoys a special situation with almost no restrictions on electoral advertising whereas other countries have regulation for the time amount and sometimes even the content of electoral advertising or they do not allow television advertising at all The role that television advertising plays in elections is dependent on the political the electoral and the media context and can generally be regarded as a reflection of the political culture of a country The Internet is relatively unregulated and is the channel of the future for political advertising in many countries Democratization in Africa Larry Diamond, Marc F. Plattner, 2010-03-29 Weiss Christopher Wyrod Daniel J Young African Politics Joelen Pretorius, 2008 In 1991 Samuel Huntington published The Third Wave Democratisation in the Late Twentieth Century The book informed much of the scholarly work on democratisation in Africa Although comprehensive in classifying the causes and limitations of transitions to democracy The Third Wave was also limited in its definition of democracy and expectations of a new democracy This volume engages with the topics of democracy and democratisation in contemporary African politics at the local national and continental level It acknowledges a conceptual debt to Huntington when discussing elections party systems leadership and the development of continental norms of liberal democracy but also highlights new conversations eg about participatory spaces that go beyond the Third Wave Democracy and Social Peace in Divided Societies M. Bogaards, 2014-06-24 This unique comparative study examines minority representation and powersharing in Canada Kenya South Africa Fiji India Malaysia and Yugoslavia Presenting a new concept of the consociational party Bogaards explores how diversity differs within parties and why it matters for social peace and democracy      Local Elections in South Africa Susan Booysen, 2012-05-01

The book's collection of research and analyses aims to close a substantial gap in systematic analyses of local politics elections and government in South Africa. This book's 20 authors represent the perspectives of many of South Africa's most accomplished scholars. The collective project sheds valuable light on the local the heart of politics in South Africa.

Perspectives on Political Communication in Africa Bruce Mutsaers, Beschara Karam, 2018-02-27 This edited collection is a cutting edge volume that reframes political communication from an African perspective. Focusing on sub-Saharan Africa and occasionally drawing comparisons with other regions of the world, this book critically addresses the development of the field, focusing on the current opportunities and challenges within the African context. By using a wide variety of case studies that include Mozambique, Zambia, Rwanda, Zimbabwe, Ghana, Kenya, Uganda, South Africa, Ivory Coast, and Nigeria, the collection gives space to previously understudied regions of sub-Saharan Africa and challenges the over-reliance of western scholarship on political communication on the continent.
