Evolutionary Change Aron Katsenelinboigen, 2019-06-07 Originally published in 1997 Evolutionary Change addresses the somatic mechanism of change Although astounding advances in molecular biology have opened up new engineering possibilities to shape our future in terms of improving the human species as well as eradicating all kinds of pathological characteristics of biological development these possibilities pose potentially serious dangers They arise primarily from the local nature of changes that are introduced and the impact of the environment on the overall development of the biological system The book explores the biological mechanisms of change in their entirety as they fit into the general dynamics of biological systems and demonstrates the pitfalls of tackling change from a narrow perspective using cancer as an example of certain pathological manifestations of these mechanisms of change      Toward a Living Architecture? Christina Cogdell, 2019-01-01 A bold and unprecedented look at a cutting edge movement in architecture Toward a Living Architecture is the first book length critique of the emerging field of generative architecture and its nexus with computation biology and complexity Starting from the assertion that we should take generative architects rhetoric of biology and sustainability seriously Christina Cogdell examines their claims from the standpoints of the sciences they draw on complex systems theory evolutionary theory genetics and epigenetics and synthetic biology She reveals significant disconnects while also pointing to approaches and projects with significant potential for further development Arguing that architectural design today often only masquerades as sustainable Cogdell demonstrates how the language of some cutting edge practitioners and educators can mislead students and clients into thinking they are getting something biological when they are not In a narrative that moves from the computational toward the biological and from current practice to visionary futures Cogdell uses life cycle analysis as a baseline for parsing the material energetic and pollution differences between different digital and biological design and construction approaches Contrary to green tech sustainability advocates she questions whether quartzite based silicon technologies and their reliance on rare earth metals as currently designed are sustainable for much longer challenging common projections of a computationally designed and manufactured future Moreover in critiquing contemporary architecture and science from a historical vantage point she reveals the similarities between eugenic design of the 1930s and the aims of some generative architects and engineering synthetic biologists today Each chapter addresses a current architectural school or program while also exploring a distinct aspect of the corresponding scientific language theory or practice No other book critiques generative architecture by evaluating its scientific rhetoric and disjunction from actual scientific theory and practice Based on the author s years of field research in architecture studios and biological labs this rare field building book does no less than definitively unsparingly explain the role of the natural sciences within contemporary architecture

Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk, 2024-11-12 An original call to reorient architecture around our relationship to plants When we look at trees we see a form of natural architecture and yet we have seemingly always exploited trees to make new buildings of our own Whereas a tree creates its own structure humans generally destroy other things to build with increasingly disastrous consequences In Botanical Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk looks closely at how elements of plants seeds roots trunks branches leaves flowers and canopies compare with and constitute human made buildings Given the omnipresence of plant life in and around our structures Dobraszczyk argues that we ought to build as much for plants as for ourselves understanding that our lives are always totally dependent on theirs Botanical Architecture offers a provocative and original take on the relationship between ecology and architecture

Plants Julie Kerr Casper, 2007 Plant life is crucial life on Earth depends on plants in some way This book focuses on the many aspects that make plants such a valuable resource It examines the uses of plants and their importance as well as the goods and services they provide to communities and our high standard of living every day

Three Days Before the Sun Warren LeRoi Johns, 2014-11-06 Three Days Before the Sun explores our origin purpose and destiny in an eternity of time and an infinity of space The holes and flaws acknowledged by Darwin in his evolution theory are precisely targeted with academic precision in a format designed for the general public The scrupulously documented title dismantles the chance hypothesis point by point as a lawyer presents evidence to a jury The 296 page illustrated title comes salted with homey colloquialisms methodically exposing unproven assumptions But more than an expos of flawed conjecture masquerading as science Three Days Before the Sun offers a generic Christian glimpse of the raging origins controversy The book compliments the faith of Christian communities who believe the Genesis account of the creation miracle while asserting the Creator of the universe is the Author of science human evolution 200 000 years ago and how we can begin our return Explores recent neurological and psychological research on the brain and the role of plant biochemistry in human brain expansion Explains how humanity s prehistoric diet change led to a neurodegenerative condition characterized by aggression and a fearful perception of the world Outlines a strategy of raw foods tantric sexuality shamanic practices and entheogens to reverse our mental degeneration and restore our advanced abilities Over a period of a million years the human brain expanded at an increasingly rapid rate and then 200 000 years ago the expansion abruptly stopped Modern science has overlooked this in order to maintain that we are at the pinnacle of our evolution However the halt in brain expansion explains not only recently uncovered anomalies within the human brain but also the global traditions of an earthly paradise lost and of humanity s degeneration from our original state of perpetual wonder and joy Drawing on more than 20 years of research authors Tony Wright and Graham Gynn explore how our modern brains are performing far below their potential and how we can unlock our higher abilities and return to the euphoria of Eden They explain how for millions of years early forest dwelling humans were primarily consuming the hormone rich sex organs of plants fruit each containing a highly complex biochemical cocktail evolved to influence DNA transcription rapid brain development and elevated neural and pineal gland activity Citing recent neurological and psychological studies the authors explain how the loss of our symbiotic fruit based diet led to a progressive neurodegenerative condition characterized by aggressive behaviors a fearful perception of the world and the suppression of higher artistic mathematical and spiritual abilities The authors show how many shamanic and spiritual traditions were developed to counteract our decline They outline a strategy of raw foods tantric sexuality shamanic practices and entheogen use to reverse our degeneration restore our connection with the plant world and regain the bliss and peace of the brain of Eden
