Evidence For The Patrolman:

Evidence for the Patrolman Floyd Nicholas Heffron, 1958 This text is intended to supply the patrolman with the knowledge necessary to assist both the prosecutor and the expert as well as to help himself in successful investigations and prosecutions It is prepared with the thought of providing him with the information necessary to properly perform any assignment he is given to protect the evidence for proper examination and presentation and to prepare himself for advancement in his chosen field Little space will be devoted to the scientific examination of evidence as much has been written in that field and may be used as a supplemental study if desired It is hoped that those who read this text will be better informed as to how to handle evidence and therefore be more successful in the prosecution of cases to which they have been assigned Police Traffic Services: Student study guide Dunlap and Associates, Inc, 1972 Evidence for the Patrolman Floyd N. Heffron, 1972 Report on Police United States. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, 1973 Police United States. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals, 1973 This report provides suggestions for overall improvement in delivery of police services for greater protection against crime The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals considers the patrolman the primary force in reducing and preventing crime and thus directs its report recommendations toward increasing police effectiveness Suggestions for improvements in police functions are presented in the areas of community planning and organization technology and support services fiscal management and coordination with other criminal justice agencies These proposals appear in the form of more than 120 specific standards and recommendations that spell out where why and how these improvements can and should be made in the police segment of the criminal justice system Report on police is a reference work for the practitioner patrolman to police chief as well as for the interested layman Before implementing any of the changes advocated police departments are advised to detail the legal limits of police authority and develop guidelines for the exercise of that authority In order to improve cooperation between the police and the community it is suggested that police agencies establish a specialized unit for maintaining communication with citizens Each police department should encourage and participate in neighborhood security programs and establish procedures to facilitate processing of complaints Suggestions for more effective utilization of manpower include continued consolidation stricter personnel requirements increased employee benefits and the employment of more women minorities and civilians in police work Patrolman's Manual, Bureau of Police, City of Philadelphia Philadelphia (Pa.). Bureau of Police, 1913 The New York Supplement , 1921 Police Training and Performance Study George P. Supreme Judicial Court,1925 Annual Report of the Civil Service Commissioners of the City of Chicago Chicago (Ill.). Civil Service Commission,1906 The Southwestern Reporter ,1903 Corrections United States. National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals,1973 The Commission recommends specific standards in pursuit of the achievement of six major goals for the improvement of the American correctional system The American correctional system today appears to offer minimum protection for the public and maximum harm to the offender The National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals in its report on corrections has proposed about 140 standards designed to change that situation The standards spell out in detail where why how and what improvements can and should be made in the corrections segment of the criminal justice system This report is a reference work for the correctional professional as well as for the interested layman Among its goals the commission urges that disparities in sentencing be removed and justice in corrections be upheld by measures guaranteeing offenders rights during and after incarceration The scope of corrections can and should be narrowed by diverting many juveniles and sociomedical cases alcoholics drug addicts prostitutes and the mentally disturbed to noncorrectional treatment programs and by decriminalizing certain minor offenses such as public drunkenness and vagrancy Another goal states that probation should become the standard criminal sentence retaining confinement chiefly for dangerous offenders and releasing a majority of offenders to improved and extended community based programs Corrections should undergo a planned integration into the total criminal justice system with each state unifying all correctional functions and programs for adults and juveniles within its executive branch Reports of Cases Decided in the Court of Appeals of the State of New York New York (State).
