Corporate Magazines of the United States Sam G. Riley, 1992-06-23 This reference book profiles corporate magazines those sponsored by and produced for a single business firm Some of these periodicals are internal aimed at the company's own employees and retirees Others are mainly external and are directed at a broader audience of stockholders customers and readers outside the corporation's immediate family Still others have a dual role and target both internal and external audiences Some of these magazines are quite old the oldest profiled here dates from 1865 Some have enormous circulations

the largest having reached nearly 12 million bimonthly though they rarely produce circulation revenue This is the first book to fully consider this genre of magazine publishing Journalism and communication scholars examine a representative sample of 52 of these magazines in individual descriptive essays each with appended publishing history and information sources Bibliographic information is necessarily limited Entries are arranged alphabetically and each entry appears in additional appendixes which classify the profiled magazine by founding date and geographic location An end of volume appendix provides brief data on 232 additional magazines

Johnson, V.T. Covello, 2012-12-06 The Social and Cultural Construction of Risk Issues Methods and Case Studies Vincent T Covello and Branden B Johnson Risks to health safety and the environment abound in the world and people cope as best they can But before action can be taken to control reduce or eliminate these risks decisions must be made about which risks are important and which risks can safely be ignored The challenge for decision makers is that consensus on these matters is often lacking Risks believed by some individuals and groups to be tolerable or accept able such as the risks of nuclear power or industrial pollutants are intolerable and unacceptable to others This book addresses this issue by exploring how particular technological risks come to be selected for societal attention and action Each section of the volume examines from a different perspective how individuals groups communities and societies decide what is risky how risky it is and what should be done The writing of this book was inspired by another book Risk and Culture An Essay on the Selection of Technological and Environmental Dangers Published in 1982 and written by two distinguished scholars Mary Douglas a British social anthropologist and Aaron Wildavsky an American political scientist the book received wide critical attention and offered several provocative ideas on the nature of risk selection perception and acceptance
