Ecology Community And Delight Sources Of Values In Landscape Architecture:

Ecology, Community and Delight Ian Thompson, 2003-09-02 Ecology Community and Delight examines three principal value systems which influence landscape architectural practice the aesthetic the social and the environmental and seeks to discover the role that the profession should follow

The Fact Factory, 1999 A collection of fun facts about a variety of subjects including animals plants the Earth space and notable people throughout history

Values in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Design M. Elen Deming, 2015-11-09 The successful realization of diversity resilience usefulness profitability or beauty in landscape design requires a firm understanding of the stakeholders values This collection which incorporates a wide variety of geographic locations and cultural perspectives reinforces the necessity for clear and articulate comprehension of the many factors that guide the design process As the contributors to this collection reveal dominant and emerging social political philosophical and economic concerns perpetually assert themselves in designed landscapes from manifestations of class consciousness in Napa Valley vineyards to recurring themes and conflicts in American commemorative culture as seen in designs for national memorials One essay demonstrates the lasting impact of the doctrine of Manifest Destiny on the culture and spaces of the Midwest while another considers the shifting historical narratives that led to the de domestication and subsequent re wilding of the Oostvaardersplassen in the Netherlands These eleven essays help foster the ability to conduct a balanced analysis of various value systems and produce a lucid visualization of the necessary tradeoffs Offering an array of case studies and theoretical arguments Values in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Design encourages professionals and educators to bring self awareness precision and accountability to their consideration of landscape designs eTexts relating to Romantic Gardens William Temple's essay Upon the Gardens of Epicurus or Of Gardening 1685 is extravagantly praised by Nicholas Pevsner. He claims this essay started a line of thought and visual conceptions which were to dominate first England and then the World for two centuries. The full text is in the Encyclopedia. Joseph Addison's Essay 161 made the key association of natural scenery with liberty and freedom. Essay 37 describes a perfect garden in which reason and nature go hand in hand. Essay 414 sees the works of nature as more delightful than artificial arrangements. Essay 417 supports Locke's theory of knowledge. Essay 477 describes Addison's own garden at Bilton. William Shenstone's A description of The Leasowes. This was one of the landscape gardens most admired in continental Europe partly because it was the work of a poet and partly because it combined use and beauty: a ferme ornée. The full text of his publisher's description is in the Encyclopedia. William Shenstone's Unconnected thoughts on gardening. The invention of the term landskip gardening is attributed to Shenstone. Edmund Burke's An essay on the sublime and beautiful 1757. Taking an empiricist approach, Burke attacks Vitruvian and rationalist aesthetics. He also discusses garden design, praising Hogarth's line of beauty which Brown followed and comparing smooth streams in the landscape with in fine women's smooth skins. Quotations from Lancelot Capability Brown describing the principles on which he worked. Horace Walpole's essay On Gardening 1780. The most brilliant and influential essay ever written on the development of English park and garden design. Thomas Jefferson's descriptions of English gardens. John Claudius Loudon's biography of Humphry Repton 1840. After Repton's own writings, this is the primary source of information on Humphry Repton's life and work. Jean Jacques Rousseau's one of the letters from La Nouvelle Héloïse deals with Julie's garden. It is a romantic treatment of an ancient theme making the association between women, sex and gardens. See above references to the Song of Solomon, the Romance of the Rose and Boccaccio. Also the reference below to Goethe. Uvedale Price's On the Picturesque 1794. Excerpt from Chapter 1 and Chapter 4. Price was a widely respected authority on picturesque taste in gardens. Humphry Repton's A letter to Mr Price 1795. Humphry Repton's Sketches and Hints 1795. This is Repton's first theoretical statement on his chosen profession. Introduction and Chapter 1 on Encyclopedia. Humphry Repton's Fragments on the Theory and Practice of Landscape Gardening 1816. The fragment reproduced on No. 27 comes from the Red Book for Ashridge, a favourite project and the occasion for Repton's advocacy of what became the Mixed Style of garden design. eTexts relating to Nineteenth Century Gardens Johann Wolfgang von Goethe's Elective Affinities 1809. Like Rousseau, Goethe admired natural gardens. He also drew gardens and designed gardens. The section reproduced in the Encyclopedia deals with the design of a romantic garden. Jane Loudon's life of her husband John Claudius Loudon 1843. Jane was a novelist and her memoir is as touching as it is important as the key source of information on her husband, who was the most influential garden writer of the nineteenth century. Loudon's influence was particularly important in America. Edward Kemp's How to lay out a garden 1864. Excerpts giving his views on styles of garden design and describing two gardens which he designed. It presents a somewhat depressing picture of the confusion which reigned in the mid nineteenth century garden aesthetics and continues to reign in many of the world's municipal parks departments Sir Walter Scott excerpt from Waverley and from The Quarterly Review on gardens Scott's remarks can be read in conjunction with those of his friends Gilbert Laing Meason and Washington Irving They introduced a romantic historical dimension to garden design and appreciation Gustave Flaubert Bouvard and Pouchet Flaubert satirizes the bourgeois taste in garden design displayed by the characters whose names form the title of his last novel Famous Parks and Gardens of the World the book was published anonymously and provides a good illustration of European gardening opinion in 1880 The Preface and Chapter 10 are in the Encyclopedia Ludwig II of Bavaria the romantic gardens of the Mad King were rich in historical associations eTexts relating to the History of Landscape Architecture Guide to the History of Landscape Architecture by Tom Turner Gilbert Laing Meason The full text of Meason's On the Landscape Architecture of the Great Painters of Italy London 1828 Meason was the inventor of the term Landscape Architecture which has since come to be used by a world wide profession represented by the International Federation of Landscape Architects by the American Society of Landscape Architects by the UK Landscape Institute and numerous other national associations Only 150 copies of his book were printed and its contents are not well known This is the first time the book has been re published It is accompanied with an analysis of the text by Tom Turner A clear appreciation of how landscape architecture began is regarded as central to comprehension of the modern profession Notes on the Top twenty theorists and designers in the history of landscape architecture and on the question What is landscape architecture John Claudius Loudon's included comments on Meason in his Gardener's Magazine 1828 and in his Encyclopedia of Architecture 1833 These comments transmitted the term to Andrew Jackson Downing and later to Frederick Law Olmsted setting the course of American landscape architecture Andrew Jackson Downing's Treatise on the Theory and Practice of Landscape Gardening Section 1 Section 2 and Section 9 Downing was the first American writer on landscape architectural topics Norman T Newton in Design on the Land and an incalculable influence on American garden design and landscape architecture Oxford Companion to Gardens Loudon's writings were his starting point Frederick Law Olmsted's description of his winning design for the Central Park New York competition 1858 Olmsted the father of American landscape architecture entered the profession as a result of the Greensward Plan for Central Park done in partnership with the English architect Calvert Vaux Norman T Newton's account of the scope of landscape architecture from Design on the land Geoffrey Jellicoe's account of the scope of landscape design from the Landscape of Man Ian McHarg notes and links on the twentieth century's outstanding landscape planner eTexts relating to Arts and Crafts Gardens William Morris essay on Hopes and fears for art in which he criticises carpet bedding and makes the point that gardens should be works of art and of craft Thomas Huxley's discussion of Evolution and ethics 1859 in which he views his own garden as a work of art in contrast to the state of nature which existed before it was made William Robinson The Wild Garden 1881 edn Chapters 1-5 originally published by John Murray and reproduced with their permission Robinson is described by Jekyll in the reference below as our

Landscape Architecture Jamie Liversedge, Robert Holden, 2014-03-03 Aimed at prospective and new students this book gives a comprehensive introduction to the nature and practice of landscape architecture the professional skills required and the latest developments After discussing the history of the profession the book explains the design process through principles such as hierarchy human scale unity harmony asymmetry colour form and texture It looks at how design is represented through both drawing and modelling and through digital techniques such as CAD and the use of GIS Geographic Information Systems This is followed by an examination of project management and landscape management techniques Finally the book explores educational and employment opportunities and the future of the profession in the context of climate change and sustainability Illustrated with international examples of completed projects Landscape Architecture provides an invaluable one stop resource for anyone considering studying or a career in this field

Exploring the Visual Landscape Steffen Nijhuis, R. van Lammeren (ed.), Frank van der Hoeven, 2011-09-01 It offers clues for visual landscape assessment of spaces in cities parks and rural areas

Constructing Place Sarah Menin, 2004-02-24 This book is a cutting edge study examining the attitudes to both nature and the built environment of the designer the client and the society in which an intervention be it architecture landscape design or a piece of art is made The legacy of the Modernist view of nature and the environment is also addressed and the degree to which such ideas continue to impinge on contemporary interventions is assessed

Landscape Architecture and Design - Sustainability and Management, 2025-06-04 In Landscape Architecture and Design Sustainability and Management a creative and multidisciplinary approach is taken to rethink how we design and construct outdoor areas in order to address sustainability This book offers a thorough examination of how landscape architecture can promote ecological resilience boost human well being and establish environments that are in balance It examines how innovative and sustainable methods can direct responsible development in both urban and rural environments including topics like integrated land management green infrastructure and climate responsive design In order to inspire professionals students and decision makers to adopt new design paradigms this book emphasizes the advantages of ecological thinking teamwork and long term planning Learn how landscape architecture may be an effective tool for handling the difficulties of a world that is changing quickly and accomplishing environmental goals

Research in Landscape Architecture Adri van den Brink, Diedrich Bruns, Hilde Tobi, Simon Bell, 2016-11-10 Defining a research question describing why it needs to be answered and explaining how methods are selected and applied are challenging tasks for anyone embarking on academic research within the field of landscape architecture Whether you are an early career researcher or a senior academic it is essential to draw meaningful conclusions and robust answers to research questions Research in Landscape Architecture provides guidance on the rationales needed for selecting methods and offers direction to help to frame and design academic research within the discipline Over the last couple of decades the traditional orientation in landscape architecture as a field of professional practice has gradually been complemented by a growing focus on research This book will help you to develop the connections between research teaching and practice to help you to build a common framework of theory and research methods Bringing together contributions from landscape architects across the world this book covers a broad range of research methodologies and examples to help you conduct research successfully Also included is a study in which the editors discuss the most important priorities for the research within the discipline over the coming years This book will provide a definitive path to developing research within landscape architecture

Exploring the Boundaries of Landscape

Architecture Simon Bell, Ingrid Herlin, Richard Stiles, 2011-02-20 What have cultural anthropologists historical geographers landscape ecologists and environmental artists got in common Along with eight other disciplines from domains as diverse as planning and design the arts and humanities as well as the social and natural sciences they are all fields of importance to the theory and practice of landscape architecture In the context of the EU funded LE NOTRE Project carried out under the auspices of ECLAS the European Council of Landscape Architecture Schools international experts from a wide range of related fields were asked to reflect each from their own perspective on the interface between their discipline and landscape architecture The resulting insights presented in this book represent an important contribution to the development the discipline of landscape architecture as well as suggesting new ways in which future collaboration can help to create a greater interdisciplinary richness at a time when the awareness of the importance of the landscape is growing across a wide range of disciplines Exploring the Boundaries of Landscape Architecture is the first systematic attempt to explore the territory at the boundaries of landscape architecture It addresses academics professionals and students not just from landscape architecture but also from its neighbouring discipline all of whom will benefit from a better understanding their areas of shared interest and the chance to develop a common language with which to converse

Designing Greenways

Paul Cawood Hellmund, Daniel Smith, 2013-03-05 How are greenways designed What situations lead to their genesis and what examples best illustrate their potential for enhancing communities and the environment Designing greenways is a key to protecting landscapes allowing wildlife to move freely and finding appropriate ways to bring people into nature This book brings together examples from ecology conservation biology aquatic ecology and recreation design to illustrate how greenways function and add value to ecosystems and human communities alike Encompassing everything from urban trail corridors to river floodplains to wilderness like linkages greenways preserve or improve the integrity of the landscape not only by stemming the loss of natural features but also by engendering new natural and social functions From 19th century parks and parkways to projects still on the drawing boards Designing Greenways is a fascinating introduction to the possibilities and pitfalls involved in these ambitious projects As towns and cities look to greenways as a new way of reconciling man and nature designers and planners will look to Designing Greenways as an invaluable compendium of best practices
