Felix And The New Building:

Building Bridges of Time, Places, and People: Volume II J. Marc. Merrill, 2012-06-28 From Chapter 5 By a quirk of fate says Darcie Conner Johnston the eruption of Mt Vesuvius in 79 AD caught Pompeii at a time of great spiritual change As a gateway south and east to Greece and Egypt and the Eurasian landmass beyond the city was heir to a panoply of faiths A host of foreign gods had begun to usurp the positions of the venerable Olympian deities and the imperial Roman pantheon Christians were likely to have been here as well though the evidence of their presence is sketchy Page 71 of Pompeii The Vanished City Besides the evidence that has already been presented more remains to demonstrate that once again the accepted historical point of view is incorrect For example This second volume of Building Bridges of Time Places and People presents the overwhelming evidence that some of the most prominent leaders of the New Testament Church left the lands of Judea and Galilee when war between Rome and the Jews seemed certain and they settled in Pompeii and Herculaneum These leaders included Simon Peter Paul Luke and John Mark the author of The Gospel of Mark They were accompanied by converts such as Cornelius the centurion who was the first Gentile to be baptized and by the mother of Christ This volume also investigates the town of Sepphoris in Galilee and makes a compelling case for the claim that the Messiah of the New Testament grew up there rather than in Nazareth his identity hidden until he began his ministry at the age of 30

Building musical culture in Nineteenth-century Amsterdam Darryl Cressman, 2016-03-15 When people attend classical music concerts today they sit and listen in silence offering no audible reactions to what they're hearing We think of that as normal but as Darryl Cressman shows in this book it's the product of a long history of interrelationships between music social norms and technology Using the example of Amsterdam's Concertgebouw in the nineteenth century Cressman shows how its design was in part intended to help discipline and educate concert audiences to listen attentively and analysis of its creation and use offers rich insights into sound studies media history science and technology studies classical music and much more

Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations, 1958 The Jewish Center, 1923 Engineer Update, 1996 Narbonne and its Territory in Late Antiquity Frank Riess, 2016-04-22 This work centres on the post Roman period of Narbonne and its territory up to its capture by the Arabs in 720 encompassing not only recent archaeological findings but also perspectives of French Spanish and Catalan historiography that have fashioned distinct national narratives Seeking to remove Narbonne from any subsequent birth of France Catalonia and Spain the book presents a geopolitical region that took shape from the late fifth century evolving towards the end of the eighth century into an autonomous province of the nascent Carolingian Empire Capturing this change throughout a 300 year period somewhat lacking in written sources the book takes us beyond an exclusive depiction of the classical city to an examination of settlement in various forms Discourses of literary criticism also lie behind aspects of this study mapped around textual commentaries which highlight a more imaginative biography of a city Narbonne s role as a point of departure and travel across the Mediterranean is examined through a reading of the correspondence of Paulinus of Nola and the writings of Sulpicius Severus enabling the reader to gain a fuller picture of the city and its port The topography of Narbonne in the fifth century is surveyed together with Bishop Rusticus s church building programme Later chapters emphasise the difficulties in presenting a detached image of Narbonne as sources become mainly Visigothic defining the city and its region as part of a centralised kingdom Particular attention is given to the election of Liuva I as king in Narbonne in 568 and to the later division into upper and lower sub kingdoms shared by Liuva and his brother Leovigild a duality that persisted throughout the sixth and seventh centuries The study therefore casts new light on Narbonne and its place within the Visigothic Kingdom of Toledo suggesting that it was the capital of a territory with roots in the post Roman settlement of barbarian successor states

A Commentary on Augustine's De cura pro mortuis gerenda Paula Rose,2013-05-16 In De cura pro mortuis gerenda Augustine interweaves an assessment of burial near the memorial of a martyr with a series of dream narratives The seeming lack of coherence between argument and narrative in this treatise has puzzled many scholars Combining an analysis of the overall structure of the argument and a detailed philological commentary this study shows that Augustine s text forms a well composed unity The study is based on discourse linguistic and narratological concepts as well as an analysis of the global structure of the narratives Relying on this combined approach Rose demonstrates how Augustine explores the full breadth of his narrative material in the service of his argument In addition this book situates Augustine s text in its cultural historical context

Morphological Research in Planning, Urban Design and Architecture Vítor Oliveira,2021-02-25 This book is about the relation between scientific research and professional practice on the built environment The physical form of cities is structured in different elements of urban form Each of these elements and the way they are combined into distinct patterns is shaped by various agents and processes of change Planning urban design and architecture are practice oriented activities that have a significant impact on these elements Yet this action on the physical form if cities tends to be separated from scientific knowledge on this complex object In fact none of these activities is strongly related to urban morphology the science of urban form There are many reasons for this gap One of the reasons is the lack of significant examples of how the bridging process can happen The book addresses this specific issue It gathers a number of cases developed in the last years in different geographical contexts from Latin America to Eastern Asia that exemplify how to move from scientific research to professional practice Each case or set of cases is presented in one chapter The first part of each chapter presents the morphological view of his/her author s on the process of city building the second part exemplifies how this author moves from reading to design
