Rowe, 2011-01-18 The First World War is a subject that has fascinated the public as well as the academic community since the close of hostilities in 1918. Over the past thirty years, in particular, the historiography associated with the conflict has expanded considerably to include studies whose emphases range between the economic, social, cultural, literary, and imperial aspects of the war, all coinciding with revisions to perceptions of its military context. Nevertheless, much of the discussion of the First World War remains confined to the experiences of a narrow collection of European armies on the battlefields of Northern France and Belgium. This volume seeks to push the focus away from the Western Front and to draw out the multi-spectral nature of the conflict, examining forgotten theatres and neglected experiences. The chapters explore the question of what total war meant for the lives of people around the world implicated in this momentous event, broadening current debates on the First World War as well as developing, reinforcing, and refining the existing categories of analysis. The chapters are grouped into sections that reflect neglected elements of the transnational interpretation of the conflict and aspects of the total war debate. These encompass alternative forms of mobilisation, issues of neutrality, ideas of racial identity, and the scope of violence. The volume thus not only expands First World War studies but also contributes to the wider discourse on the shifting nature of warfare in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. With chapters by leading scholars and early career researchers, this volume draws on a diverse range of original archival research undertaken across disciplinary and national boundaries. The contributions to the volume provide an analysis of the conflict that draws out its full breadth and complexity. The First World War demonstrated the critically important relationship between national mobilisation and total war and saw multiple mobilisations and re-mobilisations of European populations. This theme is explored at the national, regional, and local levels through examinations of the Sicilian province of Catania, the role of science in France and Britain, and the utilisation of the narrative of maritime heroism surrounding the British sailor Jack Cornwell. For Europe's neutrals, the First World War was often as total in its effects as for those states engaged in military operations. Chapters analyse the diverse range of these experiences of neutrality from the economy and people of the Netherlands to the attitudes of Switzerland's intellectuals. Racial interpretations of modern conflict have defined much of the historiography of total war. The complexities of racial analysis with respect to total war are highlighted in chapters dealing with white colonial internees in German East Africa, the treatment of prisoners of war in Europe, and the recruitment of India's primitive peoples for service.

in labour units The final section of the volume considers the scale and broad scope of the violence unleashed during the First World War Chapters on the continuation of German naval war culture after the conflict the shaping of personal narratives of the war in the Ottoman Empire and anti alien violence among veterans in Canada serve to reinforce the extent to which the conflict affected wider aspects of twentieth century history around the globe Other Combatants Other Fronts sheds light on the diverse experiences of neutral and belligerent states and their combatants and civilians during the tumultuous events of 1914 18 This brings to the fore the extent to which the mechanisms of conflict developed during the struggle had a truly global reach and the impact this has had ever since in defining modern conflict The collection reinforces the notion that although the First World War was a vast and often bewildering industrial conflict it was ultimately a very human phenomenon

The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1875 A Critical History of English Poetry Herbert Grierson, J. C. Smith, 2014-01-13 This famous work was the result of the wartime collaboration of two Scottish scholars Their tracing of the course of English poetry has been described by The Times Literary Supplement as a volume of masterly compression They deliberately spend most time on the greatest poets believing that significant as traditions and influences are the great poet himself affects the spirit of his age and moulds the tradition he has inherited At the same time enough attention is paid to minor poets to make the book historically complete and to fill in the most important links in the chain of poetic development Thus Gower is here as well as Chaucer Patmore as well as Browning Both in scope and in detail A Critical History of English Poetry is a distinguished and valuable work environment The Publishers Weekly, 1879 Victorian Women Poets Virginia Blain, 2014-01-21 There has been a huge revival of interest in Victorian women's poetry in the last ten years and it has led to a major reconfiguration of the English poetic landscape of the nineteenth century This title offers a key selection of poems by 13 Victorian women poets from Christina Rossetti and Felicia Hemans to the witty iconoclastic May Kendall The book starts with a substantial general Introduction which places the work of the poets into a context both historical that of the poems production and modern that of their past and present reception Each poet's work is introduced by an expansive headnote which tells the story of her life and writing career The poems all have full explanatory notes to help readers unfamiliar with the period A Bibliography lists general sources as well as useful further readings Written in an engaging and accessible manner the extensive annotations throughout Victorian Women Poets ensure that this fascinating poetry is enjoyable for undergraduate and non specialist readers The Undergraduate's Companion to Women Poets of the World and Their Web Sites Katharine A. Dean, 2004-03-30 Devoted exclusively to women poets this volume in the Undergraduate Companion Series presents students with an abundance of important resources necessary for 21st century literary research The most authoritative informative and useful Web sites and print resources have carefully been selected and compiled in a bibliographic guide to the introductory works of 221 women poets who write in English or have works available in English translation Representing more than 25 nationalities worldwide the women included in this volume have each contributed significantly to the genre of poetry For each author you will find concise lists of the best Web sites and printed sources including biographies criticisms dictionaries handbooks indexes concordances journals and bibliographies Index Catalogue of the Woodside District Library Glasgow (Scotland). Public Libraries. Woodside District Library, 1910 Romantic Literature and the Colonised World Nikki Hessel, 2018-02-15 This book considers indigenous language translations of Romantic texts in the British colonies It argues that these translations uncover a latent discourse around colonisation in the original English texts Focusing on poems by William Wordsworth John Keats Felicia Hemans and Robert Burns and on Walter Scott's Ivanhoe it provides the first scholarly insight into the reception of major Romantic authors in indigenous languages and makes a major contribution to the study of global Romanticism and its colonial heritage The book demonstrates the ways in which colonial controversies around prayer song hospitality naming mapping architecture and medicine are drawn out by translators to make connections between Romantic literature its preoccupations and debates in the nineteenth and early twentieth century colonial worlds Colonial Australian Women Poets Katie Hansford, 2021-01-08 My book traces the significant poetic and political contributions made by non canonical women poets situating women's poetry both in colonial Australian print culture and in wider imperial and transnational contexts Women poets in colonial Australia have tended to be represented as marginal and isolated figures or absent This study intervenes by demonstrating an alternative networked tradition of transnational feminist poetics and politics beyond and around emergent masculine nationalism particularly within newspapers and periodical print culture Without the inclusion of periodical literature women s poetry in Australia during the colonial period would appear to have been fairly limited When periodical literature is taken into account this picture is radically altered and poets emerge as consistent contributors often across a variety of newspapers and journals who were well known influential and connected with political figures and literary circles In examining this poetry in the original context of the newspapers and journals the political intervention and the reception of that poetry is made much more apparent

Appleton's Literary Bulletin ,1843 The American Library of Art, Literature and Song ,1885 Literature and the Growth of British Nationalism Francesco Crocco,2014-02-07 This book explores how British Romantic poetry the writing reading and critical reception of it reinforced British nationalism in the 19th century ripening the political processes of nationhood that began with the first Act of Union in 1707 Using archival research on literary collections criticism and reviews this study documents the rise of bardic criticism in the 18th century a style of literary criticism that reinvented the vernacular poet as a national bard and established a national role for poetry Within this context this book offers a new reading of major works by Romantic poets from Wordsworth and Coleridge to Felicia Hemans and Anna Letitia Barbauld illuminating the ways they corroborated the public image of poets as bona fide national bards and advanced British nationalism even when they intentionally set out to oppose or reform the politics of state
