significant fraction of the global infectious disease burden indeed nearly half of the world s population is infected with at least one type of vector borne pathogen CIESIN 2007 WHO 2004a Vector borne plant and animal diseases including several newly recognized pathogens reduce agricultural productivity and disrupt ecosystems throughout the world These diseases profoundly restrict socioeconomic status and development in countries with the highest rates of infection many of which are located in the tropics and subtropics Although this workshop summary provides an account of the individual presentations it also reflects an important aspect of the Forum philosophy The workshop functions as a dialogue among representatives from different sectors and allows them to present their beliefs about which areas may merit further attention These proceedings

Kim Tolley,2014-04-08 The Science Education of American Girls provides a comparative analysis of the science education of adolescent boys and girls and analyzes the evolution of girls scientific interests from the antebellum era through the twentieth century Kim Tolley expands the understanding of the structural and cultural obstacles that emerged to transform what in the early nineteenth century was regarded as a girl s subject As the form and content of pre college science education developed Tolley argues direct competition between the sexes increased Subsequently the cultural construction of science as a male subject limited access and opportunity for girls American Entomologist ,2009 DEPARTMENT OF
