

Celebrating Ex Corde Ecclesiae @ 30

For many years,
I myself was deeply enriched by the beneficial experience
of university life:
the ardent search for truth and its unselfish transmission to youth and to all those learning
to think rigorously,
so as to act rightly
and to serve humanity better.

Saint Pope John Paul II

Ex Corde Ecclesiae:

The Application of Ex Corde Ecclesiae for the United States Catholic Church. National Conference of Catholic Bishops, 2000 Designed to strengthen the identity of the approximately 235 Catholic colleges and universities in the U S the Application applies to these educational institutions the norms and principles of Pope John Paul II s apostolic constitution On Catholic universities Ex corde ecclesiae

Ex Corde Ecclesiae Alice Gallin, 2006 A documentary history of the Implementation Committee of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops a new chapter in American Catholic high education

Catholic Universities in Church and Society John P. Langan, 1993-08-01 The Roman Catholic Church s first significant legislative enactment on the nature and role of the Catholic university the apostolic constitution Ex corde Ecclesiae 1990 grew out of thirty years of dialogue between ecclesiastical authorities and academic representatives The final document affirms the explicit Catholic identity of Catholic educational institutions and outlines provisions for maintaining that identity the questions of how to implement its provisions have in turn created the need for more dialogue and examination In this volume distinguished scholars and legal experts define the key questions and explore the future implications of Ex corde for American Catholic colleges and universities The assertion of the Catholic identity of Catholic institutions of higher education prompts the contributors to examine the definition of Catholic education as a special synthesis of the religious and the academic of faith and reason and to discuss corollary issues such as secularization the counter cultural features of Catholic education and the great diversity of such schools in the United States and of their sponsoring religious orders The contributors probe the schools relationships with the Church hierarchy exploring in particular the role of the bishops the degree of autonomy from ecclesiastical control and questions of academic freedom They also consider specific legal issues that American Catholic colleges must face including recognition of student groups tenure and promotion decisions governance student and faculty conduct and the relationship between canon and civil law including compliance with national and local civil rights provisions This volume also includes the complete text in English of Ex corde Ecclesiae and the preliminary draft of ordinances from the Ex corde Ecclesiae Implementation Committee of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops Appearing at a time when universities must face major issues of their own identity and governance this volume will be of interest to all faculty and administrators diocesan authorities and legal counsel and everyone concerned with the future of Catholic higher education

The Application of the Requirement for the Mandatum of Ex Corde Ecclesiae to American Catholic Universities Sponsored by Religious Institutes James B. Herring, 2009 On 15 August 1990 the Vatican issued Pope John Paul s Apostolic constitution Ex corde Ecclesiae From the Heart of the Church concerning Catholic higher education Promulgated as law the document deal firstly with the Catholic identity and mission of the college or university and secondly with the general norms for all institutes of higher studies The document also reflects and reaffirms the mandatum of c 812 This study looks at the mandatum and how the norms of Ex

corde Ecclesiae are implemented at a Catholic college in the United States that is sponsored by a religious institute by attempting to place the discussion in the context of the American culture Beginning with a canonical look at the defining moment when one becomes a Catholic and an historical examination of the university system and the Catholic Church this study shows the intimate relation that religious institutes have had with higher education In the United States there are over 230 Catholic colleges and universities and other such institutions of higher studies most of which are canonically and civilly connected to a religious institute The question is what role does the sponsoring religious institute have in the canonical compliance of their separately incorporated apostolate in the implementation of the norms of Ex corde Ecclesiae Discussed in this work are the canonical obligations and rights of the diocesan bishop the religious institute the college administrators and trustees and the professors of theological disciplines This study also looks at some of the issues of concern that were raised by theologians canonists colleges and universities religious institutes and bishops relating to the implementation of Ex corde Ecclesiae It took ten years for the bishops of the United States to receive the Vatican recognitio for The Application of Ex corde Ecclesiae for the United States to be used in the implementation of Ex corde Ecclesiae for American Catholic colleges and universities On 3 May 2001 the Application became particular law for the United States St Norbert College a Norbertine sponsored college in De Pere Wisconsin USA is used as the case study for this work John Paul II's Ex Corde Ecclesiae Bevil Bramwell, 2017-05-08 John Paul II was aware of the muddled thinking about the nature of reason that developed during the Enlightenment In seeking to re establish a more substantial application of reason he proposed that Catholic universities return to the much more expansive concept of the use of reason within the context of faith This book is a commentary on his constitution Ex corde ecclesiae and its application of the analysis of faith and reason that appeared later in Fides et ratio

Ex Corde Ecclesiae: Reflections After 30 Years Anthony Casamento, 2022 August 2020 marked the thirtieth anniversary of the publication of Ex Corde Ecclesiae Pope John Paul II's Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities To celebrate the anniversary the office of the Vice President of Australian Catholic University and its Canon Law Centre planned to host a symposium with the participation of scholars and experts from around the world Unfortunately the COVID 19 pandemic meant that the symposium could not be held Included in this volume are the papers that a number of the presenters had planned to give Their reflections on crucial points of Ex Corde Ecclesiae will be helpful for those charged with the direction of Catholic tertiary institutions and for all who teach and work in them as they consider the mission and identity of their institutions going forward New Hope for Catholic Higher Education Suzanne Howard Carpenter, 2006-06-30 On Catholic higher education we have heard from Pope John Paul II We have heard from the bishops the experts the intellectuals the secularists What is so refreshing about Suzanne's commentary is that its simple matter of fact always faithful approach reminds us that Catholic colleges and universities as Catholic belong to all of us and have a significant impact on the whole of the Church Patrick J Reilly President of the Cardinal Newman Society Manassas VA Suzanne's book truly offers a New Hope

Caridi,2011 This research assessed Ex Corde Ecclesiae within American Catholic higher education from the perspective of presidents and academicians who oversee or teach within theology or religious studies Pope John Paul II s Ex Corde Ecclesiae outlines the theological essence of the Catholic University and details its specific responsibilities toward providing an authentic Catholic experience It is valuable to examine whether Catholic postsecondary presidents and academicians believe their institutions are fulfilling these expectations Specifically this research explored how presidents understand and value Ex Corde Ecclesiae and whether they believe their institution has achieved progress toward its prescribed norms Similarly this research surveyed academicians who teach or oversee theology or religious studies to assess their perspectives and compliance with Ex Corde Ecclesiae These assessments examined presidents and academicians against central principles set forth by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops usccb on how Ex Corde Ecclesiae can and in some instances should be applied to the American Catholic College Additionally this research explored the Catholic university s relationship with the local ecclesial community how this relationship is sustained and whether there is mutual trust and consistent dialogue between the ecclesial community and the university In particular the unique relationship between the local Bishop and the president was explored This study utilized a dominant less dominant design Presidents and academicians received a survey in the spring of 2011 and results were summarized and presented to a sample of presidents and theologians for interviews Research findings confirm that presidents believe their institutions are subscribing to Ex Corde Ecclesiae and are more optimistic in their beliefs than academicians In addition results show a majority of Catholic theologians surveyed have received the mandatum from their bishop Moreover the research suggests presidents have trusting but not clear relationships with their bishop Other results suggest presidents have a strong desire to hire for mission but lack critical information in this regard and theologians face self imposed and external challenges toward achieving the ideals of Ex Corde Ecclesiae The dissertation citations contained here are published with the permission of ProQuest llc Further reproduction is prohibited without permission Copies of dissertations may be obtained by Telephone 800 1 800 521 0600 Web page http://www.proquest.com/en_US/products/dissertations/individuals.shtml Ex Corde Ecclesiae David Michael O'Connell,1999 Ex Corde Ecclesiae Pio Laghi,Saint Anselm College (Manchester, N.H.),1991 Faith and Freedom Stephen M.
