Excavations In Bath 1950-1975:

Excavations in Bath, 1950-1975 Barry W. Cunliffe, 1979 The Sanctuary at Bath in the Roman Empire Eleri H. Cousins, 2020-01-16 Using a broad array of archaeology art and text this book revolutionizes our understanding of the Roman sanctuary at Bath Archaeology in Bath, 1976-1985 Peter Davenport, 1991 This volume describes all the excavations carried out in Bath between 1976 and 1985 outside the central area of the Roman baths and the temple precinct It includes the excavations at Orange Grove at the east end of the 12th century abbey and the post medieval development of the area also a full sequence of buildings and stratigraphy from Roman through Medieval to 17th century in Swallow Street close to the presumed site of the Bishop's Palace within the Monastic close also a Roman building with mosaic floor and overlying burials in Abbey Street The volume includes accounts of several other smaller sites and discoveries in and around Bath including an inlaid Viking sword Additional technical reports are provided on microfiche Bath Michael Forsyth, Stephen Bird, 2003-01-01 This delightful book is the first comprehensive architectural guide to Bath England's finest Georgian city Full of new discoveries and lively descriptions the book follows in the tradition of the celebrated Pevsner series The great set pieces of Bath the famous Grand Pump Room the Circus the Royal Crescent form a splendid sequence in a charming urban landscape developed by a long succession of gifted architects The city's Roman roots are represented by its extraordinary baths its medieval prosperity by the splendid Abbey Exquisite crescents terraces and villas grace the surrounding hills

The Image of Georgian Bath 1700-2000 Peter Borsay, 2000-07-06 This interdisciplinary study explores the evolution structure and uses of the image of Georgian Bath from its genesis in the eighteenth century to its renaissance in the twentieth century In recent decades there has been both a popular resurgence of interest in heritage and tradition and a growing academic awareness of the power of imagery in shaping the lives of individuals and societies There is perhaps no city in Britain so saturated in history and layered with historic imagery as Bath It therefore provides an ideal case study to investigate the dynamic fusion and impact of the forces of past and representation The dominant perception of Bath today is that of a classical and particularly Georgian city In this stimulating and scholarly study Peter Borsay examines the construction and development of this image Its principal components biography and architecture are explored together with the media through which it was constructed and transmitted as well as its commercial social political and psychological uses Dr Borsay concludes by relating the findings for Bath to current debates on towns heritage and the nature of history

Archaeology in Bath Peter Davenport, Cynthia Poole, David Jordan, 2007 Prior to the building of the new Bath Spa excavations were carried out to record the archaeological remains threatened by its construction An important part of the dig was a programme of geoarchaeological research to study the microstructure of the soils excavated with a view to understanding the activities that led to their formation Roman Bath Peter Davenport, 2021-07-16 For almost three hundred years excavations have been carried out in Roman Bath At first these were rare and sporadic and archaeological finds were made by chance Even fewer were reported But from the 1860s deliberate investigations were made and increasingly professional methods employed The Roman Baths were laid open to view but little was published From the 1950s interest accelerated professionals and amateurs collaborated and there was never a decade in which some new discovery was not made The first popular but authoritative presentation of this work was made in 1971 and updated several times However from the 1990s to the present there has been some sort of archaeological investigation almost every year This has thrown much new and unexpected light on the town of Aquae Sulis and its citizens In this book Peter Davenport having been involved in most of the archaeological work in Bath since 1980 attempts to tell the story of Roman Bath the latest interim report on the Three Hundred Year Dig Eckweek, Peasedown St John, Somerset Andrew Young, 2020-05-10 This volume presents the results of archaeological survey and excavation at Eckweek Somerset which yielded one of the most important medieval rural settlement sequences yet excavated from south west England At the centre of the narrative is a succession of well preserved buildings spanning the late 10th to the 14th centuries A D forming the nucleus of a Domesday manor and its Late Saxon precursor Detailed analysis of the structural sequence offers a new regional perspective on pre Conquest earthfast timber architecture and its subsequent 12th century replacement by masonry traditions Culminating in a richly preserved 14th century farmhouse including a very complete assemblage of structural and domestic objects the structural archaeology provides an unusually refined picture of the internal organisation of later medieval domestic space within a rural farming setting Detailed analytical attention is given to the abundant artefactual and environmental datasets recovered from the excavations including prolific assemblages of medieval pottery and palaeoenvironmental data with a nuanced appraisal of their interpretative implications Anyone with an interest in the dynamics and regional complexity of medieval rural communities will find this a stimulating and enlightening read

Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology Nancy Thomson de Grummond, 2015-05-11 With 1 125 entries and 170 contributors this is the first encyclopedia on the history of classical archaeology It focuses on Greek and Roman material but also covers the prehistoric and semi historical cultures of the Bronze Age Aegean the Etruscans and manifestations of Greek and Roman culture in Europe and Asia Minor The Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology includes entries on individuals whose activities influenced the knowledge of sites and monuments in their own time articles on famous monuments and sites as seen changed and interpreted through time and entries on major works of art excavated from the Renaissance to the present day as well as works known in the Middle Ages As the definitive source on a comparatively new discipline the history of archaeology these finely illustrated volumes will be useful to students and scholars in archaeology the classics history topography and art and architectural history Communities and Connections Chris Gosden, 2007-11-08 A collection of essays by many of the leading specialists in the archaeology of the Iron Age and early Roman periods in Britain and western Europe paying tribute to Professor Sir Barry Cunliffe The subjects covered range over more than a thousand years and from

Crossing Boundaries Eric Cambridge,Jane Hawkes,2017-04-30 Interdisciplinary studies are increasingly widely recognised as being among the most fruitful approaches to generating original perspectives on the medieval past In this major collection of 27 papers contributors transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries to offer new approaches to a number of themes ranging in time from late antiquity to the high Middle Ages The main focus is on material culture but also includes insights into the compositional techniques of Bede and the Beowulf poet and the strategies adopted by anonymous scribes to record information in unfamiliar languages Contributors offer fresh insights into some of the most iconic survivals from the period from the wooden doors of Sta Sabina in Rome to the Ruthwell Cross and from St Cuthbert s coffin to the design of its final resting place the Romanesque cathedral at Durham Important thematic surveys reveal early medieval Welsh and Pictish carvers interacting with the political and intellectual concerns of the wider Insular and continental world Other contributors consider what it is to be Viking revealing how radically present perceptions shape our understanding of the past how recent archaeological work reveals the inadequacy of the traditional categorisation of the Vikings as incomers and how recontextualising Viking material culture can lead to unexpected insights into famous historical episodes such as King Edgar's boat trip on the Dee Recent landmark finds notably the runic inscribed Saltfleetby spindle whorl and the sword pommel from Beckley are also published here for the first time in comprehensive analyses which will remain the fundamental discussions of these spectacular objects for many years to come This book will be indispensable reading for everyone interested in medieval culture

Liturgy, Architecture, and Sacred Places in Anglo-Saxon England Helen Gittos, 2013-02-07 One of the first studies to consider how church rituals were performed in Anglo Saxon England Brings together evidence from written archaeological and architectural sources It will be of particular interest to architectural specialists keen to know more about liturgy and church historians who would like to learn more about architecture
