the poetics of Carmen Martín Gaité by viewing the concept of journey as a fundamental principle upon which she bases and elaborates her narrative writing of the 1990s Five novels published in this period receive critical attention all of which coincide with the last trips taken by the writer to New York Caperucita en Manhattan 1990 Nubosidad variable 1992 La reina de las nieves 1994 Lo raro es vivir 1996 and Irse de casa 1998 To the extent that the journey is the essence of the narrative under consideration the concept is analysed as an aesthetic practice and an attempt to identify a series of actions which allow us to link the writer's novels with two areas that have previously received only scant critical scrutiny geography and the visual dimension This book presents a comparative and interdisciplinary analysis of space in Mart n Gait e s narrative as well as in her collages drawings and paintings

Politics, Identity, and Mobility in Travel Writing Miguel A.

Cabañas,Jeanne Dubino,Veronica Salles-Reese,Gary Totten,2015-06-26 This collection examines the intersections between the personal and the political in travel writing and the dialectic between mobility and stasis through an analysis of specific cases across geographical and historical boundaries The authors explore the various ways in which travel texts represent actual political conditions and thus engage in discussions about national transnational and global citizenship how they propose real world political interventions in the places where the traveler goes what tone they take toward political or socio political violence and how they intersect with political debates Travel writing can be viewed as political in a purely instrumental sense but as this volume also demonstrates travel writing s reception and ideological interventions also transform personal and cultural realities This book thus examines the ways in which politics material effects inform and intersect with personal experience in travel texts and engage with travel s dialectic of mobility and stasis In spite of globalization and efforts to eradicate the colonial vision in travel writing and in travel writing criticism this vision persists in various and complex ways While the travelogue can be a space of discursive and direct oppression these essays suggest that the travelogue is also a narrative space in which the traveler employs the genre to assert authority over his or her experiences of mobility This book will be an important contribution for interdisciplinary scholars with interests in travel writing studies global and transnational studies women s studies multicultural studies the social sciences and history

Places Through the Body Heidi J. Nast,Steve Pile,1998 This exciting collection opens up many new conversations on BodyPlace and introduces new theories of embodied places and the placing of bodies Extensive introductory and concluding sections guide students through the key debates and themes Places Through the Body draws on a wide range of contemporary examples and creative ideas to address such topics as How racist ideologies are embedded in modern architectural discourse and practice How urban spaces make bodies disabled How the seemingly virtual worlds of knowledge and technology are embodied How gyms enable women body builders to make new kinds of bodies How male bodies are placed onto the silver screen New kinds of femininity Here geographers architects anthropologists artists film theorists theorists of cultural studies and psycho analysis work alongside each other to make clear connections between bodies and places
