Feminine And Nihilism Luce Irigaray With Nietzsche And Heidegger:

The Feminine and Nihilism Ellen Mortensen, 1994 Much of the scholarship on Luce Irigaray has focused exclusively on her psychoanalytic work The Feminine and Nihilism engages instead in a careful reading of the major philosophical intertexts in Irigaray's Marine Lover of Friedrich Nietzsche This study is an interpretation of Irigaray's philosophy of sexual difference and seeks to uncover how she enters into an amorous dialogue with the silent ground in Nietzsche's thinking the material

Feminist Interpretations of Martin Heidegger Nancy J. Holland, Patricia Huntington, 2010-11-01 The 14 essays included in this collection illustrate the ways in which feminist readings can deepen understanding of Heidegger's philosophy They illuminate both the richness and the limitations of the resources Heidegger's work can provide for feminist thought

Thinking Life with Luce Irigaray Gail M. Schwab, 2020-04-01 Featuring a highly accessible essay from Irigaray herself this volume explores her philosophy of life and living Life thinking an important contemporary trend in philosophy and in women's and gender studies stands in contrast to philosophy's traditional grounding in death exemplified in the work of philosophers such as Socrates Plato and Schopenhauer The contributors to Thinking Life with Luce Irigaray consider Irigaray's criticisms of the traditional Western philosophy of death including its either/or dualisms and binary logic as well as some of Irigaray's solutions for cultivating life The book is comprehensive in its analyses of Irigaray's relationship to classical and contemporary philosophers writers and artists and produces extremely fruitful intersections between Irigaray and figures as diverse as Homer and Plato Alexis Wright the First Nations novelist of Australia and twentieth century French philosophers like Sartre Badiou Deleuze and Guattari It also develops Irigaray's relationship to the arts with essays on theater poetry architecture sculpture and film

Being as Relation in Luce Irigaray Emma R. Jones, 2023-01-23 Many scholars have struggled with Irigaray's focus on sexual difference in particular with her claim that it is ontological wondering if this implies a problematically naïve or essentialist account of sexual difference As a result the ethical vision which Irigaray elaborates has not been taken up in a robust way in the fields of philosophy feminism or psychoanalysis By tracing the notion of relation throughout Irigaray's work this book identifies a rigorous philosophical continuity between the three self identified phases in Irigaray's thought despite some critics concerns that there is a discontinuity between these phases and clarifies the relational ontology that underlies Irigaray's conceptualization of sexual difference one that always already implies an ethical project The text demonstrates that an understanding of Irigaray's Heideggerian inheritance especially prominent in her later texts is essential to grasping the sense of the idea that sexual difference is ontological it concerns Being rather than beings This book further develops potential applications of this ontological notion of a relational limit for the fields of philosophy feminism and psychotherapy

Touching Thought Ellen Mortensen, 2003-04-01 The blindness to ontological questioning in feminist theory has left a lacuna in scholarly study that Touching Thought a study at the intersection of ontological meditation and feminist theorizing on sexual difference seeks to fill Ellen Mortensen's new work critiques the language and theoretical pathways of contemporary feminist theorists such as Judith Butler Rosi Braidotti Elizabeth Grosz Luce Irigaray Theresa de Lauretis and Donna Haraway to reveal a problematic predilection for technological language at the expense of ontological inquiry The volume ranges across feminist epistemology and ethics the politics of performativity the aesthetics of body power and the question of sexual difference and concludes with an examination of the different philosophical and theoretical attempts at undertaking an ontological questioning of sexual difference This foundational work will serve as preparation for scholars of feminist and queer theory and continental philosophy seeking alternative pathways of feminist thought that encourage fundamental thinking on the subject of individual freedom

Toward a Phenomenology of Sexual Difference Sara Heinämaa, 2004-09-01 Simone de Beauvoir's Le Deuxième Sexe has been studied extensively since its appearance in 1949 Through the years certain passages have taken on prestige others are seen as unimportant to understanding Beauvoir's argument In Toward a Phenomenology of Sexual Difference Sara Heinämaa rediscovers those neglected passages in her quest to follow Beauvoir's line of thinking Heinämaa like some other recent philosophers finds that Le Deuxième Sexe is a philosophical inquiry not the empirical study it is commonly thought to be Others who view Beauvoir's masterpiece as a work of philosophy argue it is a criticism not only of Sartrean phenomenology but of phenomenology as a whole HeinSmaa thinks differently She finds that Beauvoir's starting point is the Husserlian idea of the living body that she found developed in Merleau Ponty's Phénoménologie de la perception So when Beauvoir wrote Le Deuxième Sexe she was writing not as Sartre's pupil but as a scholar in the tradition of Husserl and Merleau Ponty Philosophy and Mental Health in the Age of Nihilism Lehel Balogh, 2025-02-10 This book problematises the intricate interconnections of nihilism nothingness anxiety and authenticity in modern East Asian as well as Western philosophies religions and psychotherapies arguing for the importance of the elaboration of an ethical floating point of an authentic no self The volume offers an innovative interdisciplinary study that brings together groundbreaking research in cross cultural philosophy psychology psychotherapy and medical humanities The book delineates mutual influences on self cultivation via the re examination of Buddhist and Daoist concepts

Modernism, Feminism and the Culture of Boredom Allison Pease, 2012-08-27 Bored women populate many of the most celebrated works of British modernist literature Whether in popular offerings such as Robert Hitchens's The Garden of Allah the esteemed middlebrow novels of May Sinclair or H G Wells or now canonized works such as Virginia Woolf's The Voyage Out women's boredom frequently serves as narrative impetus antagonist and climax In this book Allison Pease explains how the changing meaning of boredom reshapes our understanding of modernist narrative techniques feminism's struggle to define women as individuals and male modernists' preoccupation with female sexuality To this end Pease characterizes boredom as an important category of critique against the constraints of women's lives arguing that such critique surfaces in modernist fiction in an undeniably gendered way Engaging with a wide variety of well and lesser known modernist writers Pease's study will appeal especially to researchers and graduates in modernist studies and British literature

Body/Self/Other Luna Dolezal, Danielle Petherbridge, 2017-07-25 Body Self Other brings together a variety of phenomenological perspectives to examine the complexity of social encounters across a range of social political and ethical issues It investigates the materiality of social encounters and the habitual attitudes that structure lived experience In particular the contributors examine how constructions of race gender sexuality criminality and medicalized forms of subjectivity affect perception and social interaction Grounded in practical everyday experiences this book provides a theoretical framework that considers the extent to which fundamental ethical obligations arise from the fact of individuals' intercorporeality and sociality Male Bodies and Sexual Difference Ovidiu Anemtoai, 2018-04-18 This book addresses themes concerning male bodies men and masculinities from an explicit feminist philosophical position drawing from various fields including phenomenology gender theory sociology of the body and continental philosophy among others Whereas the majority of works in the field of critical studies on men and masculinities draw predominantly on gender and queer theories this book works from within the sexual difference theory as developed by feminist philosopher Luce Irigaray

As such it proposes a conceptual sketch for a different understanding of the complex relationships between male bodies men and masculinities making use of Gilles Deleuze's radical notion of critique and arguing at the same time for a post Deleuzian concept of becoming man from the philosophy of sexual difference perspective The book represents a contribution to the interpretations of Luce Irigaray's rich work as well as to the fields of masculinities studies and feminist philosophy and it is written primarily for scholars and students in cultural studies women and gender studies sexuality studies and philosophy

Luce Irigaray and the Question of the Divine Alison Martin, 2000 This study examines Luce Irigaray's oeuvre through the question of the divine focusing upon her contention that women need a female divine if they are about to become subjects It attempts to demonstrate that the issue of the divine should not be considered as one aspect of her thought but that it is central to her philosophy of sexual difference Hence Irigaray's critique of patriarchy is presented as a critique of the dominance of a religion of masculinity that favours a single universal Her proposal for two sexed universal divines is explored along with her specific suggestions for female divine ideals Particular emphasis is given to her engagements with Marx Nietzsche and Hegelianism and to the mode of her adoption of Christianity The study applauds the radical profundity of Irigaray's philosophy of sexual difference while remaining critical of the universalism in her notion of the divine for the doubt it casts upon the realization of a sexed culture

Thinking with Irigaray Mary C. Rawlinson, Sabrina L. Hom, Serene J. Khader, 2011-11-01 Thinking with Irigaray takes up Irigaray's challenge to think beyond the androcentric one subject culture identifying much that is useful and illuminative in Irigaray's work while also questioning some of her assumptions and claims Some contributors reject outright her prescriptions for changing our culture others suggest that her prescriptions are inconsistent with the basic ethical concerns of her project and still others attempt to identify blind spots in her work By confronting and challenging the mechanisms of masculine domination Irigaray has identified and applying these insights to a wide range of practical and contemporary concerns including popular media representations of women's sexuality feminist practice in the arts political resistance and yoga the contributors demonstrate the unique potential of Irigaray's thought within feminist philosophy and gender studies

Sex, Breath, and Force Ellen Mortensen, 2006-01-01 Living in the post modern age there is a growing sentiment of disenchantment in relation to the most facile aspects of dogmatic feminism Nevertheless the question of sexual difference still remains Sex Breath and Force asks how we should approach such a questioning today given the fall of the great narratives and the plethora of theoretical discourses in circulation What are the conditions of possibility for thinking of sexual difference as a foundational problem in the age of technology And how do the disciplines of social science literary studies philosophy and film studies answer this challenge This collection of essays provides a reassessment of the question of sexual difference taking into account important shifts in feminist thought post humanist theories and queer studies The contributors offer new and refreshing insights into the complex question of sexual difference from a post feminist perspective and how it is reformulated in various related areas of study such as ontology epistemology metaphysics biology technology and mass media Untying the Mother Tongue Antonio Castore, Federico Dal Bo, 2023-09-04 Untying the Mother Tongue explores what it might mean today to speak of someone's attachment to a particular primary language. Traditional conceptions of mother tongue are often seen as an expression of the ideology of a European nation state. Yet current celebrations of multilingualism reflect the recent demands of global capitalism raising other challenges. The contributions from international scholars on literature, philosophy and culture analyze and problematize the concept of mother tongue, rethinking affective and cognitive attachments to language while deconstructing its metaphysical, capitalist and colonialist presuppositions.

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place, Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity, covering key themes of place and space, tourism and mobility, sexual difference and subjectivity. Using a series of individual life stories, it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys. These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway, the most northern point of mainland Europe, which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference, an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life. The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post-Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking, where place making is linked with self making and homecoming. By combining such ground-breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies, Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography, tourism and feminist studies.

Foucault's Seminars on Antiquity Paul Allen Miller, 2021-10-07 In 1980 Michel Foucault's work makes two decisive turns. On the one hand, as announced at the start of his course at the Collège de France for that year, Le Gouvernement des vivants, his topic will be the modalities through which power constitutes itself in relation to truth. On the other, the texts on which he will concentrate will no longer be those of the early modern period. Rather, he begins with one by Dio Cassius on the emperor Septimius Severus and then proceeds to spend the next two sessions offering a reading of Oedipus Tyrannus. He will concentrate on works from antiquity for the rest of his life. This book will offer the first detailed account of these lectures, examining both the development of their philosophical argument and the ancient texts on which that argument is based. This is the period during which Foucault also began work on Volumes 2 and 3 of the History of Sexuality. Yet while there are clear overlaps between the work he was presenting in his course and the last books he published before his death, nonetheless the seminars are anything but rough drafts for the published work. Instead, they offer a sustained encounter with the texts of the classical and early Christian era while seeking to trace a genealogy of the western subject as a speaker of truth.

Diotima at the Barricades Paul Allen Miller, 2016 Diotima at the Barricades argues that the debates that emerged from the burgeoning of feminist intellectual life in post-modern France involved complex structured and reciprocal exchanges on the interpretation and position of Plato and other ancient texts in the western philosophical and literary tradition. Paul Allen Miller shows how individual works of Anglo-American figures such as Toril Moi

Judith Butler and Kaja Silverman as well as movements such as queer theory are rooted in feminist theoretical debates that began in the sixties in France and have continued right up to the present day Miller demonstrates that French philosophy as represented by writers as diverse as Julia Kristeva Helene Cixous Sarah Kofman Jacques Lacan Jacques Derrida and Luce Irigaray have had a profound influence on literary theoretical and cultural studies in the Anglo American world He reveals that in order to understand the intellectual substructure of much of later Anglo American critical theory it is crucial to examine the development of post modern French feminist thought in relation to its dialogue with antiquity In modern feminism and post structuralism the ancient world and Plato in particular truly function as our theoretical unconscious
