Glenn, 2009-07-01 When the French actress Sarah Bernhardt made her first American tour in 1880 the term feminism had not yet entered our national vocabulary But over the course of the next half century a rising generation of daring actresses and comics brought a new kind of woman to center stage Exploring and exploiting modern fantasies and fears about female roles and gender identity these performers eschewed theatrical convention and traditional notions of womanly modesty They created powerful images of themselves as ambitious independent and sexually expressive New Women Female Spectacle reveals the theater to have been a powerful new source of cultural authority and visibility for women Ironically theater also provided an arena in which producers and audiences projected the uncertainties and hostilities that accompanied changing gender relations From Bernhardt s modern methods of self promotion to Emma Goldman s political theatrics from the female mimics and Salome dancers to the upwardly striving chorus girl Glenn shows us how and why theater mattered to women and argues for its pivotal role in the emergence of modern feminism The Films of the Seventies Marc Sigoloff, 2000-09-01 This is a comprehensive

Women and New Hollywood Aaron Hunter,Martha Shearer,2023-05-12 The 1970s has often been hailed as a great moment for American film as a generation of New Hollywood directors like Scorsese Coppola and Altman offered idiosyncratic visions of what movies could be Yet the auteurist discourse hailing these directors as the sole authors of their films has obscured the important creative roles women played in the 1970s American film industry Women and New Hollywood revises our understanding of this important era in American film by examining the contributions that women made not only as directors but also as screenwriters editors actors producers and critics Including essays on film history film texts and the decade s film theory and criticism this collection showcases the rich and varied cinematic products of women s creative labor as well as the considerable barriers they faced It considers both women working within and beyond the Hollywood film industry reconceptualizing New Hollywood by bringing it into dialogue with other American cinemas of the 1970s By valuing the many forms of creative labor involved in film production this collection offers exciting alternatives to the auteurist model and new ways of appreciating the themes and aesthetics of 1970s American film
