Scott Carson, Jeffrey Dixon, Kim

Richard Nossal, 2015-05-01 While Canadians are proud of their healthcare system the reality is that it is fragmented and disorganized Instead of a pan Canadian system it is a system of systems thirteen provincial and territorial systems and a federal system As a result Canadian healthcare has not only become one of the costliest in the world but is falling well behind many developed countries in terms of quality Canadians increasingly realize that their healthcare system is no longer fiscally sustainable yet change remains elusive The standard claim is that Canada's multijurisdictional approach makes system wide reform nearly impossible Toward a Healthcare Strategy for Canadians disputes this reasoning making the case for a comprehensive system wide made in Canada healthcare strategy It looks at the mechanics of change and suggests ways in which the various participants in the system governments healthcare professionals the private sector and patients can work collaboratively to transform a second rate system Addressing critical issues of health human resources electronic health records integrated care and pharmacare Toward a Healthcare Strategy for Canadians shows how a system wide strategic approach to this crucial policy area can make a difference in Canada's healthcare system in the future Territorial Politics and Health Policy Scott L. Lavis, John Church, 2013-10-24 Why has health care reform proved a stumbling block for provincial governments across Canada What efforts have been made to improve a struggling system and how have they succeeded or failed In Paradigm Freeze experts in the field answer these fundamental questions by examining and comparing six essential policy issues regionalization needs based funding alternative payment plans privatization waiting lists and prescription drug coverage in five provinces Noting hundreds of recommendations from dozens of reports commissioned by provincial governments over the last quarter century the great majority to little or no avail the book focuses on careful diagnosis rather than unplanned treatment of the problem Paradigm Freeze is based on thirty case studies of policy reform in Alberta Saskatchewan Ontario Quebec and Newfoundland and Labrador The contributors assess the nature and extent of healthcare reform in Canada since the beginning of the 1990s They account for the generally limited extent of reform that has occurred and identify the factors associated with the relatively few cases of large reform An insightful new perspective on a problem that has plagued Canadian governments for decades Paradigm Freeze is an important addition to the field of health policy Contributors include John Church University of Alberta Michael Ducie Alberta Health and Wellness Pierre Gerlier Forest Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation Stephen Tomblin Memorial University Jeff Braun Jackson Ontario Professional Firefighters Association Burlington ON Marie Pascale Pomey Universit de Montr al John N Lavis McMaster University Harvey Lazar Queen s University Elisabeth Martin Universit Laval Tom McIntosh University of Regina Dianna Pasic McMaster University Neale Smith University of British Columbia and Michael G Wilson McMaster University
