Feminist Sport Studies Pirkko Markula, 2005-08-18 Uses personal narratives to highlight the development of feminist sport studies

Modern

Organizations and Emerging Conundrums Richard Alan Goodman,1999-01-01 The contributors to this book review the postindustrial subculture emphasizing cross disciplinary and cross contextual inquiry a central idiom of postindustrial organizational life The essays consider alternative methods of understanding media that add variety to meanings within and without organizations This multi method approach in the search for meaning and the limits of word and symbols to express meaning generates a personally interpretive basis to science

Higher Education and Working-Class Academics Teresa Crew,2020-12-09 This book examines how a working class habitus interacts with the elite culture of academia in higher education Drawing on extensive qualitative data and informed by the work of Pierre Bourdieu the author presents new ways of examining impostor syndrome alienation and microaggressions all common to the working class experience of academia The book demonstrates that the term working class academic is not homogenous and instead illuminates the entanglements of class and academia Through an examination of such intersections as ethnicity gender dis ability and place the author demonstrates the complexity of class and academia in the UK and asks how we can move forward so working class academics can support both each other and students from all backgrounds

Legal Academics Fiona Cownie,2004 This book explores the culture of legal academia the professional identities of law teachers and the issues facing the discipline of law

Changing The Subject Jocey Quinn,Sue Davies,Cathy Lubelska,2017-09-25 First Published in 1994 How do women in the academy survive How can women empower themselves How can we develop feminist strategies in teaching learning and research in Higher Education Changing the Subject Women in Higher Education explores these fundamental questions and presents strategies for changing and challenging the mainstream curriculum in Higher Education Drawing on experience research and theory the contributors explore the contradictions that have to be managed by women in academia The chapters analyse the interrelationship between women s roles and status as workers in higher education their experiences as teachers and students their representation within the curriculum and the tensions between life in and out of the academy Differences and inequalities between women are confronted what it is to be an ebony woman in the ivory tower for example or to be caught between two worlds as a mother and academic This diverse collection brings together everyday issues which women teaching and learning in higher education have themselves identified as important It provides an opportunity to share the successes struggles and practical strategies of women who are trying to change the subject of higher education This volume will be of relevance and interest to all those concerned with women s equality and wider educational issues on a personal and professional Level

Academic Women in Neoliberal Times Briony Lipton,2020-06-24 This book investigates the gendered dimensions of academic life in the contemporary Australian university It examines key discourses most notably academic performativity and identity through a feminist lens and scrutinises how discourses of neoliberalism and feminism are entangled in the structure systems operations and cultures of the university Drawing on in depth qualitative interviews with academic women in Australia the author uses a mix of experimental methods to emphasise the performative and discursive decisions women make with regard to their academic careers In doing so this book reveals how women themselves generate neoliberal and feminist shifts how they manage the contradictions they produce and how they carve spaces of influence and authority Moving towards a re evaluation of existing discourses this book offers new insights into gender inequality in the Australian university in neoliberal times Negotiating the Glass Ceiling Dr Miriam

David,Miriam David,Diana Woodward,2005-08-10 This book gathers together the unique personal reflections of 16 eminent women working in higher education across the world in an attempt to understand why female academics are so under represented in todays universities Historical Dictionary of Feminism Janet K. Challenges and Negotiations for Women in Higher Education Pamela Cotterill,Sue Jackson,Gayle Letherby,2007-06-28

CONCEPTUALISING CHALLENGES AND NEGOTIATIONS FOR WOMEN IN HIGHER EDUCATION 1 2 3 Pamela Cotterill Sue Jackson and Gayle Letherby 1 2 3

Staffordshire University Birbeck University of London University of Plymouth

INTRODUCTION Despite the historical tradition of academia as a male space Evans 1995 Abbott et al 2005 Stanley 1997 Letherby 2003 it is possible to argue that the expansion of higher education in the 1980s and 1990s benefited women more than it did men By 1995 there were two and a half times more women in the academy than in 1970 1 Abbott et al 2005 and in the decade to follow the numbers of women undergraduate students had overtaken men with a substantial minority of these being older non standard entrants Furthermore as Paula J Caplan 1997 3 argues Visions of the academic life draw us women toward it picturing an intellectual community whose members search with passion and integrity for Truth and Knowledge We imagine that in academia we shall find freedom from bias freedom from worldly struggles of power and wealth freedom to choose what to study and what to say and an environment characterized by tolerance and openness where everyone s energy is focused on the open exploration of ideas However whilst this may be the vision for some women it is important not to view this widening of female participation in higher education through rose tinted glasses

Power, Knowledge and Feminist Scholarship Maria do Mar Pereira,2017-02-10

Feminist scholarship is sometimes dismissed as not quite proper knowledge it s too political or subjective many argue But what are the boundaries of proper knowledge Who defines them and how are they changing How do feminists negotiate them And how does this boundary work affect women s and gender studies and its scholars and students lives These are the questions tackled by this ground breaking ethnography of academia inspired by feminist epistemology Foucault and science and technology studies Drawing on data collected over a decade in Portugal and the UK US and Scandinavia this title explores different spaces of academic work and sociability considering both official discourse and corridor talk It links epistemic negotiations to the shifting political economy of academic labour and situates the smallest but fiercest departmental negotiations within global relations of unequal academic exchange Through these links this timely volume also raises urgent questions about the current state and status of gender studies and the mood of contemporary academia Indeed its sobering yet uplifting discussion of that mood offers fresh insight into what it means to produce feminist work within neoliberal cultures of academic performativity demanding increasing productivity As the first book to analyse how academics talk publicly or in off the record humour about feminist scholarship Power Knowledge and Feminist Scholarship is essential reading for scholars and students in gender studies LGBTQ studies post colonial studies STS sociology and education Winner of the FWSA 2018 Book Prize competition The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9781315692623> has been made available under a Creative Commons

Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Deconstructing Doctoral Discourses Deborah L. Mulligan, Naomi Ryan, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2023-01-01 This book identifies and challenges assumptions about the doctorate and the discourses associated with it The editors and contributors subvert and transform the de facto assumptions that frame the ways in which the doctorate is spoken and written and thus underpin approaches to planning conducting and evaluating doctoral research Giving voice to doctoral students and supervisors the book opens a pathway for their own stories why students entered doctoral study the understandings and experiences they gleaned from it and the implications for their own character The book questions what kinds of discourses help to construct contemporary doctoral research and how these might be de and reconstructed and asks what doctoral study might look like in the future Academics students and practitioners alike will find an avenue into rigorous research design from reflective and insightful scholars who provide a voice for doctoral strategies for success Accessibility, Inclusion, and Diversity in Critical Event Studies Rebecca Finkel, Briony Sharp, Majella Sweeney, 2018-09-14

Most early social research into planned events had the effect of broadcasting narratives of dominant cultures and privileged groups More recently however convergences of gender sexualities ethnicities age class religion and intersectional analyses and events studies have started to drive new critical understanding of the impacts of events on non mainstream non majority communities around the globe This timely book addresses current gaps in the literature surrounding issues of accessibility inclusion and diversity in various event landscapes Structured into four parts covering the main types of events the chapters present original topics using innovative methodological approaches Each chapter employs a case study to illustrate the key intertwining issues in these various experiential realms Further the chapters are all cross or interdisciplinary drawing on gender sexualities cultural race ethnicity studies as well as multiple literatures that feed into critical events studies and exploring a variety of global examples This significant book opens the path to further research on the role and importance of accessibility inclusion and diversity in events environments worldwide It will be of interest to academics and researchers of critical event studies as well as a number of related social science disciplines Feminist Research In Theory And Practice Letherby, Gayle, 2003-02-01

This is a clear and accessible exploration of feminist method methodology and epistemology After situating herself and her work Gayle Letherby charts the debates concerned with the epistemological political and practical issues involved in doing feminist research and places the debates within a wider consideration of the status of knowledge The main focus of the book is then the particular and practical issues for feminist researchers It examines how the process of research affects the results of that research and explores the relation between politics and practice in terms of research and knowledge production Throughout the book there is a practical emphasis on specific examples of feminist research in action and as well as summarizing current theoretical debates Gayle Letherby adds to them Back cover
