Fertility Decline In Developing Countries 1960 1997 An Annotated Bibliography:

Fertility Decline in Developing Countries, 1960-1997 Samuel Agyei-Mensah, 1999-04-30 With the emergence of fertility declines in the greater part of the developing world study of the phenomenon has increased profoundly over the last three decades and a voluminous amount of literature has emerged Yet our knowledge of the decline is scattered in numerous publications making sources difficult to find This bibliography provides a guide to the literature on fertility decline in Latin America Asia and Sub Saharan Africa It will be an invaluable asset for population experts and students wishing to do research on fertility decline Covering the literature from 1960 to 1997 the book draws on extensive sources including books articles in leading population journals research papers and dissertations The opening chapter covers the literature on theories and concepts underlying fertility decline The next three chapters are devoted to the major geographical areas Latin America Asia and Sub Saharan Africa and the final chapter looks at general literature on fertility declines in developing countries

Reproduction and Social Context in Sub-Saharan Africa Samuel Agyei-Mensah, John B. Casterline, 2003-06-30 Perhaps no region matches sub Saharan Africa in its social and cultural diversity In this collection of micro demographic studies the authors examine how the diversity of this region influences reproductive behavior The empirical studies distributed throughout the continent are localized in depth studies that give special attention to contextual effects of social structure and social organization A diverse range of topics is addressed including adolescent sexuality and the effects of early childbearing on later fertility the impact of development programs on fertility and the association between social organization social diffusion and reproductive regime Highly revealing of the determinants of reproduction in Africa these studies serve as a model for a new mode of demographic research The chapters are arranged by geographical regions of the continent with an introductory chapter outlining the editors vision of a micro demographic enterprise and a concluding chapter placing the African fertility transition in the context of the global fertility transition This volume inspires fresh thinking and theorizing about demographic change not only in sub Saharan Africa but also in all low income settings
