Gardini, Michael C. Ottenbacher, Markus Schuckert, 2020-11-09 The hospitality sector is facing increasing competition and complexity over recent decades in its development towards a global industry The strategic response to this is still that hospitality companies try to grow outside their traditional territories and domestic markets while the expansion patterns and M A activities of international hotel and restaurant chains reflect this phenomenon Yet interestingly the strategies concepts and methods of internationalization as well as the managerial and organizational challenges and impacts of globalizing the hospitality business are under researched in this industry While the mainstream research on international management offers an abundance of information and knowledge on topics players trends concepts frameworks or methodologies its ability to produce viable insights for the hospitality industry is limited as the mainstream research is taking place outside of the service sector Specific research directions and related cases like the international dimensions of strategy organization marketing sales staffing control culture and others to the hospitality industry are rarely identifiable so far The core rationale of this book is therefore to present newest insights from research and industry in the field of international hospitality drawing together recent scientific knowledge and state of the art expertise to suggest directions for future work It is designed to raise awareness on the international factors influencing the strategy and performance of hospitality organizations while analyzing and discussing the present and future challenges for hospitality firms going or being international This book will provide a comprehensive overview and deeper understanding of trends and issues to researchers practitioners and students by showing how to master current and future challenges when entering and competing in the global hospitality industry

Sharing Our Success David Bell, Kirk David Anderson, Society for the Advancement of Excellence in Education, 2004 The disturbing educational success rates for Aboriginal students in comparison with their peers have been documented for many years Reducing this persistent achievement gap is one of Canada's most pressing educational challenges Numerous reports commissioned by federal and provincial governments and Aboriginal authorities have offered detailed examinations of the complex social economic linguistic and cultural interrelationships that contextualize the educational environments of Aboriginal students Many of their families struggle with the legacy of residential schools that ripped families apart and caused immeasurable damage to the social fabric Schools serving these communities work within a context that may include poverty learned helplessness despair and high levels of abuse addictions and violence For some communities student suicide rates may exceed graduation rates Yet despite many extraordinary challenges some schools are producing tangible progress for their Aboriginal students This report springs from a study of ten such schools in an effort to identify practices that appear to contribute to their success

Marketing Services Leonard L. Berry,A. Parasuraman,2004-04-16

Excellent service is the foundation for services marketing contend Leonard Berry and A Parasuraman in this companion volume to Delivering Quality Service Building on eight years of research the authors develop a model for understanding the relationship between quality and marketing in services and offer dozens of practical insights into ways to improve services marketing They argue that superior service cannot be manufactured in a factory packaged and delivered intact to customers Though an innovative service concept may give a company an initial edge superior quality is vital to sustaining success Berry and Parasuraman show that inspired leadership a customer minded corporate culture an excellent service system design and effective use of technology and information are crucial to superior service quality and services marketing When a company's service is excellent customers are more likely to perceive value in transactions spread favorable word of mouth impressions and respond positively to employee cross selling efforts The authors point out that a service company that does relatively little pre sales marketing but is truly dedicated to delivering excellent quality service will have greater marketing effectiveness higher customer retention and more sales to existing customers than a company that emphasizes pre sale marketing but falls short during actual service delivery The focus of any company they insist must be customer satisfaction through integration of service quality throughout the entire system Filled with examples stories and insights from senior executives Berry and Parasuraman s new framework for effective marketing services contains the key to high performance services marketing
