The Female Population of France in the 19th Century Etienne Van de Walle, 2015-03-08 In analyzing the social and economic factors underlying the decline of fertility in nineteenth century France Etienne van de Walle found that official statistics for the period were incomplete and inaccurate He thus undertook a full reconstruction In this volume he presents a detailed discussion of the methodology used to correct and to supplement these official statistics along with the results of the reconstruction of 82 French départements and French and English summaries of his findings By computing standardized indices of fertility and nuptiality for each of the 82 départements the author extends the period for which standardized demographic indices are available His methodology which evaluates and corrects the biases and defects of the official statistics provides a model for similar background studies in the future Originally published in 1974 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

French Feminism in the 19th Century Claire G. Moses, 1985-06-30 Histories of France have erased the feminist presence from nineteenth century political life and the feminist impact from the changes that affected the lives of the French Now French Feminism in the Nineteenth Century completes the history books by restoring this missing and vital chapter of French history The book recounts the turbulent story of nineteenth century French feminism placing it in the context of the general political events that influenced its development It also examines feminist thought and activities using the very words of the women themselves in books newspapers pamphlets memoirs diaries speeches and letters Featured is a wealth of previously unpublished personal letters written by Saint Simonian women These engrossing documents reveal the nuances of changing consciousness and show how it led to an autonomous women's movement Also explored are the relationships between feminist ideology and women's actual status legal social and economic during the century Both bourgeois and working class women are surveyed Beginning with a general survey of feminism in France the book provides historical context and clarifies the later vicissitudes of the condition feminine

Human Fertility in Russia Since the Nineteenth Century Ansley Johnson Coale, Barbara A. Anderson, Erna Härm, 2015-03-08 The birth rate in late nineteenth century Russia was high and virtually constant but by 1970 it had fallen by about two thirds Although similar reductions have occurred in other countries the decline in Russian fertility is of particular interest because it took place in a setting of great ethnic heterogeneity and under economic and social institutions different from those in the West This book tells the full statistical story of trends in Russian fertility since the first census in 1897 by examining the conditions social economic cultural and demographic that existed at the beginning of and during the decline in human fertility Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Courtship, Love, and Marriage in Nineteenth-Century English Canada Peter Ward,1990-03-01 Courtship love and marriage are seen today as very private affairs and historians have generally concluded that after the late eighteenth century young people began to enjoy great autonomy in courtship and decisions about marriage Peter Ward disagrees with this conclusion and argues that freedom in nineteenth century English Canada was constrained by an intricate social institutional and familial framework which greatly influenced the behaviour of young couples both before and after marriage

Fertility, Class and Gender in Britain, 1860-1940 Simon Szreter,2002-07-25 This book offers an original interpretation of the history of falling fertilities in Britain between 1860 and 1940 It integrates the approaches of the social sciences and of demographic feminist and labour history with intellectual social and political history It exposes the conceptual and statistical inadequacies of the orthodox picture of a national unitary class differential fertility decline and presents an entirely new analysis of the famous 1911 fertility census of England and Wales Surprising and important findings emerge concerning the principal methods of birth control births were spaced from early on in marriage and sexual abstinence by married couples was a far more significant practice than previously imagined The author presents a new general approach to the study of fertility change raising central issues concerning the relationship between history and social science

Gendered Stereotypes and Female Entrepreneurship in Southern Europe, 1700-1900 Polly Thanailaki, 2021-04-26 This book addresses issues that remain under researched by feminist historians They pertain to female economic contribution in specific geographical areas and countries such as Greece Italy a number of regions of France Greek speaking regions in the Ottoman ruled Macedonia and two countries in the Balkans Romania and Bulgaria Additionally it compares and contrasts female economic agency in the above regions which is a field that hitherto lacks thorough study Polly Thanailaki explores female contribution to the finances of their family and to the economy of their country and how they interlaced in a transnational historical setting further exploring social norms and trading practices in these regions The methodology is based on the study of original printed sources such as archives newspapers and journals of the period along with secondary sources of literature The book addresses the nexus of gender economy and society covering a broad spectrum of gender studies economic history and social history in time and in geographic space

Islamic and European Expansion Michael Adas, 1993-07-20 This volume of essays makes available the essential background information and methods for effective teaching and writing on cross cultural history The contributors some of the most distinguished writers of global and comparative history chart the advances in understanding in their fields of concentration revealing both specific findings and broad patterns that have emerged The cover image The Arrival of the Dutch at Patane from Theodore de Bry India Orientals Part VIII Frankfurt W Richteri 1607 depicts the two key phases of global history that are covered by the essays Muslim inhabitants of the town of Patane on the Malayan peninsula warily confront a Dutch landing party whose bearing suggests that it is engaged in yet another episode in the saga of European overseas exploration and discovery The presence of the Muslims in Malaya reflects an earlier process of expansion that saw Islamic civilization spread from Spain and Morocco in the west to the Philippines in the east in the millennium between the 7th and 17th centuries The Dutch came by sea to an area on the coastal and island fringes of Asia the one zone where their warships gave them a decisive edge in this era The citizens of Patane had good reason to distrust the European intruders since the Portuguese who had preceded the Dutch had used force whenever possible to control the formerly peaceful trade in the region and often to persecute Muslim Peoples

Author note Michael Adas is Abraham Voorhees Professor of History at Rutgers University New Brunswick He is currently editor of the American Historical Association's series on Global and Comparative History and co editor of the Cambridge University Press series on Studies in Comparative World History He has published numerous articles and books including most recently with Peter Stearns and Stuart Schwartz World Civilization The Global Experience 1992 and Turbulent Passage A Global History of the Twentieth Century 1993

Decades of Reconstruction Ute Planert, James Retallack, 2017-06-13 As wars and other conflicts increase on a worldwide scale the alleged new wars of the present day have taught that military victory does not necessarily result in a sustained state of peace Rather societies in conflict experience a status mixtus a transformative period that includes substantial changes in economy politics society and culture Focusing on these decades of reconstruction in Europe and North America this book examines the transformation of state systems international relations and normative principles in international comparison By putting the postwar decade after 1945 into a long term historical perspective the chapters illuminate new patterns of transition between war and peace from the eighteenth to the twentieth century Experts in the field show that states and societies are never restituted from a zero hour They also demonstrate that foreign and domestic policy are intermixed before and after peace breaks out

Consciousness and Class Experience in Nineteenth-century Europe John M. Merriman, 1979

"French Sculpture Following the Franco-Prussian War, 1870-80" Michael Dorsch, 2017-07-05 French Sculpture Following the Franco Prussian War 1870-80 investigates the role played by the trope of the strong woman fallen man in re establishing morale among the French people following the Franco Prussian War The study explores how certain French sculptors including Falgui Merci Barrias and Rodin presented this recent history of defeat in commemorative monuments that increasingly dominated public space across France during the final decades of the nineteenth century Though it focuses on French nationalism and the commemoration of war or as is the case with the French following the Franco Prussian War the commemoration of defeat this volume also examines shifts in gender roles in the latter half of the nineteenth century and the impact of military defeat on relations between the sexes The book probes the aesthetic discourse of the period concerning the merits of traditional allegorical sculpture versus new fangled realist sculpture in depicting modern life Drawing on extensive archival research Michael Dorsch gives a voice to the sculptures he discusses restoring these often ignored works to their proper place in history

Poor and Pregnant in Paris Rachel G. Fuchs, 1992 In their attempt to cope with the daunting problems of poverty and pregnancy poor women in nineteenth century France struggled with their environment and in some respects helped shape it Rachel Fuchs reveals who these women were and how they survived With dramatic detail and drawing on actual hospital records and court testimonies Fuchs portrays poor women's childbirth experiences their use of charity and welfare and their recourse to abortion and infanticide as desperate alternatives to motherhood Fuchs also provides a comprehensive description of philanthropic and welfare institutions and outlines the relationship between the developing welfare state and official conceptions of womanhood She traces the evolution of a new morality among policymakers in which secular views medical hygiene and a new focus on the protection of children replaced religious morality as a driving force in policy formation Combining social intellectual and medical history this study of poor mothers illuminates both class and gender relations in Paris and brings to light the connection between social policy and the way ordinary women lived their lives Fuchs s book enriches contemporary debates about maternity leave abortion rights and national health care initiatives Book jacket      Resources in Women's Educational Equity ,1979 Literature cited in AGRICOLA Dissertations abstracts international ERIC ABI INFORM MEDLARS NTIS Psychological abstracts and Sociological abstracts Selection focuses on education legal aspects career aspects sex differences lifestyle and health Common format bibliographical information descriptors and abstracts and ERIC subject terms used throughout Contains order information Subject author indexes      The Administration of Madness and Attitudes Toward the Insane in Nineteenth-century Paris Marc Daniel Alexander,1976 Abstract
