Women, Wellness, and the Media Margaret C. Wiley, Barbara Barnett, 2009-05-27 As a former nurse and someone who now teaches Women's Studies I have long been interested in the politics of health care Today most Americans would agree that our health care system is broken We pay more for health care than any nation in the world yet in 2007 the World Health Organization ranked us as 37th in quality of health care Forty six million Americans are now without health insurance What is happening here And just where are all these dollars going In Women Wellness and the Media thirteen scholars from a wide range of disciplines examine the relationship between media stereotypes and women's health They look at several images of women the perfect mom the straight bikini clad sixteen year old blond who has been air brushed to perfection the wild black Jezebel who struts her stuff and the shriveled up menopausal crone The writers point out that these images are making millions of dollars for all sorts of businesses ranging from the pharmaceutical industry to women's magazines Scholars have long noted that stereotypes disempower women in Women Wellness and the Media we see how these stereotypes actually harm women's health while turning millions in corporate profits

What are the Effects of Cultural Traditions on the Education of women? (The Study of the Tumbuka People of Zambia) Christine Phiri Mushibwe, 2014-02-01 Cultural traditions do adversely affect the education of many people in the world Women are unfortunately the most affected victims of their culture This book demonstrates how cultural traditions can militate against the education of women in Zambia with a focus on the Tumbuka tribe The evidence at hand demonstrates that patrilineal groupings are strongholds of the patriarchal predisposition and patriarchal attitudes and cultural traditions do not recognize women as equal partners with men The Tumbuka women's experiences and beliefs reflect socio cultural traditional norms that tend to limit gender equality and compel women to accept and justify male domination at the expense of their own status and to regard consequent inequalities as normal Evidence demonstrates that the initiation rites an active institution for girls of pubescent age interfere more with the school based education of girls The women are active social agents as well as passive learners who will not allow the girls they are coaching to question the purpose for some traditional practices that are oppressive and directly cause them to fail to complete their schooling successfully

Reasons for Action B.C. Postow,2013-03-09 2 first person point of view I acknowledge these possible handicaps and try to overcome them Other people may coherently judge that I am incapable of figuring out correctly what I rationally ought to do or they may inform me of reasons of which I had heretofore been ignorant or they may try to help me overcome intellectual hindrances Like me these people would be assuming that the goal is to identify what I really rationally ought to do Nevertheless we are concerned with reasons for the agent to act in a certain way rather than with reasons say for someone to want it to be the case that the agent act Thus to be a reason in our sense is to be a consideration which has an appropriate guiding role to play in the agents deliberation An agent is guided by reasons if she determines what to do in light of the reasons Suppose then that a normative theory says that it is supremely desirable or that it rationally ought to be the case that agents act in a way that maximizes the general utility but that since the general utility is never in fact maximized by those who pay attention to it considerations of the general utility should play no role in the agents deliberation Such a theory would not be said to ascribe to agents a reason to maximize the general utility on our usage

Justice of Marxism Zhang Xiaomeng,2023-10-11 This book analyzes Marxian theories of justice within the context of contemporary political philosophy and intellectual history Transcending perspectives from classical Marxism the author analyzes how Western Marxism has engaged with critically and responded to the theories of justice especially since the 1970s The nine chapters cover major intellectual movements and multi dimensional frameworks of thought that critique and understand anew the idea of justice including anglophone debates on Marxism and justice global distributive justice and viewpoints from analytical Marxism radical egalitarianism the Frankfurt School Marxian feminism and ecological Marxism The second part of the book returns to the classical texts of Marxism with a focus on historical materialism and a critique of capitalism to reinterpret basic tenets of justice in Marxism and to reconstruct Marxian theory of justice This title will be of value to scholars and students interested in theories of justice Marxian philosophy and political philosophy W.E.B. Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty-First Century, Africana Critical Theory Reiland Rabaka, 2009-01-16 Building on and going far beyond W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century and Du Bois s Dialectics Reiland Rabaka s Africana Critical Theory innovatively identifies and analyzes continental and diasporan African contributions to classical and contemporary critical theory This book represents a climatic critical theoretical clincher that cogently demonstrates how Du Bois s rarely discussed dialectical thought interdisciplinarity intellectual history making radical political activism and world historical multiple liberation movement leadership helped to inaugurate a distinct Africana tradition of critical theory With chapters on W E B Du Bois C L R James Negritude Aime Cesaire and Leopold Senghor Frantz Fanon and Amilcar Cabral Africana Critical Theory endeavors to accessibly offer contemporary critical theorists an intellectual archaeology of the Africana tradition of critical theory and a much needed dialectical deconstruction and reconstruction of black radical politics These six seminal figures collective thought and texts clearly cuts across several disciplines and therefore closes the chasm between Africana Studies and critical theory constantly demanding that intellectuals not simply think deep thoughts develop new theories and theoretically support radical politics but be and constantly become political activists social organizers and cultural workers that is folk the Italian critical theorist Antonio Gramsci referred to as organic intellectuals In this sense then the series of studies gathered in Africana Critical Theory contribute not only to African Studies African American Studies Caribbean Studies Cultural Studies Gender Studies and Postcolonial Studies but also to contemporary critical theoretical discourse across an amazingly wide range of traditional disciplines and radical political activism outside of and in many instances absolutely against Europe s ivory towers and the absurdities of the American academe Utopian Bodies and the Politics of Transgression Lucy Sargisson, 2002-01-22 What do we want What do we believe to be wrong with the world How can we best change it How should we live Given the world as it is how can we best achieve our dreams and desires Utopian Bodies is quite simply a new approach to thinking about theory Using the dominant themes of green and feminist politics this fascinating and original text creates a new notion of utopian thought and life transgressive utopianism This new concept is not a blueprint for an ideal polity instead it demonstrates an approach to the world that is both idealistic and pragmatic focussing on bodies of thought in relation to bodies of people communities Also spanning philosophy political theory and deconstruction this book is especially relevant today as the millennium marks a time of resurgence in utopian studies
