The Composer, Herself Linda Kouvaras, Natalie Williams, Maria Grenfell, 2023-11-30 This edited volume presents 27 original essays by living composers from all around the globe reflecting on the creation of their music Cotermious to the recent worldwide resurgence in feminist focus the distinctive feature of this collection is the snapshots of creative processes and conceptualizing on the part of women who write music writing in the present day from prominent early career composers to major figures from a range of ethnic backgrounds in the contemporary music field The chapters step into the juncture point at which feminism finds itself as binary conceptions of gender are being dissolved with critiques of the attendant gender based historical generalizations of composers and with the growing awareness of the rightful place of First Nations cultural voices the contributors explore what actually is being composed by women and what they think about their world The needs that this book serves are acutely felt despite recent social gains and sector initiatives and programs encouraging and presenting the work of women who compose music their works are yet to receive commensurate exposure with that of their male counterparts In its multi pronged direct response to this dire situation this vibrant volume highlights established as well as emerging women composers on the international stage reveals myriad issues around feminism as broadly conceived and gives insights from the composers own voices on the inner workings of their composition process The volume thus presents a contemporary moment in time across the generations and within developments in musical composition With its unique insights this book is essential for academics and practitioners interested in the illuminations of the current working landscape for creative women

Culture and Power Eduardo de Gregorio-Godeo, Ángel Mateos-Aparicio Martín-Albo, 2014-08-11 Questions of identity and identification are among the most important evolving concerns of contemporary cultural studies Through processes of personal identification with discursively constructed subject positions identities emerge across a wide range of cultural practices in the course of social interactions involving the use of language and other semiotic systems manifested in cultural artefacts of various kinds The present collection includes a selection of papers on the topic of identity and identification in cultural studies today

Incorporating theoretical contributions and practical case studies this monograph adds to contemporary debates on identity forging practices from various theoretical positions in different social historic and national contexts The chapters of this volume range from overtly theoretical discussions on the construction of identities and subjectivities in post modernity to examinations of the crucial role of print media in identity construction and representation processes in contemporary social formations through an insight into other key issues in cultural studies such as gender politics and the construction of femininities the hybridization of identities in the context of postcolonial work and the interplay between collective identities and discourses on nation

Non-Western Global Theories of International Relations Samantha Cooke, 2022-01-28 This book seeks to reposition international relations IR theory by providing insights into non Western concepts and theories By engaging with understandings of power identity the state and the individual from a range of states outside of the Western hemisphere the contributors to this book introduce new methods for understanding aspects of IR in context considerate ways Engagements with Western theories and cases highlight how we need to reposition traditional understandings to allow non Western approaches to IR develop alongside and inform their Western counterparts Moreover the book reinforces the need to move beyond the traditionally used Western centric lenses without removing them completely instead it advocates a harmonisation between them to reduce generalisations across the local state and regional levels conservatism socialism democracy nationalism fascism ecologism and feminism sets each ideology clearly within its historical and political context includes a new final chapter that examines the impact of recent theoretical developments of ideologies and charts the challenges that they face in the twenty first century has been fully revised and up dated and provides an annotated guide for further reading Gender, Violence and Security Laura Shepherd,2013-07-04 How do understandings of the relationships between gender violence security and the international inform policy and practice in which these notions are central What are the practical implications of basing policy on problematic discourses In this highly original poststructural feminist critique the author maps the discursive terrains of institutions both NGOs and the UN which formulate and implement resolutions and guides of practice that affect gender issues in the context of international policy practices The author investigates UN Security Council Resolution 1325 passed in 2000 to address gender issues in conflict areas in order to examine the discursive construction of security policy that takes gender seriously In doing so she argues that language is not merely descriptive of social political reality but rather constitutive of it Moving from concept to discourse and in turn to practice the author analyses the ways in which the resolution s discursive construction had an enormous influence over the practicalities of its implementation and how the resulting tensions and inconsistencies in its construction contributed to its failures The book argues for a re conceptualisation of gendered violence in conjunction with security in order to avoid partial and highly problematic understandings of their practical relationship Drawing together theoretical work on discourses of gender violence and international security sexualised violence in war gender and peace processes and the domestic international dichotomy with her own rigorous empirical investigation the author develops a compelling discourse theoretical analysis that promises to have far reaching impact in both academic and policy environments

Feminist Engagement with International Criminal Law Eithne Dowds,2020-01-23 This work introduces and further develops the feminist strategy of norm transfer the proposal that feminist informed standards created at the level of international criminal law make their way into domestic contexts Situating this strategy within the complementarity regime of the International Criminal Court ICC it is argued that there is an opportunity for dialogue and debate around the contested aspects of international norms as opposed to uncritical acceptance The book uses the crime of rape as a case study and offers a new perspective on one of the most contentious debates within international and domestic criminal legal feminism the relationship between consent and coercion in the definition of rape In analysing the ICC definition of rape it is argued that the omission of consent as an explicit element is flawed Arguing that the definition is in need of revision to explicitly include a context sensitive notion of consent the book goes further setting out draft legislative amendments to the ICC Elements of Crimes definition of rape and its Rules of Procedure and Evidence Turning its attention to the domestic landscape the book drafts amendments to the United Kingdom UK Sexual Offences Act 2003 and to the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 thereby showing how the revised version of the ICC definition can be applied in context of the UK Seeing in
