Female Desires How They Are Sought Bought And Packaged:

Female Desires Rosalind Coward, 1985 Looks at how advertising takes advantage of female psychology and discusses the fitness boom fashion current beauty standards family photographs and the relationship between men and women Young, White, and Miserable Wini Breines, 2001-03 The experts fifties women men and male social scientists Family legacies Sexual puzzles The other fifties beats bad girls and rock and roll Alone in the fifties Anne Parsons and the feminine mystique

Male Authors, Female Readers Anne Clark Bartlett, 2018-10-18 Holy men despise women and view them as foul and sticking dirt in the road asserst the male author of the fifteenth century Book to a Mother Middle English devotional writings reflect shades of mysogony ranging from the blatant to the subtle yet these texts were among the most popular literature know to the earliest generation of English women readers In the first book to examine this paradox Anne Clark Bartlett considers why medieval women enjoyed such male authored works as Speculum Devotorum The Tree The Twelve Fruits of the Holy Ghost and Contemplations on the Dread and Love of God Demonstrating that these texts actually provided alternative and more appealing notions of gender than those authorized by the Church Bartlett redefines women s participation in medieval culture in terms of far greater agency and empowerment than have generally been acknowledged

Revisioning Gender Myra Marx Ferree, Judith Lorber, Beth B. Hess, 1999 This comprehensive handbook summarizes the state of gender studies by examining the crucial research of the past decade and by encouraging thinking about how the questions central to studying gender have themselves changed The book is an important step towards constructing a new analytical framework approach for the social sciences one that calls into question disciplinary boundaries The contributors illustrate how the use of gender by scholars in various and overlapping fields of study has helped alter concepts and research designs Women Writing about Money Edward Copeland, 2004-12-02 The fictional world of women in the time of Jane Austen set in the context of social and economic reality

Facing the Mirror Frida Furman, 2013-02 The women at Julie s International Salon share their experiences of bodily self presentation femininity aging and caring Their own words are at the center of the book the stories of their lives fresh and compelling are told here with affection But beyond the stories themselves Frida Kerner Furman explores the socio moral significance of these beauty shop experiences showing how they reveal as much about society at large as about older women For in telling us how they perceive reality make choices and live in their worlds the women of Julie s expose structures of power inequality and resistance in the larger world that all of us young or old beautiful or not face every day Romancing the Postmodern Diane Elam, 2019-08-13 By exposing the theory of romance to the romance of theory Diane Elam explores literature s most uncertain least easily definable and most tenacious genre assessing its implications for both feminism and the understanding of history Arguing for a parallel between postmodernism s divided relation to modernism and romance s difficult stance towards realism Romancing the Postmodern first published in 1992 not only highlights how postmodernism questions our assumptions about historical time it also reintroduces the figure of woman to the theory of both history and literature Taboo, 2002 Turning The Century Carol Stabile, 2018-04-24 The essays in Turning the Century make a significant contribution to our understanding of America's love affairs with novelty and the mass media. The essays also show that neither the current communications revolution nor the response to it is unprecedented. Through this book Carol Stabile provides a historical context within which scholars and students of American culture can interpret and understand end of the millennium fever, particularly the claims of politicians, pundits and even cultural studies scholars who maintain that recent information technology innovations make the present moment unique. Contemporary studies of mass media and popular culture reflect a similar emphasis on what is new, distinct and therefore specific to contemporary culture. Claims of millennial transformation, however, are only possible insofar as the history of mass media can be forgotten or ignored. In Turning the Century Carol Stabile analyzes those hidden and now all but forgotten conditions and relations of production that continue to shape and inform contemporary culture.

Performance Studies Erin Striff, 2002-09-26 What is performance? We do not need to be in a theatre to think about the theatricality of how we behave in culture, but can a performance exist if there are no spectators? How do we know when performances are taking place if there is no curtain rising and falling? What does the act of performance achieve? How does performance studies attempt to answer those questions? This collection of lively and stimulating articles on performance studies provides an understandable introduction to the field and to the way in which performance touches all of our lives, from the rituals and ceremonies in which we partake to the way we present ourselves depending on the company we keep. Together these articles help clarify what constitutes performance studies and introduce the reader to the many theoretical perspectives, including feminist, queer, post-structuralist and post-colonial, which are used to study performance in culture. Acts considered range from those that can be easily identified as performance, such as the strip show, to the more theoretically complex, such as performative speech. One of the first of its kind on performance studies, this reader is an essential text for all those with an interest in the subject or who are approaching it for the first time. Textual Practice Terence Hawkes, 2005-10-26 Textual Practice contains some of the most path-breaking, adventurous critical writing currently to be found in Britain. Interpreting Weight Jeffery Sobal, 2017-07-05 What is too fat? What is too thin? Interpretations of body weight vary widely across and within cultures. Meeting weight expectations is a major concern for many people because failing to do so may incur dire social consequences, such as difficulty in finding a romantic partner or even in locating adequate employment. Without these social and cultural pressures, body weight would only be a health issue, while socially constructed standards of body weight may seem immutable, they are continuously recreated through social interactions that perpetuate or transform expectations about fatness and thinness. Written by sociologists, psychologists and nutritionists, all of the chapters in this book focus on how people construct fatness and thinness.

examining different strategies used to interpret body weight such as negotiating weight identities reinterpreting weight and becoming involved in weight related organizations Together these chapters emphasize the many ways that people actively define construct and enact their fatness and thinness in a variety of settings and situations Space, Gender, Knowledge: Feminist Readings Linda McDowell, Joanne Sharp, 2016-04-29 Space Gender Knowledge is an innovative and comprehensive introduction to the geographies of gender and the gendered nature of spatial relations It examines the major issues raised by women s movements and academic feminism and outlines the main shifts in feminist geographical work from the geography of women to the impact of post structuralism In making their selection the editors have drawn on a wide range of interdisciplinary material ranging across spatial scales from the body to the globe The book presents influential arguments for the importance of the intersection between space and gender Looking both at geography and beyond the discipline it explores the gendered construction of space and the spatial construction of gender Divided into a number of conceptual sections each prefaced by an editorial introduction this reader includes extracts from both landmark texts and less well known works making it an indispensable introduction to this dynamic field of study Stevie Smith's Resistant Antics Laura Severin, 1997 The author explores the connections between Smiths work and mass media production twentieth century historical events her romantic and Victorian predecessors and such contemporaries as Virginia Woolf Dorothy Parker Aldous Huxley and Evelyn Waugh By presenting Smith in the cultural milieu surrounding World War II Severin illuminates the still dark period of British womens writing from 1930 to 1960 Focusing on the complete works of Stevie Smith Severin suggests that Smiths boundary crossing art forms which transgress genres and even media represent an attempt to undo the coherence of femininity as defined in the conservative period of World War II The Gender and Consumer Culture Reader Jennifer Scanlon, 2000-08 In this consumer culture studies anthology 23 reprinted essays 1934 98 consider both the empowering and disempowering elements of consumerism In her introduction Scanlon women s studies Plattsburgh State U of New York views consumer culture as a collaborative process not simply a matter of perpetrators and victims The themes the essays address are stretching the boundaries of the domestic sphere you are what you buy the message makers and sexuality pleasure and resistance in consumer culture The book features bandw illustrations promoting the cults of domesticity and identity through proper consumption It lacks an index c Book News Inc Communication Yearbook 20 Brant R.
