Basit, Tehmina N, Tomlinson, Sally, 2012-01-25 As higher education has made deliberate strides in recent decades to become more inclusive and accessible the number of students from non traditional backgrounds has increased dramatically There has been much study of the effects of higher education on previously underserved populations showing that it can lead to higher lifetime income and higher status But there has been little research on what happens to those students once they are in a university This book fills that gap taking a close look at this issue and drawing on case studies from the United States the United Kingdom and Australia to illuminate the problems that face non traditional students the resources they and their families are able to draw on and the ways that administrators and staff can help them succeed This paperback edition is well suited to postgraduate students and practitioners and alike A Practical Guide to Academic Research Graham Birley, Neil Moreland, 2014-05-12 Covering all aspects of research methodology this research tool also deals with planning issues and self management techniques needed by the researcher It contains information on data analysis and advice for staff members needing support from their institutions to pursue research Cases on Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Elizabeth Balbachevsky, Yuzhuo Cai, Heather Eggins, Svetlana Shenderova, 2020-12-15 International cooperation in higher education is not new but gained new urgency in recent years with the expansion of the knowledge economy, the easy flow of communications and the emulation created by international rankings. In the European Union's countries, international competition and the process of political and economic unification required national higher education institutions to give priority to international cooperation while large countries such as Russia, China, Brazil and South Africa intensified their effort to modernise their institutions and link them to the international flow of science, technology and talent, leading to similar trends in other countries in their regions. These global trends are shaped by the national culture and institutions of each country and the existing national and international cooperation.

policies and instruments on all sides In Building Higher Education Cooperation with the EU Challenges and Opportunities from Four Continents the authors look at how these interactions occur from the perspectives of the European Union and the countries involved and make recommendations on policies that could make international cooperation more fluid and beneficial to all parties involved

The current context in higher education is becoming increasingly complex Coupled with this organizational complexity of operations is a climate of diminishing resources and funding for education in general Calls for educational reform and limited resources make collaborative responses an attractive option because of the ability to pool talent and resources Collaborative efforts take many forms Partnerships may emerge from institutions working together departments working across institutions or with community partners or colleges and universities pairing across national borders Likewise collaborations may emerge between and among faculty members that resemble more traditional research projects From these faculty collaborations organizational partnerships may then develop This monograph explores the key building blocks required to create successful joint ventures One section reviews partnerships from an institutional perspective another covers individual collaborations and a section on future issues identifies threats to partnerships emergence of international partnerships and steps to create strategic partnerships The target audience for this volume includes those interested in developing partnerships or better supporting existing alliances Administrators with a goal of using partnerships to parlay organizational strengths while saving resources can anticipate problems with the formation of partnerships understand the elements that provide support for group work and learn how to frame the partnership to leverage commitment through a shared vision Faculty interested in collaboration will find many valuable insights regarding the right questions to ask before committing to a project And policymakers and grant funding agencies can use the information to craft mandates and grant language to best support successful partnerships ultimately understanding the process of developing partnerships can result in more successful collaborations This is Vol 36 Issue 2 of the Jossey Bass Ashe Higher Education Report Each monograph in the series is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education problem based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication
